Strife Still Unperceived Southern Churchmen Seek to Establish Spirit of Cooperation

> WASHINGTON-(AP)-Indusrial leaders of the south were called upon today by a group of southern churchmen to "avoid the waste and bitterness of industrial conflicts" in the development of that section's industry.

The appeal was made in a statement signed by Bishop James depressed standards of living and Cannon, Jr., of Washington, D. C., of the Methodist Episcopal Church South and 40 ofher bishons and ministers, representing every section of the south.

A friendly cooperation of employers, employes, churches, educators and state officials was proposed to imp: (v) social and eranomic conditions of southern industry. The appeal, the ministers' statement said, was made because of their interest "in the well-being f the people of the industrial south."

> The problem of southern industry were listed in the statement as the isolation of population in the mill village; the long working tries even to 55 and 60 hours certain amount of the seven d week; which still exists in some industries; the employment of women and children between 14 and 16 at overlong periods of labor; low wage standards in some industries with consequent the general absence of labor representation in the factories. "Life in a mill village under company control" was characterized by the statement as "not the best training ground for citizenship in that it does not train rosi. dents for participation in government." It recommended that the villages be merged with larger communities.

In labor representation the ministers suggested no plan for the participation of the employes, but declared that it was helpful and desirable for employes to 'have a proper share in making and enforcing the regulations by which industrial plants are controlled."

DECIDING TIES-IF ANY In case of tie those tied for any prize will be presented with a sec ond puzzle which will consist of drawing a line across the face of a chart of figures so that the figures thus connected when added together will total the greatest sum.

25 Splendid Prizes

Write Today for Details

You Like Puzzles. Then Here's a Good One More Fun Than a Cross Word Puzzle THE PROBLEM

How many miles? How many hours? How far does the automobile travel in how many hours? Add the figures to get the miles and count the circles to get the hours. No rick or chance involved. Only patience and accuracy renifred in the solution of this problem. If you can do simple addition, you can figure out the amount of miles traveled by this automobile, and how many hours, correctly. Circle spots consist of a period with a circle around it. Combined they are counted as one each; that is, count each period with its encompassing circle as one hour. Simply add them.

There are no marks, lines or characters in the automobile except figures and circle spots. The figures range from 2 to 9 each standing alone. There are no groups of figures such as "23" or "42." The heads of the 6's are distinctly curved while the tails of the 9's are straight or practically so. No trick or chance involved.
