EASTER MORNING
I hear the robins singing in the rain.
The misty world lies waiting for the dawn;
The wind sobs at my window and is gone,
And in the silence come old throbs of pain.
But still the robins sing on in the rain,
Not waiting for the morning sun to break,
Nor listening for the violets to wake,
Nor fearing lest the snow may fall again.
My heart sings with the robins in the rain,
For I remember it is Easter morn,
And life and love and peace are all new born,
And joy has triumphed over loss and pain.
I lie and listen to you in the rain,
Better than Easter bells that do not cease,
Your message from the heart of God's great peace,
And to His arms I turn and sleep again.
—Alice Freeman Palmer.

Entertainment at Capitol Theatre Will Open National Music Week

National Music Week will be opened on Friday, April 29, with an entertainment at the Capitol theatre under the direction of Mrs. Ralph White and Miss Beatrice Shelton. Elaborate preparations are being made for a novel program, which reproduces on the stage and screen the "Pageantry of Play in Honor of Tom Thumb and His Bride," which was given fifteen years ago by Miss Shelton, Mrs. White and Miss Minnetta Magers.

A special feature is a group of slides of that entertainment, showing many children who are now popular young people of the city. Interwoven between these are dances by pupils of Mrs. White, illustrating various slides and similar in nature to those of the "Pageantry of Play." Included are the "Dance of the Little Russians," the "Rose Ballet," the "Minuet," the "Glow Worm," which is also sung by Flora Fletcher Hedrick, and the "Dance of the Wooden Soldiers and Their Sweethearts."

The last one is an artistic arrangement given by fifteen of the most petite and youthful dancers. A dance of unique character involves a huge music box with a music staff and clef sign out of which the little live notes of the scale appear.

The wedding of Tom Thumb and Jerry June, like that of many years ago, will be solemnized on the stage by tiny tots of today. Other attractive features of the evening will be the opening and closing numbers played by two pianos by Lena Medler, Robert Alexander, and Cecil Deacon, piano students of Miss Shelton.

The "Pageantry of Play," was given by one hundred and forty children at the Grand Opera House, April 14, 1913. It attracted much attention and was remembered as one of the outstanding musical events for years afterwards.

Easter Cantata Will Be Given at First Christian Church Tonight

Attractive Film on Dunning Music System Will Be Shown

The beautiful story of Music Lend, as given by Carrie Louise Dunning of New York, through her system of improved music study, will be an additional attraction at the Hollywood theatre next Wednesday evening. The motion picture will visualize the main features of the "Trip to Music Lane" in an interesting and entertaining way. There does not seem to be a single phase of the work which cannot be depicted on the screen in a brisk, snappy way.

Mrs. Dunning's object is to teach the beginner, the scientific rudiments of music in the most natural and interesting manner, and to endeavor to efface the difficulties which have hitherto confronted the child during the first years of music study and to supplement that which will nourish and develop the child nature on all slides; spiritually, mentally and physically. In using the term, "beginner," Mrs. Dunning stresses the fact that it not only applies to the young child but to the older student as well.

This educational film which is being presented, is sponsored by Mrs. T. S. Roberts and Miss Elma Weller.
