

ORGANDIE DECREED BY PARIS EXPERTS

Dresses Combining Colors, Painted Motifs, Ruffles Popular

Fashion's most authoritative source affirms organdie a favorite among sheer fabrics for both formal and informal summer wear. The final emphasis of approval thus confirms the Women's Wear World presentations of permanent finish organdie, exquisite in texture, and colors.

Organdie dresses of combining colors, large embroidery and painted motifs decorating the skirt, some with narrow bands to finish the waist line, others with ruffles, applique and flowers.

Pines Hotel Opens; Boon For Tourists

Located in Rhododendron Country; Modernly Equipped

The wonderfully equipped Pines hotel was officially opened Thursday of this week at Taft, Ore., with a dance and general opening for the entire community.

It was estimated that over 450 people were present. Dancing was the special feature of the evening's entertainment and delicious refreshments were served to those attending.

The ground for this new hotel, which is located in the heart of the Rhododendron country, was broken about 90 days ago. Completed it stands, a building of which any community might well be proud. It has 19 rooms equipped with all modern conveniences.

A dining room and many other things have been added which will give summer vacationists a great deal of pleasure.

The proprietors of the Pines hotel are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Watson formerly owners of the Hotel Hebo. They have been in the hotel business for the past three years and have with them the same chef and other help.

The Pines hotel, located as it is, will be a great boon to tourists and others seeking vacation pleasures in the coast regions.

POPULAR HUBBARD MAN KILLED BY FALL

Charles M. Will Was Member of Pioneer Family in the North End

HUBBARD, Ore., May 28.—(AP)—Charles M. Will, 33, died here today from injuries received when he fell from a tree. He was pruning branches in the George Woker orchard.

The above brief Associated Press dispatch is in error as to the manner of the fatal accident. Mr. Will and his brother were felling trees on the George J. Woller farm, when he fell 150 feet, breaking his chin, neck, and his back in two places. Death was instantaneous.

Charles M. Will was one of the most respected young men in the vicinity. He was a graduate of the Hubbard high school and the Oregon Agricultural college. He was a member of the K. of P. and other organizations; and formerly secretary of the Hubbard commercial club. He leaves a twin brother, Leon, his grandfather, Geo. J. Woller, aged 87, of Hubbard, and a brother and sister at Anaheim, Cal.

He was a radio expert, associated with that department of the Sherman Clay company, Portland. He was a nephew of Geo. C. Will of Salem. He served with the World war forces.

Funeral arrangements have not been made. They will be under the auspices of the K. of P.

RAFFETY NAMED CHIEF

Appointments Made Under Recently Enacted State Law

T. A. Raffety, chief inspector for the state motor vehicle department since its creation, Friday was appointed chief state traffic officer by the secretary of state. The appointment was made under a law enacted at the last session of the legislature.

G. Max Flannery of Salem and Kenneth F. Bloom of Albany were appointed captains, while Jay Saltzman of The Dalles, J. J. McMahon of Jacksonville and O. O. Nichols of Medford were appointed lieutenants of the state traffic department.

The new law requires the appointments shall be made from the present traffic organization. All of the men receiving the appointments have been connected with the state traffic department for several years.

COREY MAKES PROPOSAL

Railroad Construction from Elgin More Economical, Claim

H. H. Corey, member of the Oregon public service commission, at a meeting of the commission of Idaho, Washington and Oregon held at Lewiston, Idaho, Thursday to consider the proposed Homestead extension of the Union Pacific railroad, has offered as an alternative for this line a route extending from Elgin, on the Grand Ronde river, to Lewiston.

Mr. Corey said the latter route would be approximately the same mileage and would lessen materially the cost of construction. He estimated that the tonnage available would be larger than on the proposed Lewiston-Homestead extension.

Wheeler Gets Light Sentence and Paroled

Lack of incriminative evidence against Art Wheeler, Indian hop yard worker held for manslaughter in connection with the death of James Mason, since October 3, resulted in the light sentence of a year in the state penitentiary and a $50 fine. He was immediately paroled from the bench and released after serving eight months in the county jail waiting for a trial.

Wheeler and Mason had engaged in a fight last fall with Jim Gee a Chinese laborer now working in Alaskan canneries, as the only witness. Mason died a few hours after the fight but an autopsy showed that Mason died of a heart ailment rather than direct effects of the fight.

With Gee in Alaska, only a flimsy net of circumstantial evidence could be furnished against the defendant, insufficient in the belief of the court to justify additional time in prison.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB PRESENTS PROGRAM

Audience Pleased With the Splendid Work Done by Normal Organization

OREGON NORMAL SCHOOL, Monmouth, May 28.—(Special).—The men's glee club of the Oregon normal school presented the Apollonaris organization of jubilee singers Thursday night in the normal auditorium before a large and appreciative audience. The program of negro songs and spirituals given under the direction of Louise Woodruff, head of the music department, was beyond doubt as enjoyable as any offered by student talent during the school year.

Mayne McGowan's "Water Boy," "There's One More River to Cross," and "Goin' Home," given in his rich baritone, were welcomed with enthusiasm. Harry Staden, in his first appearance, surprised the audience with his clear tenor and skill as a musician. Raymond Hass gave two exceptionally fine bass solos by Burleigh.

The club's presentation of negro songs gave the old tunes a fresh popularity. "Christie's" band gave several of their usual snappy numbers. Mildred Lovett at the piano and Mildred Scott, violin, assisted with splendid accompaniments. The audience seemed much pleased with the entire program. Miss Woodruff is indeed to be commended upon the splendid work she is doing with the men's glee club this year.

The pilot of the "Spirit of St. Louis" plugging gracefully down on Evere Hill, near Brussels this afternoon must have found the number of spectators awaiting him seemingly small in proportion to the frantically enthusiastic Parisians who surged on Le Bourget field a week ago tonight. It required music and the inspiring spectacle of his silver bird gliding gently over the earth to stir the Belgians.

Crowds Surround The Belgians gave him a wonderful welcome. Many tried to reach him, although the police succeeded in holding them back, and a couple of hours after he had emerged from a 15 minute talk with King Albert radiant with pleasure at the welcome that had been his.

Lindbergh, in no hurry to come to earth, circled over the airframe making his turns with remarkable grace and finally alighted safely to earth.

Deficit Reported In Clarion Funds

$163.70 Missing According to Audit of Committee

That a deficit of $463.70 exists in the accounts of the Clarion, Salem high school publication, is alleged in a report drawn up by a special committee of high school students which was made public yesterday. The report was read to the student council, meeting with Superintendent George W. Hux, Principal J. C. Nelson, and Merritt Davis, treasurer of the student body.

After gathering information as to the amount of advertising carried in the paper, and having checked over the accounts with local business men, the committee composed of Marvin Headrick, Robert Bishop and Donald Dockeback, drew up the report which was checked by members of the commercial department for possible errors in accounting.

The report shows that a total of $854.80 was due for advertising, whereas only $572.75 of this amount was turned over to the student body treasurer, resulting in a deficit of $282.05. For pictures in the Clarion annual, the committee found a sum of $758.25 due, with only $572.35 received and $2.25 additional accounted for. The total deficit, the report stated, was $463.70.

Donald Blake, manager of the publication, who appeared before the group, disclaimed any knowledge as to where the money had gone, but signed an agreement to make up half of the deficit before next Tuesday.

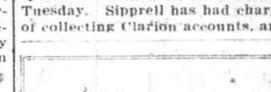

Ralph Sipprell, Blake's assistant, who was also to have appeared before the council, was absent from the city attending the Salem-The Dalles baseball game, and did not return until last night. He will appear before a special meeting of the council next Tuesday. Sipprell has had charge of collecting Clarion accounts, and will be asked to make up the other half of the deficit, according to Principal Nelson.

If the alleged shortages in the accounts are made up promptly, there will be no charge made against the boys, principal Nelson stated.
