

SIDE LIGHTS OF THE STAGE and SCREEN

Elsinore Theater
For entertainment that has the extra recommendation of being unique, we call your attention to "The Devil Horse," which is the third and greatest production in which Hal Roach has starred his clever and spirited wild horse, Rex. It is a thrilling story of the days when the Indians attacked pioneers in the far West. Because he attacks and slays the Indians, the big black stallion is called "Devil Horse" by them, and, in their superstitious terror they have endowed him with supernatural power.

In the story, which is by Hal Roach, it is shown how Rex, when but a colt, acquired a furious hatred for the Indians, so that whenever he got the smell there flamed in his fierce heart the desire to kill. He becomes the friend of a white man offered by the Indians as a sacrifice to the Devil Horse, and is instrumental in saving the man's sweetheart and in winning the fight against the Indians when they attack the fort. "The Devil Horse" contains a double love theme, with the horse's love story paralleling that of the human beings in the play. Lady and the Killer, equine heroine and villain respectively of other Rex dramas, do their stuff in their cleverest manner, and Yakima Canutt, Gladys McConnell, Robert Kortman, Fred Clements and Fred Jackman, Jr. give sincere performances. The picture has been produced on a spectacular scale, with fights between Indians and cavaliers and pioneers. And to make the picture complete, the scenery is exceptionally beautiful, it being the finest director, Fred Jackman could find in Montana and Wyoming. "The Devil Horse" offers splendid entertainment at the Elsinore today and at the Oregon May 22-23.

On Sunday and Monday Fanchon and Marco offer a fun "idea" which will prove very interesting to all of those attending. On the screen will be "Ankles Preferred." This picture showed to 213,000 people at Roxy's ne theater in New York for two weeks.

Capitol Theater
Another pleasurable and satisfying vaudeville bill with a bountiful supply of novelties, beautiful songs, nifty dance revues, and a good amount of comedy will be seen at the Bligh's Capitol theater today, matinee and evening.
The bill is headed by the incomparable Loretta's Novelties in the pleasing satire billed "Fun on the Screen" with special scenery and effects and many surprises not known to the vaudeville stage. Morey & Mack in their comedy conceit "Funologists" are a rollicking rapid-fire comedy act of originality and fun which enables them to bring to vaudeville a comedy act that is wholesome, clean and bubbling over with funny lines and impossible situations. Kuhn Sisters in "Bits of Vaudeville" are two vocalists and punsters who offer special material in comedy and singing numbers. Their voices blend well. There are pretty costumes, a shy glance or two, a wink, and we will leave the rest to you. Johnny Larkin, "The Rajah of Mirth" is a dusky-hued comedian whose characterizations and humorous dialogue go to make up an entertaining offer.

ing. Boyle & Le Marr in "Dance Revue Petite" present a whirlwind dancing act whose numbers are of the highest order with pretty costumes and effects. On the screen the Capitol will offer "The Perch of the Devil" starring Mae Busch and Pat O'Malley. Viola Vercler Holman and her Capitol Orchestra will complete the bill.

Oregon Theater
When Tom Mix and his wonder horse Tony are scheduled for a showing at any theater, that theater is sure to be packed. "Outlaws of Red River," shows at the Oregon today, May 21.

A bare outline can hardly do justice to the enthralling tale of the "Outlaws of Red River" which pictures the search of the Falcon, the most daring of the Texas Rangers for his foster-sister who was abducted by bandits when both were children. This thrilling episode and the raid on the emigrant train when it took place, are shown in the prologue. Incidentally the part of Tom, then a lad of ten or twelve is played by Jimmy Downs, who gives a splendid characterization of the western star as a boy.

Tom's search for his childhood playmate reaches a climax when he discovers a beautiful young girl acting as a spy for the outlaws of Red River, who signals the gang every time the stage coach bears treasure.

From here on the tempo of the story moves with an ever accelerated pace until it reaches a climax with the storming of the outlaws' stronghold by Tom and his rangers with an armored coach and the rescue of the girl.

Marjorie Daw has the leading feminine role with a cast of screen favorites in other roles of importance. An outstanding feature of this production are the many beautiful scenes showing the California mountains and Cathedral Canyon.

"Outlaws of Red River" is a splendid entertainment which held every moment of the audience's attention who witnessed the first showing yesterday.

Upton Close Delivers Lectures at Monmouth

OREGON NORMAL SCHOOL, MONMOUTH, Ore., May 20.—Upton Close gave two lectures at the Oregon normal school yesterday. Before the regular morning assembly he talked on the topic "The Revolt of Asia." His lecture in the evening was on "The End of the White Man's World." Dr. Close spoke in a humorous, forceful manner and brought his subject before his audience in such an interesting manner that he held the attention of his entire audience. It has been a long time since the students of the school have so thoroughly enjoyed and appreciated a lecturer.

THE THRILLING CHARIOT RACE IN "BEN HUR"

Coming to the Oregon Theater March 27

BEN HUR COMING TO SALEM MAY 27

World's Greatest Show Picture Filmed at Expense of $4,000,000

"Ben-Hur," with its magnificent chariot race pictured in a death-defying contest on a vast circus arena—the knightly Ramon Novarro and the wicked Francis X. Bushman as the opposing heroes—comes to the Oregon on May 27, for a special engagement. Theatregoers greatly enjoyed the stage "Ben-Hur" and vividly remember Bill Farnum, Bill Hart, Emmett Corrigan, Mary Shaw and others of the old casts. "Twas the most popular stage spectacle ever produced—produced, touring America for twenty-two seasons. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, in arrangement with A. L. Erlanger, Charles Dillingham and Florenz Ziegfeld, have made a new and greater "Ben-Hur" in the newer art of the motion picture that out-tops the former achievement, even as the wizard-like powers of the Twentieth Century surpass the inventions of our forefathers.

You see forty-eight horses—twelve teams—start abreast in their mad dash over the seven laps of the Antioch race-course, and you cannot forbear a cheer as Ben-Hur wrecks Messala and forges to the front! Roman and Pirate navies contend in realistic death-grapples on the Mediterranean. The towers and torments of Zion rise anew. From the exquisite Madonna to the Last Supper and the Procession of Palms, the masterpieces of Art are re-enacted, often in color. The beautiful love story of Esther and Ben-Hur, a contemporary of the Saviour, dominates the grand spectacle which is characterized by a fine reverence in the sacred part of the portrayals. Among the leading actors are Ramon Novarro in the title role; Francis X.

Epworth League Picnic Success; Weather Ideal

PRATUM, May 20.—(Special.)—The Epworth League picnic at Silver Creeks Falls last Saturday was a real success as the weather was ideal. The young folks enjoyed themselves very much.

A beautiful church wedding took place here last Sunday, when Miss Opal Smith was married to Charles Mackey of Portland. Another church wedding will take place on Sunday.

Mrs. Lela Grettie, one of the teachers, was unable to attend the school picnic which was held on the grounds last Monday. About a dozen young people from here took part in a musical entertainment at Halls Ferry last Sunday afternoon. A Sunday school will be organized there on May 22 at 2:30 p. m.
