

Salem High Expected to Win Willamette Valley Track Meet Saturday

GOOD MARKS MADE IN EARLY TRYOUTS

Salem high will win the track meet here Saturday afternoon barring unforeseen developments, declared Louis Anderson, track coach, last night. The athletes showed surprising form in evening practice, and when they take the field at the high school against Albany and Corvallis, they should top a majority of the firsts.

Smith heaved the javelin 148 feet last night and against competition should do even better. This chap has been averaging 145 feet in practice throws.

Temple set an unusually good mark in practice when he tossed a discus for a distance of 106 feet, even then seemingly taking easy. Coach Anderson believes Temple will get 112 or 115 feet in the throw Saturday.

Lloyd in the broad jump, and DeLisle in the pole vault are two other men who are expected to count heavily on points. Lloyd registered a jump of 19.9 last night, and DeLisle has been getting over the bar in fine form.

Although only the three schools are entered, the meet is for the championship of the Willamette valley.

Men who will be entered in each of the events are listed as follows:

100—Blaco, Dalby, Herrins and Enner.
200—Lloyd and Barnard.
400—Siegmond and Colgan.
800—Siegmond and Colgan.
1600—Lloyd, Siegmond, and Colgan.
3200—DeLisle, Todd and Enner.
5000—Kantola, Temple and Downs.
10000—Temple, Dalby and Crosby.
20000—Drager, Temple and Dalby.
40000—Smith, Temple and Blaco.
80000—Siegmond, Colgan, Lloyd and Webb.

Announcing baseball games is precarious business these days but if the weather is good, the Willamette university squad, 17 from, will leave at noon today for Corvallis, to meet the speedy Bearcats in a game at 3:30 p. m. which will be the Bearcats' first and the Aggies' second. The same teams will play Saturday.

Although Coach Ralph Coleman's men have played one game, defeating Pacific university last week 7 to 4, they have had little more opportunity to practice than Willamette, so that Spec Keene's bunch will not be so terribly handicapped on that score. However, Keene's squad is green and most of the players are unaccustomed to each other's ways, whereas the Aggies have been playing together for several seasons and some of them are already being sought by clubs in organized ball, so that Willamette can hardly be said to have a chance to win.

Coach Keene, for his part, isn't worried about winning; his purpose is to give his men some experience and test out his candidates, and to that end, all of the 17 players will get into the game sometime, no matter what the score.

Coach is scheduled to start this afternoon on the mound, with Hoffman catching. Other pitchers who will be used in the two games are McKenzie, Ledbetter and Ellis.

Wells and Steelhammer will be tried out at first base, Dietz and Ashby on second, McMullin and Girard at short and Girard and Bradley on third. Outfielders will include Roundtree, Ashby, Lanke, Versteeg and Yarnes. Hawk will be taken along as spare catcher.

The squad will spend tonight in Corvallis, and is scheduled to play the Aggies again Saturday at 2 p. m.

BEARCATS TO PLAY O. A. C. TEAM TODAY

Willamette university will be the next opponent of the Bearcats in a two game series Friday and Saturday on the varsity diamond. The Bearcat nine are coached by Spec Keene, former pitcher and mentor of the team last year.

Due to wet weather two infield workouts and a like number of hitting practices last week is all the outdoor training the Beavers have had this season. Only two experienced lettermen, Happy Hefentfeld and Captain Wes Schulmerich, have been working out with the team.

Coach Coley Coleman expects to use several of his pitchers in the Willamette tilts.

Coleman will select five or six pitchers to bear the brunt of mound duty this season, while some promising twirlers will be carried as prospects for next year.

"Dazzy Vance" Ford has been showing a lot of smoke in practice lately and is anxious for a turn in the box against the Bearcats. Jeff Winters, Jack Savory, Chief Myers, Floyd Owens, Rosie Pflaum, Lefty Hudson, Morgan Owings, Linkous and Paust will also get a chance to show their wares. Chet McHaley will be on the shelf for two weeks due to an injury to his hand in the Pacific game Friday.

necessary figure. Contributions are coming in, but not as fast as they should, it was reported.
