

BEARSKIN TROPHY COMES TO SALEM

Famous Hide Held by Various Posts in Oregon, Washington, Idaho

For the first time in the history of Marion Post, No. 641, Veterans of Foreign Wars, the coveted bearskin trophy has come to Salem. The skin was formerly received on Wednesday night on the stage of the Capitol Theater, with the Jasper C. Lent Post, No. 1442 making the presentation and Jay S. Baker accepting the famous, emblem-studded pelt.

The bear hide, which is the property of the Department of Washington, Pacific Post No. 968, at Raymond, Washington, has been in contested possession of posts in Idaho, Washington, and Oregon since its dedication at a certain famous "bear feed."

Rival posts seek possession of the hide by surreptitious capture, as soon as its location is determined. In the event this fails, some neighbor post often benefits and receives the skin as a friendly present.

All manner of insignia adorn the skin which is now on display in the Burnett Jewelry store window. The most recent label is the new copper plate which the local post affixed yesterday, with the necessary information.

Marion Post will make every effort to keep the famous hide until the next meeting on Wednesday, April 20.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars bear hide started its eventful travels January 1, 1923. It has been taken as far east as Chicago as a trophy and has been officially designated as the trophy for the Department of Washington, Veterans of Foreign Wars, by Past Department Commander Kinne of that state.

Although it is somewhat of a mystery as to who killed the bear, the original owner of this said hide, a former member of Pacific Post, Raymond, Washington, now a resident of Salem, claims that distinction. He is now a member of a Portland Post and Past Department Commander for Oregon.

It is likely that Williamette Post, at Eugene will soon have this trophy unless the Pelican Post of Klamath Falls capture it en route.

During its first night in Salem, it was kept in a safe at 184 South Commercial street, in care of Henry O. Miller, Department Senior Vice Commander for Oregon, and was displayed at Mr. Miller's store but removed for safe keeping.

It has been ruled by the Department of Oregon that the bear hide must be returned to Clyde A. Warren, Department Commander, at McMinnville, during the department convention, June 2. Until that time it will be the property of such posts that it may be presented to or captured by. When presented it is always presented at the home of the post receiving the trophy.

CITY MADE DEFENDANT

Los Angeles Asked for Damages Caused in Harbor Crash

SAN PEDRO, Cal., April 7.—(AP)—The city of Los Angeles was made defendant in a suit for $28,375 damages filed yesterday by the William Cramp Ship and Engine Building company of Philadelphia as a result of a collision here last month between the tanker Lebec and the motorship Seekonk.

The Cramp company, which owns the Seekonk, based its suit on the fact that a municipal pilot was in charge of the motorship at the time of the crash.

A pending suit in admiralty, brought against the Cramp company by the Standard Transportation company, owners of the Lebec, asks the same amount of damages sought by the Philadelphia concern.

TAXPAYER MUST PAY TAX

Opinion Holds That All Taxes Must Be Paid at Same Time

A taxpayer on an irrigation district may not pay his state and county taxes and leave the district taxes unpaid, according to an opinion of the state supreme court in the case of the Horsey Irrigation district against Burt E. Hawkins, sheriff of Klamath county. The opinion reversed Judge Leavitt of the Klamath county circuit court.

It was held in the opinion that all taxes against lands in irrigation districts must be paid together. The owner does not have the right to pay other taxes on his property and leave the district taxes unpaid.

STATE MEN'S ACT ILLEGAL, RULING

Appeal in Case of Washington County Raid Dismissed by Higher Court

The state's appeal in the case involving James Jarde of Washington county, who was acquitted in the circuit court on a charge of unlawful possession of mash and other liquor ingredients, was dismissed by the state supreme court here Wednesday.

The verdict was returned by the jury at the direction of Judge George R. Bagley, who advised that the search of the defendant's premises was illegal and therefore the evidence obtained by reason thereof could not be used in the trial of the case.

The state appealed the case on the grounds that the court erred in sustaining the defendant's application for suppression of the testimony, and in sustaining his objection to the introduction of evidence relating to the still and mash.

The arrest in the case was made by Albert McFarland, who was employed in the capacity of a state prohibition officer.

The opinion was written by Justice George M. Brown.

When you are suffering from a cold, rheumatism, backache, stiff neck or sore muscles, just get a jar of Bowles Red Pepper Rub, made from red peppers, at any drug store. You will have the quickest relief known. Always say "Bowles."

License Refund Refers Only to Commercial Men

The law enacted at the 1927 legislature authorizing refunds of automobile license fees paid under the so-called peddlers act, relates only to commercial salesmen. This was the substance of a legal opinion prepared by the attorney general here at the request of the secretary of state.

The opinion was sought after a large number of employers had filed claims for refunds under the law. The attorney general held that employers were not entitled to the refunds in that the law does not include them in the category of a commercial salesman.

Under the peddlers act commercial salesmen paid an automobile license fee 50 per cent in excess of the regular cost of the plates. The peddlers act was repealed at the time the law authorizing the refunds was enacted.

RADIO LIMITATIONS REMAIN UNCHANGED

Stations Holding Old Permits May Operate Until Commission Acts

WASHINGTON, April 7.—(AP)—Two decisions of major importance to broadcasting were announced this week by the federal radio commission.

They first notified the country's radio users that for the present the limitations of wave length bands upon which broadcasting has been done will be unchanged, and the second gave what amounts to a blanket license to all broadcasters in good standing to continue operation indefinitely.

The commission declared that all station operators who hold an old permit from the commerce department and who have applied for a regular license before April 24 shall be deemed as legally authorized to continue in business. Such applicants will have full permission to continue until the commission, under the law, has been able to pass upon individual cases. Failure to submit an application by May 24 may subject the broadcaster to the penalties of the law governing unlicensed operations.

Dealing with the broadcasting band, the commission said that the present allocations, between 550 and 1500 kilocycles, on which stations have worked, for the present would be adhered to though some argument of extending the range was heard during recent hearings. This band, now in service, provides 89 channels for the 732 stations.

So far as it is practical, the other added, the commission will regard the band of higher frequencies between 1500 and 2000 kilocycles as open for experimental work, including transmission of visual matter, such as moving pictures or moving views in case intentions along these lines are perfected.
