Principles Worth Fighting For

JUST as the heroes of our wars fought to uphold the ideals of their country, we strive constantly to uphold the same ideals in our organization.

We believe in loyalty to this town and to its citizens. We believe that honesty, courtesy and fair prices are the unflinching standard of good will—and we practice what we believe! We try to please our patrons, we even solicit their suggestions and criticisms. We never have and never will swerve from our fixed purpose—to give the best in merchandise, courtesy and fair prices. We'll fight for the principles of economic democracy—which means we'll fight to give you sound, fair values.
