

SIDE LIGHTS OF THE STAGE and SCREEN

Oregon Theater
 What a riot! Laughs by the score, pretty girls galore and thrills that'll make your hair stand directly on end are seen in Wallace Beery's new comedy vehicle, "Casey at the Bat," which shows at the Oregon theater today.

Beery is once more the same lovable sap he was in "Behind the Front" and "We're in the Navy Now," but this time he wears the uniform of a baseball batter. The action starts in a small town near New York. Ford Sterling delineates a scout for the Giants; ZaSu Pitts, the village milliner; and Sterling Holloway, a newcomer on the screen, the villainous village barber.

Both men love the same girl, with Beery holding the inside track, until the scout discovers that Wallie's a whole team in himself and signs him to a giant contract. He becomes one of the famous figures of Gotham and is idolized by an entire nation but at the pinnacle of his colorful career, the frivolous life he leads proves his undoing. Casey achieves a dramatic failure as great as was his success until—Fate steps in.

Elsinore Theater
 Proving itself one of the finest romantic comedies seen this season, Rod La Rocque's latest star vehicle, "The Cruise of the Jasper B," demonstrated its popularity in no uncertain terms on its presentation at the Elsinore theater yesterday. This is a picture production in which amazing thrills and hilarious laughter are finely blended. One moment you will be holding your breath, notably during the pirate fight aboard the Jasper B, and the next you will be choking with merriment. The story, which is based on Don Marquis' celebrated novel of the same title, is at once dramatic, hair-raising, thrilling and the comedy wholesome and refreshing. The various portrayals are highly artistic, notably those by Mildred Harris, who plays opposite Mr. La Rocque, Jack Ackroyd, Snitz Edwards, Otto Lederer and James Mack. The picture is one hundred per cent pure entertainment and it will delight the most blasé fan. This picture will show at the Elsinore today, March 30.

Capitol Theater
 A thrilling story of the old time prize ring, replete with punches, dramatic and physical, has been brought to the screen by the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, "Blarney," which shows at the Capitol today, March 30.

Do you like color? This picture has plenty. The background is the New York Bowery and sporting life of the metropolis of 50 years ago. It has been reproduced with a careful eye as to authenticity of detail.

Love story? This picture has one of the most gripping ever presented. Two women love James Carabine. One of the seductive, mysterious Marcellina, a strange blend of ice and fire, a type new to the Irish immigrant Carabine, and as the champion of America he confers on her his name, unaware that she cares only for the glamor of his achievement. The other is the winsome Peggy Nolan, a sweet, simple Irish lass who sees Carabine as a demigod, who worships him, but to whose devotion Carabine remains blind for a long time.

Bank Assigns Assets; Deposits Guaranteed

Northwestern National Closes Following Unfounded Rumor

PORTLAND, March 29.—(AP) The Northwestern National bank of this city closed its banking career today when it assigned its assets to the United States National and First National banks of Portland in consideration of their assuming the deposit obligations of the Northwestern.

Depositors are receiving 100 cents on the dollar on their deposits, and are subjected to no delays in getting their money. Those whose accounts are in the savings department of the bank are not being required to give the stipulated 30 to 90 days notice in order to withdraw their accounts.

This was the policy decided upon by the board of directors for the Northwestern Monday when the run on the bank began.

After weathering the withdrawal of more than $2,000,000 during the first day of the run, the directors of the bank entered into an agreement with the Portland Clearing House association, the United States National and the First National banks, who are both in turn backed by the federal reserve, for the payment of all deposits on demand.

The circulation of rumors, characterized by heads of the First National and United States National as "malicious and unfounded," led to the run on the Northwestern, it was declared.

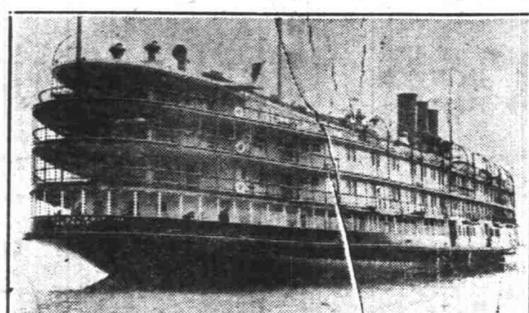

J. C. Ainsworth, president of the United States National said tonight:

"After an investigation covering all of Monday night and Tuesday we have every confidence that the securities held by the Northwestern National will pay out in full and we are most regretful that this unholy attack on their business made the liquidation of the Northwestern advisable."

RHINELANDER LOSES REHEARING APPEAL

Fight for Annulment Over; Appeal Now Impossible but Wife May Sue

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., March 29.—(AP.)—Leonard Kip Rhinelander, wealthy member of an old New York family, is through with his fight to obtain an annulment of his marriage to his wife of negro blood, Mrs. Alice Jones Rhinelander.

This became known today after the court of appeals refused to overturn the decision of Supreme Court Justice Joseph Morschauser, who said that no appeal would be taken as the high court's decision precluded further action.

Mrs. Rhinelander, on the other hand, will probably take up the battle that has been waged by her husband for more than two years and will attempt to obtain a separation in her own behalf, her counsel said. Offsetting the charge of falsely

ANTI FOREIGNISM FEAR STILL HELD

Nanking Quiet but Renewed Trouble Feared at Wuhu; Discuss Action

WASHINGTON, March 29.—(AP)—Despite an apparent lull in the storm of Chinese anti-foreignism which burst at Nanking last week, official word was received here today that the situation at Wuhu, farther up the Yangtse river, was worse and trouble might be expected there at any moment.

At the same time a message, forwarded to the state department by Minister MacMurray, at Peking, suggested immediate withdrawal of all Americans in nationalist territory and in view of the outbreak at Nanking "the undertaking of some action sufficiently strong to deter the perpetration of similar incidents elsewhere."

The message was unsigned, and department officials were of the opinion that it probably came from Consul John K. Davis, who is aboard an American warship at Nanking.

Coincident with the receipt of these advices, actual movement across the continent of the 1500 additional marines ordered to China, got under way on the Atlantic seaboard, with indications that it would be a month before the transport Henderson, which will take them across the Pacific, reaches Shanghai.

At the White House it was said on President Coolidge's behalf that he was opposed to any merging of American forces in China with those of other powers, although he expected the utmost cooperation.

The official reports from Nanking re-emphasized the belief of American investigators there that "the campaign of terrorism and insult to foreigners was not only officially countenanced and directed (by nationalist leaders) but even prearranged."

"The incident at Nanking could hardly have been more outrageous," a message relayed by Mr. MacMurray said, adding that there had been two attempts at criminal assault on American women during the rioting.

"Suggestion is made of the immediate withdrawal of all Americans in nationalist territory and the undertaking of some action sufficiently strong to deter the perpetration of similar incidents elsewhere."

State department records do not show how many Americans are at Wuhu. There were 58 American nationals registered there last year. Some are known to have left but others may have come in from surrounding mission stations.

MacMurray already has taken steps to urge Americans to withdraw from nationalist controlled territory, even at Canton.

Spread of the danger area into Shantung province, heretofore solidly held by the northern allies, was disclosed in a message from Consul A. G. Swaney, at Tsinanfu. Evacuation of the Americans from the southern section of Shantung was proceeding satisfactorily, he said, and Tsinanfu itself remained on the but within pronounced anti-foreign feeling, "evident precautions for protection of foreigners in this territory has been taken."
