

Eugene High Wins First Game in National Tourney by Small Margin

OPPOSES NORFOLK QUINTET TONIGHT

Jacksonville, Fla., Team Defeated 13 to 12; Lewis Oregonians Star

CHICAGO, March 30.—(AP.)—The Eugene, Or., team got away with one of the closest victories of the national interscholastic basketball tournament, defeating the Jacksonville, Fla., 12 to 11.

Eugene devoted its efforts in the fourth period to protecting a scanty margin and managed to pull through. Lewis put the Oregon team in front in the first half with two baskets, aided by Rubenstein's one and two foul shots.

In the last half Lewis added two more shots from the floor, and one or two free throws. Dorsett, Florida forward, failed to clinch a tie by missing a free throw just as the gun sounded. He had been hurt a few minutes before in a collision with Colbert, Oregon guard, but stuck in the game. Just as the ball bounced from the hoop the gun ended the game.

Eugene tomorrow meets Maury high of Norfolk, Va., in the third round, at 6 p. m. Maury high defeated Oak Ridge, La., today, 21 to 15.

The contest was slow with very ragged work which registered few counters. Hirsch of Jacksonville got two baskets in the first period, but one for Rubenstein of Eugene. But Lewis, Oregon guard, came to Rubenstein's aid in the second period and put Oregon in the lead, 8-7 at the half.

Having sighted the range, Lewis began dropping them in more frequently in the second half, but both teams were wild.

Colson, the Florida running guard, brought the southerners up to within a point of Eugene with a shot from under the basket.

TEAMS START NORTH

MANAGERS BEGIN PRUNING SQUADS; WEATHER FACTOR

NEW YORK, March 30.—(AP.)—With the process of pruning their squads down to normal size well under way, major league clubs are shaping their courses northward with one eye on the weather reports.

It has been so warm throughout the south during this spring's conditioning grind that the managers fear too sharp a change in weather, as the teams travel the exhibition route northward, will be harmful to the athletes.

Major league teams are covering a wide territory this week. They are scattered from Texas to Florida with a few playing one night stands in Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee. The Cubs and Pirates have joined the clubs in Texas after doing their stuff in California.

No serious casualties, other than an injury to Walter Johnson, have crippled the teams from the start. "Old Barney" impatiently awaits the knitting of a fractured bone in his leg, and will not be available until May.

Ty Cobb has been nursing an old back injury but seems himself again while Tris Speaker's sprained ankle hasn't affected his batting eye, anyway.

Johnny Mostil and Ross Young are hospital cases but neither has put on a uniform this year. Mostil, it now develops, may recover sufficiently from self-inflicted wounds to return to the White Sox lineup in May. Young probably is lost to the Giants for the season.

The remaining holdouts, Eddie Roush of the Giants and Hugh Critz of the Reds have relented sufficiently to call off the argument by mail and go into personal conference with their managers.

ALL BUT FOUR IN MINE BLAST REACH SAFETY

mins worked feverishly, checking off the living, and finally all were accounted for except four.

In the meantime, rescue workers, recruited from mines in all parts of the field, and rushed to Ehrenfeld by automobiles, had succeeded in making their way down the main drift. Near where the blast is believed to have originated, they came upon four bodies. These men, caught in the open tunnels had no chance to escape. The others, at work in digging rooms off the main channels, were safe as the blast passed by them and spent itself on the surface, where it damaged mine property and shattered every window in the village.

As light fell came upon the scene, a rescue squad marched from the main drift, bearing the bodies of the four victims. Federal and state mine inspectors then went into the workings, hoping to ascertain the cause of the blast. Company officials believed that a runaway trip of cars broke a trolley wire, causing a spark which ignited coal dust. The investigators were hampered by after-damp. The deadly gas which follows an explosion. They worked in masks.

The mine, a union operated, is one of the largest drift mouth workings in the field, and had been operating since 1883. Today's was the first explosion in its history.

TEAMS ALL READY FOR LEAGUE START

Umpires Assigned for Opening Games of Portland City League Sunday

PORTLAND, March 30.—(Special.)—Eight speedy teams are ready to swing into action in the Portland City league Sunday. President Fred Oass has assigned his umpires and reports that everything is ready for the opening tilts. All of the managers have signed contracts with their players, and are holding their last practice sessions this week.

The opening games will find Nicolai and Montvillia meeting at Montvillia. Woodmen of the World and Mount Scott at Kendall Station. Woodstock Firemen and St. Johns bats at Wall street, while Camas will journey to Salem. Brownie Grace will umpire at Montvillia, Jake Rau at Kendall Station, Alex Donaldson at Wall street, while Sullivan and Laird will work at Salem.

The games at Wall street, Kendall Station and Camas will start at 2:30 o'clock during the season, while the contests on the city parks such as Woodstock, Montvillia, and Columbia park will get under way at 3 o'clock. The games at Salem also will start at 3.

Sunday's games should bring out some real hard fought contests. All of the teams have secured real first-class pitchers and some great battles are expected. The players are not in as good condition as they will be later in the season.

The league this year is without a doubt the fastest that has been organized for several years. Even the teams that at the start were figured to be the "weak sisters" have secured well known players and as a result they should be able to put up some great battles.

Two Championship Bouts Signed by Chicago Man

CHICAGO, March 30.—(AP.)—Promoter Jim Mullen today tentatively closed two championship bouts for the outdoor boxing season.

In the opening encounter Mullen has the promise of Mushy Callahan, junior welterweight titleholder, to defend his honors against Spug Myers, the Pocahontas, Idaho, wallop. In the other, he has agreements with Bud Taylor and Tony Canzoneri for their rematching to decide the bantamweight championship situation.

These shows will be staged in one of the major league baseball parks. The Callahan-Myers bout probably will be shown early in June, with Taylor and Canzoneri later in the month.

A petition of the American National Livestock association, supported by complaints of several other organizations of producers, asking generally that transportation charges for livestock in the west be reduced to the pre-war basis, was dismissed.

Railroads, particularly those in the central western territory, combatted the petition with the assertion that it would reduce western earnings by $25,000,000 annually and that carriers were in no condition to sustain such a loss.

Does Your Spine Look Like This?

Why not buy a spring that's made to "fit the form"?

If your spine were marked like a hot-cross bun, or a section of lattice, the old-fashioned link bed-spring might answer very well. But spines aren't built that way, you know.

And this disturbing criss-cross construction (you'll find it in ordinary coil springs, too) makes a stiff, unyielding, comfortless bed.

Here's how REST-RITE gives Added Comfort

A group of bed-spring builders worked 25 years to perfect a spring that would really "fit the form," without sagging. And here it is! Notice those little round springs connecting the spirals. See, they all run lengthwise of the bed, paralleling the lines of your body. Thus the REST-RITE Health Spring softly yields to every curve of the body, and assures a healthful sleeping posture.

Noiseless, Sanitary and GUARANTEED not to SAG

All spring parts on a REST-RITE have free action. There's no friction. Thus no noise. REST-RITE is as silent as the scampering Sandman himself.

Sanitary, too. REST-RITE is fully ventilated, and all parts are readily accessible for cleaning. The smooth baked enamel finish will appeal to you.

Strong enough to serve for a lifetime, but without an ounce of dead weight. The most convenient spring you ever handled. Fits any standard wood or metal bed. And built so it cannot possibly sag. A heavy and a light person may rest comfortably side by side. Yet with all these advantages REST-RITE costs no more than an ordinary spring.

Mattress Protector FREE! Select your REST-RITE with in ten days and secure a $2.50 cover for the spring free of charge. Made of high-quality ticking. Protects mattress from dust and dirt.
