BIBLE STUDY PROPOSED

Question Brought Before School Board by YMCA Secretary

The question of bible study in the public schools came before the school board last night when a letter from C. A. Kells, YMCA, secretary, was read by Superintendent Hug. Mr. Kells, who has been appointed chairman of a committee of seven from the ministerial association, to establish a course of bible study requested that the board approve a plan for excusing pupils to attend bible classes during regular school hours, and to grant suitable credit.

Members expressed disapproval of the plan on account of its possible interference with the regular school routine, and passed a motion to the effect that cooperation would be extended in the inauguration of bible classes to be conducted outside of school hours and to grant the credit provided for under the state law, if the instructors were approved by the superintendent.

Week day bible classes were tried out four years ago at Garfield school when about half the children there were enrolled. At another time the plan was tried out at all the school when about one-third of the pupils attended. The classes then were held from 8:30 to 9 a. m. outside of school hours.

Tribute to Memorial Day Offered at Kiwanis Club

Tributes to Memorial Day were offered at the Kiwanis luncheon yesterday in song by Ronald Craven, at the piano by Kenneth McCormack and by Dean George H. Alden of Willamette university who made the address of the day. Craven sang "There Is No Death," one of the outstanding post-World War songs, and McCormack played a southern medley arrangement. Announcement of the Salem Boy Scouts pageant and carnival to be held the night of June 2, was made by Charles Wiper, representative of the Kiwanis club on the Cascade council.

JACKSON COUNTY CASE DISMISSED BY COURT

D. A. Randall and Elmer Bennett guilty of operating a "beano" game at Seaside.

The defendants alleged that the game depended upon the skill of a player rather than an element of chance, and that the articles given to the successful player were merely prizes.

Other opinions handed down by the supreme court today follow: Joseph Jacobberger, appellant, vs. School District No. 1, Multnomah county; appeal from judgment upon verdict in favor of defendant in action for alleged breach of contract. Opinion by Justice Brown. Judge Robert Morrow reversed.

In the matter of the will contest of W. H. Shepard, deceased, William D. Allingham, proponent and respondent, vs. Olive M. Sheppard, contestant and appellant; appeal from Multnomah county; suit to set aside will. Opinion by Justice Holt. Judge George Tazwell affirmed.

Carrie B. Billion, appellant, vs. Vernon A. Billion, respondent and cross-appellant; appeal from Multnomah county; appeal from decree.
