

AUTO HITS TRUCK ONE MAN KILLED

Lady Taken to Hospital Following Crash Between Two Cars Sunday

One death and a critical injury were the toll of auto accidents near Woodburn Saturday night. Roy C. Gibbons, garage owner of Woodburn, was almost instantly killed when his car crashed into a truck and Mrs. John Komyate of Monitor is in a critical condition at the Woodburn hospital with skull fractures and other injuries.

Gibbons was killed at 12:15 Sunday morning while returning from a sandwich stand a short distance from his garage. He had invited Dr. Gerald B. Smith, physician at Woodburn, to ride with him, but the doctor had refused on the grounds that he didn't like barbecued meat. While debating with several men at the garage, the doctor heard the crash and rushed to the scene less than two minutes after the accident.

He reports that Gibbons, in attempting to pass the motor truck, crowded too close, smashing into the side of the truck body. He was traveling at a high rate of speed and the entire top of his car was torn off, part of the wreckage puncturing the skull, causing his death.

Evidence points that he was driving with one hand, for when found he had part of a sandwich in his mouth and was clutching the remainder in his right hand.

Funeral services will be held in Woodburn today at 2 o'clock. He is survived by his widow, a 5-year-old son, his mother, Mrs. Henry W. Hall, two brothers and three sisters.

Mrs. John Komyate was thrown from the car which her husband was driving on their return trip from Portland Saturday evening when they crashed into the automobile driven by Rex Ross, a neighbor.

Bright lights are reported to have caused the accident, as both drivers were confused. Mrs. Komyate held her nine months old babe in her arms and both pitched headlong to the pavement when the crash occurred. The baby was uninjured, but the mother is in a critical condition at Woodburn with a cracked temple and another fissure of the skull over the ear.

Neither Ross nor Komyate were injured, although both automobiles were badly wrecked.

W. E. Lamb, who was employed during the Oleott administration as guard and hangman, has been reinstated.

The several appointments were recommended by Henry W. Meyers, new superintendent of the prison.

The board of control will visit the penitentiary Friday when a large number of recommendations of the superintendent will be considered. Virtually all of the recommendations will have to do with improvements to the physical plant.

FIERY, ITCHY SKIN QUICKLY SOOTHED BY THIS SULPHUR

Mentho-Sulphur, a pleasant cream, will soothe and heal skin that is irritated or broken out with eczema; that is covered with itchy rash or pimples, or is rough or dry. Nothing soothes fiery skin eruptions so quickly, says a noted skin specialist.

The moment this sulphur preparation is applied the itching stops and after two or three applications, the eczema is gone and the skin is delightfully clear and smooth. Sulphur is so precious as a skin remedy because it destroys the parasites that cause the burning, itching or disfigurement. Mentho-Sulphur always heals eczema right up.

A small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur may be had at any good drug store.

"Bobbie" The Wonder Dog Dies

SILVERTON, Or., April 4.—(Special.)—Bobbie, Silvertown's wonder dog, died at the veterinary hospital at Milwaukie early this morning.

Bobbie, a large collie, came into prominence some years ago when he made a trip from Indiana to Oregon in search of his master, George Brazier, from whom he became lost while in Indiana.

Bobbie will be buried in a private lot in the humane society cemetery in Portland.

Bobbie's historic trip, which has been celebrated in a novel written by Charles Alexander, was made after Bobbie became separated from the Brazier family in Indiana. Weeks afterward he walked into Silvertown.

GIRLS AND BOYS MAY BE TRUSTED

REV. T. H. ACHESON DELIVERS STIRRING ADDRESS

Organize all of Forces for Good in Community, Pleads Minister

Salem's boys and girls themselves are the ones who may and ought rid the community of the menace which exists and the stigma which has been attached to their characters because a few of them have come under the influence of unprincipled lawbreakers who would exploit them for gain.

Rev. Thomas H. Acheson, pastor of the Jason Lee Methodist church, said in a sermon Sunday night.

Acheson professed entire sympathy with Principal J. C. Nelson of the high school in his efforts to bring what he declared to be known conditions to the attention of the public, but criticized the manner in which Nelson's statements were construed by the evening newspaper as an attack on the prohibition law.

That the students who patronized liquor dealers were few in number, and that the majority should not be required to suffer because of the errors of those few, Acheson asserted, adding that the cause of these wrongful acts was a bad example in the home.

To attempt to remedy conditions by repealing the prohibition laws, would be a destructive step, the minister declared. The 18th amendment never will be repealed, he predicted, and the public must be brought to respect it.

The solution, he concluded, is to organize all of the forces for good in the community for a united effort to stamp out lawlessness and evil influences which beset the young people; a program which would cooperate with Salem's teachers, an admirable group who are doing everything possible from their standpoint. Mayor T. A. Livesley and the officers of the law would be asked to aid in this program.

Among the influences which Rev. Mr. Acheson condemned were included the "sex" magazines.

Gee Leaves for Alaska; Wilson Trial Postponed

Whether Jim Gee, the last person to talk with James Mason before his death in a hop house fight last October, should be returned to Salem from Alaska, is the principal question at issue in the trial of Art Wilson, Indian laborer, charged with manslaughter in connection with the killing.

Each year, Gee signs with a cannery firm and ships to Alaska where he spends six or seven months working at the fish traps and canneries. He is favorably known by officials as a hard working Chinese laborer, skilled in the harvesting of salmon and hops, be-

TAX QUESTIONNAIRE TO BE CONSIDERED

Many Business Concerns Voice Disapproval; Commission to Take Action

Whether the state tax commission will do away with the so-called confidential questionnaire adopted by the state tax commission and county assessors in connection with the new tax assessment law enacted at the last legislative session, will be determined at a special meeting of the state tax commission here today.

Business concerns have protested against the use of the questionnaire on the grounds that it seeks to pry into their confidential affairs, and that much of the information requested is not necessary for tax levying purposes. In many counties the questionnaires already have been mailed to the taxpayers.

The law, which resulted in the drafting of the questionnaire, was recommended by the state tax investigating committee created at the 1925 session of the legislature, and was intended to equalize property assessments. No mention was made of the questionnaire at the time the law was approved by the legislature.

Under the provisions of the law county assessors have authority to demand inventories and examine the books and accounts of business concerns. The state tax commission, under the act, has power to correct unfair or unjust assessments by county assessors. It was said that a legal attack would be made upon the law because it has the emergency clause.
