

EXCELLENT MAN AND GOOD CITIZEN DIES

Frank M. Lick Filled an Important Place in His Home Community

Born January 20, 1856, at Eau Claire, Michigan, Frank M. Lick passed his early boyhood in that state and as a young man came to Petersburg, Nebraska, becoming one of the pioneer settlers of that region, with all its attendant hardships. It was at this place that he was united in marriage to Miss Elizabeth Clarke, establishing a happy home, where three children, Bertha, Grace and Ray were born, and where Mr. Lick was prominently connected with the affairs of his county and state.

In 1899 the family removed to Oregon, locating on a farm near the present site of Quinaby, where, in a measure, he repeated his pioneer experiences in clearing land and establishing a home. He was for many years a well known hop grower, in connection with his work as assessor for the section in which he lived, a position he was well qualified to fill in matters requiring discrimination and a knowledge of values, as well as ability to meet the people of various foreign nationalities who might be prone to protest taxation. He was frequently called to serve on the Marion county grand jury and was a judge of election, first at Brooks and later at Quinaby, and was always keenly interested in school matters, seeing that his family had every educational advantage, a fact that enabled his daughters to become prominent teachers in Salem.

For some years he had retired from farming, except as a matter of recreation, although he still retained his position as deputy assessor, and was keenly anxious to be at his work this spring when an attack of influenza combined with a weak heart brought about death, Tuesday, April 19, in spite of medical attention and the loving care bestowed upon him by his children.

He was buried Friday, April 22, from Rigdon's chapel, the Rev. Thos. Acheson of the Jason Lee Methodist church conducting the service. Interment was made at Claggett cemetery, beside his wife who passed away in 1910. The pallbearers were Henry and Albert Girod, Frank and John Diem, Tony O'Neil and George Beckner, while a vast throng followed to the burial place, many coming from remote places, and the great banks of flowers testifying to the esteem in which he was held.

The surviving members of his immediate family are Mrs. Walter Gager, (Bertha), Mrs. Elmo S. White, (Grace), and Ray Lick. Gretchen Gager and Robert Gager, and Lois Lick are grand children, and Mrs. Cora Rickabaugh, a niece, was also very dear to him. Besides these there are many more distant relatives to mourn his loss.

HOPE OF PEACE WITH SECURITY EXPRESSED

This nature, which, I am convinced, animates the people of both countries, it will surely be possible to reach an amicable settlement.

Protection a Duty Assurance was given by the president in his address, which was devoted almost entirely to foreign affairs, that wherever an American citizen goes "the duties of our government must follow him." He said protection of American lives and property constituted the main problems of the United States government in both Nicaragua and China.

Our government has usually been too remiss, rather than too active, in supporting the lawful rights of its citizens abroad," he added. "That has been so long our established policy that it is rather difficult to conceive it assuming a truculent and arrogant attitude."

Denies Militarism Taking cognizance of contentions in some quarters that America was imperialistic, Mr. Coolidge disclaimed any program of military aggrandizement. He considered it a "curious circumstance" that those who advocated this country taking mandate over "far-off countries in Asia" were "most critical when we are attempting to encourage the maintenance of order, the continuity of duly established government, and the protection of lives and property of our citizens under a general reign of law in these countries that are near at hand and where we have large and peculiar interests."

The president said that the revolutionary forces of Nicaragua "appear to have received arms and ammunition from some source in Mexico."

The recent reply of Eugene Chen, Cantonese foreign minister, to the protest of the United States and allied governments over the attacks at Nanking was described as "conciliatory in tone and to be ascertain degree responsive, leaving the final disposition of the issue a matter for further consideration by our government."

Declaring that the friendship of America for China is "proverbial," the president said that no course of aggression is in mind.

Protection Stressed "We are there to prevent aggression against our people by any of their disorderly elements," he added. "Ultimately the turmoil will quiet down and some form of authority will emerge, which will no doubt be prepared to make adequate settlement for any wrongs we have suffered."

In Nicaragua and "toward the governments which we have recognized this side of the Panama Canal we feel a moral responsibility that does not attach to other nations," Mr. Coolidge told his audience. Revolutions will be discouraged in these countries, he declared, and for that purpose, he said, the United States government had taken a hand in Nicaragua.

MAIL GOES NORTH EARLY AFTERNOONS

Get Your Mail to the Office by 12, and You Will Secure Quick Service

John J. Farrar, postmaster, by Arthur E. Gibbard, assistant postmaster, authorizes The Statesman to make the following welcome announcement, under date of yesterday, of the restoration of a service that was some days ago discontinued through changes in train schedules:

"You may announce the establishment of mail service from Salem to Portland in S. P. train 34 leaving at 1:05 p. m. Also on this same train service to eastern states east and south of Colorado and Wyoming. By the use of special delivery stamps delivery may be obtained in Portland and a number of Washington state cities the same day as mailed.

"Mails are reminded that mails for direct eastern connections must be in the office at 12 noon and at 4:30 p. m. to insure close connections. Later mails do not make good connections. The California service is now the fastest we have ever had."

Cloudy Water No Cause for Alarm; Pipes Clean

Complaints against the cloudy condition of the city water were frequent yesterday. The situation, however, was not dangerous. During the winter months there was little draft or current in the pipes, with the result that a small amount of sediment was deposited. Upon the first day or two of warm spring or summer weather there results, especially during flushing of the pipes, the cloudy condition observed yesterday. The pipes were flushed yesterday and normally clear water is the result.

the balance of the $1000 fund, and to do it quickly.

To this end they announce a rummage sale. It is to be held in the new Hawkins building, 224 Liberty street, near Court street. They want rummage. They hope that every one in Salem will rummage for rummage. Then they want every one to buy rummage, in order to swell the fund. All the money will go to the building fund, to provide the community house for the YWCA summer camp; for it will be a community house. All women will be welcome, whether members of the Y. W. C. A. or not.

The rummage sale will be on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and there will be a candy sale on Friday, and a cooked food sale on Saturday.

This is an appeal that every one in Salem should heed. There is no time to lose. The carpenters ought to be at work in a few days.

to the city council for consideration at the meeting of that body next Monday. Just what action will be taken is not known. The lumber firm was to have entered the lot from Oregon street, circle the building, and go back out on the same street. It was intimated that the firm might have received encouragement from some city official in failing to observe the terms of the permit.

Plats of the Turner road addition and Humphreys addition to the city were accepted. Acceptance of the Humphreys addition has been delayed for a time pending incorporation of a provision for a sixty foot road.

L. P. Campbell, chairman of the commission, who is out of town, was not present at the meeting.

made by business men here. These ranged all the way from $100,000,000 to half a billion dollars.

Breaks in dikes in smaller streams both in north and south Louisiana, were reorted with a considerable area likely to be flooded and several more thousands made homeless. The crevasse in the Mississippi levee below New Orleans, opened Saturday by a steamer, was expected to flood about 30 square miles.

Town Evacuated Arkansas City, a town of 2000 people has been evacuated, according to reports to the Arkansas military authorities, with the refugees seeking haven in McGehee and other nearby towns which are gradually being flooded by the Arkansas river flow. Evacuation also was going forward in other towns in the Mississippi delta.

While the flood waters were spreading at an alarming pace, comprehensive plans were laid here for relief work with Secretary Hoover at the helm.

Hoover Starts Duties Clothed with full authority from President Coolidge to utilize every agency of the government necessary for flood relief, Herbert Hoover plunged into his task today with a series of hasty conferences here and a personal visit to the flooded area along the Mississippi southward.

Arriving from Washington early in the morning in company with Major General Jadwin, chief of army engineers, and James L. Feiser, acting chairman of the Red Cross, the commerce secretary went into conference with Henry M. Baker, director of flood relief for Red Cross and army officers.

Expansion Needed "The fact that the crest of the flood has not yet passed makes further expansion of relief and rescue facilities imperative," he announced as he emerged from the conference. "The reserves of the Red Cross and the government for the organization of rescue work and the distribution of supplies to take care of the evacuated people will be placed in immediate process."

"There are three things to be done for the flood victims," Mr. Hoover said. "First of all we must get them out. Second feed them while they are out. Third, and most serious of all, start them all over again when the flood waters recede. The United States is certainly rich enough to do that."

Refugees Number 150,000 Reports today to the Red Cross headquarters here showed more than 150,000 refugees in seven states, including 80,000 in Mississippi, 35,000 in Arkansas, 30,000 in Illinois, 8,000 in Missouri, 2,000 in Tennessee and 3,000 in Kentucky.

From some of the refugee camps came reports of measles, mumps, and other diseases, with a few cases of typhoid in southern Missouri. Inoculation is going forward and state authorities anticipate no epidemic.

APARTMENT GRAFT PROBE UNDERWAY

Hotel Mens' Association Employs Attorney to Aid Investigation

Investigation of an alleged apartment house graft which has been operated in Portland, Los Angeles, Seattle and other Pacific coast cities, has been undertaken by a committee of the Oregon Hotel Men's association, of which Al Pierce, Corvallis hotel owner, is president.

Mr. Pierce, while in Salem yesterday, outlined briefly how the scheme is worked. He said the promoter usually visited one of the larger cities where he would obtain a building permit for an apartment house at a cost which he would estimate as twice its actual value. By padding the appraisalment the promoter later would secure a loan in the east covering the cost of the property. He then would put a second mortgage on the structure for 30 to 50 per cent of its value. The promoter then would peddle this mortgage through a high pressure salesman for whatever it would bring. In a number of instances these mortgages were said to have been discounted as much as 35 per cent.

Through misrepresentation the apartment house then is traded or sold to some farmer unacquainted with the value of city real estate. The farm received in trade for the apartment house is quickly sold, and the promoter moves on to
