Adjudication of Water Rights to Be Attempted

Adjudication of water rights on the John Day river in eastern Oregon will be undertaken by the state engineer as soon as the 3000 settlers along the stream have filed their respective claims.

Hearing in connection with the djudication will open at Condon June 15. Other hearings will be held at Fossil June 17, Spray June 20. Dayville June 21. Canyon City June 22 and Bates June 25.

The John Day river is one of the largest streams in Eastern Oregon and the work of adjudicating the water rights probably will require several months.
