

PUBLIC UTILITIES BODIES TO CONFER

Joint Meeting Planned for Discussing Interstate Motor Carriers

The public utilities' commissions of Oregon and Idaho will hold a joint conference in Portland, May 5 for the purpose of discussing a proposed railroad extension from Lewiston, Idaho, to Homestead, Ore. The proposed extension would establish direct communication between the Eastern Oregon country and Lewiston and provide rail facilities between northern and southern Oregon.

It is said that the proposed extension is a branch line from Huntington on the main line of the Oregon-Washington Railroad & Navigation company, to Homestead. Plans in the office of the public service commission here indicate that at the present time the section of Idaho around Lewiston has no railway outlet south.

Another joint session of the two commissions will be held in Portland later in May for the purpose of discussing interstate motor carrier operations between the two states. An effort will be made at that time to reach some reciprocal agreement whereby Idaho motor carriers will not be compelled to purchase an Oregon license when their operations extend into this state.

Definite Purposes of Music Week Given

Patterson and Livesley Urge All to Participate

There is a very definite purpose in National Music Week. It is not merely to entertain people, but to have them know and feel. During the week, provisions should be made so that every man, woman and child may be able to hear the message of music and to realize at least that some form of music has an appeal.

Good music is now generally more available than ever before and the observance of Music week is an excellent way to induce every one to make use of it.

The real purpose of Music week is to center the attention of the public on music through coordination of musical activities. The attention directed towards music during the week stimulates the study of music and thereby induces the public to support better music.

National Music week in Salem will be observed more extensively than ever. Not only is there a program of music presentations in Salem every evening, but all surrounding communities are preparing special programs.

Governor L. L. Patterson has issued a proclamation calling attention to Music week and Mayor

T. A. Livesley is actively participating in urging that the week be universally observed in Salem. Contributed.

Dates for Hearing Set in Marion Circuit Court

Dates for hearing motions in department 1 of the Marion county circuit court have been set ahead to May 13 and 14 from the week previous by Judge Kelly.

The session at Albany will overlap a week longer than usual due to the trial of Mrs. Anna Fullen on a charge of killing her husband March 12. Fullen was brought to Salem where he died the next day following an emergency operation. They had been separated for several months, March 12 being the day of birthday celebration for their small son.

The grand jury will hear cases commencing May 5, a week before Judge Kelly's arrival.

BAR-W CLUB ELECTS REDDING PRESIDENT

Development of Uniform Plan for Debate Judging Suggested in Talk

Charles Redding, junior in law, was elected president of the Bar-W club, Willamette university debate and oratory letterman organization, at the annual banquet at the Spa last night. Other officers chosen were, Irene Breithaupt, vice president, and Margaret Pro, secretary-treasurer. All three students live in Salem.

Talks given during the evening by Victor Carlsson, Charles Redding, Margaret Pro, and Robert Witty urged continuance of interest in forensics next year. A successful season has just been concluded, it was pointed out, but extension of the public speaking department in matter of instructor personnel, and financial support, is necessary before Willamette can properly carry its great forensic schedule, it was said.

Redding urged the development of a plan for uniform judging of debates. On the trip, he said, it was evident that judges did not have similar conceptions of what constituted effective debating, resulting in many cases in unfair devisions both for and against the local institution.

A number of alumni members of the club, including Harold Eakin, George Rhoten, Ha Comstock, and Rawson Chapin were present. Faculty members attending were Dean F. M. Erickson and Coach John O. Hall. Joel Berreman, retiring president, was toastmaster.

Chamber of Commerce Formed at Hi School

William Hesseman Chosen President; to Work for Community

The Salem high school commerce department met Tuesday evening at the local school building and completed the organization of a junior chamber of commerce.

The purpose of the junior chamber of commerce is practically the same as is the purpose of different chambers of commerce throughout the country. Another purpose is to enable the commercial department to render more efficient service to the school and to the community in general.

Some time in the near future the junior chamber of commerce will give a program in the Salem high school, during which time the accomplishments of the commercial department will be exhibited. There will also be a speaker, some musical numbers, and various sorts of entertainment.

Officers of the junior chamber of commerce are: William Hesseman, president; John Verdieck, vice president; Margaret Moore, secretary; Raymond Hoffman, treasurer; Wayne Kantola, advertising manager, and Miss Graham faculty advisor.

Williams' Battery Store to Open in New Location

Joe Williams, for many years engaged in battery service work at 531 Court street, will open his new location at the northwest corner of Center and High streets on May 1.

Williams' motto has been, "Done by men who know battery and electrical work," and he will aim to keep up this reputation in the new home.

Due to the plans for remodeling the Derby building, all tenants now located there are being forced to move, Williams being the first to take a new location.
