

SIDELIGHTS OF THE STAGE and SCREEN

Elsinore Theater Now comes a Fanchon-Marco presentation of a real quality in the Elsinore's offering today and Monday. "In Dutch" is a regular musical comedy...

Oregon Theater "Local color in spoken titles." This is one of the odd devices by which Antonio Moreno, who is Spanish himself, acts "really Spanish" in the new Cosmopolitan production...

The producers offer an array of principal characters that are sufficient to put over a Broadway success. Al and Ray Samuels are two clever young men who have just recently danced themselves into a New York contract upon the closing of this present tour...

The most fascinating role she has played on the screen is depicted by Colleen Moore in "Orchids and Ermine," which shows at the Elsinore April 17 and 18.

ARCTIC EXPLORER WILL GIVE LECTURE APRIL 19 (Continued from page 1.) sage. He has also gained much prestige on the lecture platform.

Amundsen's fame ranks even higher. He is, in short, the national hero of Norway, the ideal of every male Norwegian and the hero of every Norwegian woman.

I was in Oslo last summer when Amundsen returned from his successful airship voyage from Rome to Alaska, by way of England, Russia, Norway, Spitzbergen and the North Pole.

care of a religious organization and arranged for their education. When their training was completed the girls, in their modern attire, could hardly be distinguished as Esquimaux. They were eager, however, to return to their home village and take up the work of civilizing their friends and relations.

Hundreds of persons were driven from their homes or marooned in them, railway, highway and telegraph services were disrupted, and unestimated property damage done as the mud laden waters spread out.

While men worked unflinchingly to halt devastation, the weather bureau here today issued a special river warning, advising that additional rainfall in the Missouri and upper Mississippi valleys threatened even higher stages.

James Emery Arrested After 400 Mile Chase James Emery, of Coquille, is held at the Marion county jail after having given traffic officers a chase of nearly 400 miles from Bend to Klamath Falls and from there to Coquille by a circuitous route.

Emery was brought to Salem by C. C. Williams, state traffic officer, where he awaits the arrival of Bend officials today. The only warrant issued against him was for speeding in the business district of Bend. The first car he drove, a small coupe, was left in Klamath Falls, where he claimed it was stolen.

According to officers, Emery has a police record in Coos county, although the extent of the present charge is not known.
