NIMRODS MEET TO ADOPT NEW CONSTITUTION

Oregon Game Protective Association is Name Chosen for Organization

MEMBERS TAKE PLEDGE

Promise To Protect And Respect Rights Of Landowners While Hunting And Fishing; Badge Is Symbol.

Adoption of a new constitution providing among other things for a change in name from the State sportsman's association to the Oregon Game Protective Association was the chief item of business occupying the attention of Oregon rod and gun fans who met yesterday in Salem at the chamber of commerce rooms.

Four counties were represented at the meeting which lasted all day. They were Clatsop, Hood River, Klamath, Lin, Marion, Multnomah, Polk, Yamhill, Washington, and Douglas. Ed Piasecki, president of the association, acted as chairman.

Condema Measure
A resolution condemning referendum of the Neuseca River bill, and pledging the state association to oppose it at the election this month was passed.

Among the new provisions in the constitution adopted yesterday is one requiring that a person before becoming a member must sign an obligation to observe and obey all game laws and regulations of the state, and respect the rights and interests of land owners on whose property fishing or hunting is done.

Badges Provided
Each member is given a distinctive badge which is to be worn while hunting or fishing. In case the obligation is knowingly violated, the offending member is dismissed from the organization and divested of the badge.

The new constitution will go into effect at the first meeting in December at which time new officers will be elected. Officers of the old association will serve until

GUERNSEY CATTLE NET HIGH PRICES

LUNCH BY CLACKAMAS CLUB SPECIAL FEATURE

Forty-one Head Sold; Other Sales Planned by Owners in Near Future

An auction sale of Guernsey cattle was held yesterday at Canby Ore., under the auspices of the Clackamas County Guernsey Cattle club. About twelve years ago one of the banks in Oregon City financed the purchasing of Guernseys and a car load was secured from the breeders in Wisconsin and sold to farmers in Clackamas county.

From this small beginning there is today approximately 500 head of pure-bred Guernsey cattle in that county and buyers from a distance are coming to buy these blue-blooded cattle. Within the past year it is known that approximately $20,000 worth of these cattle have been shipped out of Clackamas county, this does not include the auction sale of yesterday when 41 head were sold for $7,110 or an average of approximately $175 each.

The offering included both sexes and all ages from baby calves up. There was only one animal that sold for less than $100 and it was a baby bull calf. The heaviest buyer was J. A. Waldron, Chino Valley, Ariz., buying for the Fred Harvey, Inc., Co.

This company operates a large dairy to supply milk for the Harvey hotel and dining car system of the Santa Fe railroad. Mr. Waldron purchased 11 head, paying $2,335 for them. He bid only on the better ones of the sale. These cattle will be shipped to Del Rio, Ariz., to be placed in the Harvey dairy and breeding farm. Mr. Waldron plans to secure others to complete a car load.

The next heaviest buyer was A. L. Gile, Chino Valley, Wash., he having paid $1,040 for five head, and paid up to $250 for a yearling heifer. The top price was $410, paid by Mr. Waldron for an eight-

FLOOD VICTIMS' BENEFIT PLANNED

NEED CONTINUES ACCORDING TO REPORTS FROM AREA

Equity Players to Stage "Appreciation" at Capitol Theater on June 10.

"Every dollar that can be raised by Willamette Chapter of the Red Cross is still needed," declared C. E. Albin, president of the local chapter, "and will be forwarded to the flooded areas in the Mississippi valley as soon as possible. Three hundred thousand people have been driven from their homes and it will be weeks before the flood waters recede sufficiently to allow them to return to take up the work of rehabilitation. Those people must be fed and cared for, and this work is being done by the Red Cross in conjunction with Secretary Hoover.

"While flood news does not occupy front page place in the newspapers now, the flood condition is just as serious. From available sources of information, it is learned that press reports have not told the fullness of the devastation wrought.

"Rev. U. S. Crowder, in his talk before the Kiwanians last Tuesday, impressed the members with the scope and greatness of the flood disaster. He reported that at least 200 people have lost their lives in the rush of turbid water. This fact makes it imperative that it is not only what we should give to help but what we can give.

"There is a new flood crest sweeping down the Mississippi. Reports indicate that this crest will be confined to the courses already made and bring no further danger but it will continue the

HEALTH SERVICE TOPIC

Demonstration to Be Given at Monday's Chamber Luncheon

Exposition of the service which the Commonwealth Fund of New York City is giving this vicinity through the activities of the Marion County Child Health demonstration, will be the purpose of the program at the Salem Chamber of Commerce luncheon Monday.

Dr. Walter H. Brown, director; his assistant, Dr. Vernon A. Douglas, and other representatives of the health demonstration, will speak; and a group of children will take part in an actual demonstration of the work. Several of the nurses connected with the health organization will be guests of the chamber.

June will see the end of the chamber lunches for the summer, but at the next three meetings, some interesting programs are scheduled. Thomas B. Kay, state treasurer, will talk next week; Senator Charles L. McNary on June 20 and Congressman W. C. Hawley June 27.

STUDENTS IN ACCIDENT

Car Occupied by Willamette U. Group Demolished

Several Willamette university students were shaken up in an auto accident which took place near Willamina at 8:30 last evening while the party was returning from the Alpha Psi Delta fraternity picnic at Neskewin.

Those in the car were Lural Burgraf, alumni from Albany; Ronald Craven, Salem; Oliver Crowther, Salem alumni; Bueva Culbertson, Clatskanie; and Evelyn Eon, Custer, Ida. None was seriously injured, although Miss Eon sustained painful bruises.

Other cars in the party picked up the wrecked group.

The accident was said to have been caused by a Portland car which failed to give right of way on the highway. Both cars were badly smashed, and the Portland party received cuts and minor injuries.

KELLY TO GREET LINDY

Famous Non-Stop Flier to Cross Continent for Reception

PORTLAND, June 4.—(AP)—Lieutenant Oakley G. Kelly, commander of Pearson Field, Vancouver, Wash., will leave by airplane Tuesday for Washington, D. C., to assist in the welcome planned for Captain Charles A. Lindbergh, New York to Paris non-stop flier. Orders to proceed to Washington were received by Kelly today from General Patrick, commander of the army aviation division.

Kelly won fame when with MacReady, he made the first non-stop flight across the American continent. It will be his 19th flight across the United States.

'LINDY' HOPING BELLANCA SHIP WILL 'MAKE IT'

Cruiser Memphis, Bearing One Trans-Atlantic Flier, Keeping Watch

SENDOFF GLORIOUS ONE

Cherbourg People Crowd Harbor Boats for Last View of American Ace; President's Message Received

USS CRUISER MEMPHIS, June 4.—(By Wire) to Associated Press.—"I do hope he makes it," said Captain Lindbergh, smiling, when informed that the Bellanca plane Columbia had started from New York on its trans-Atlantic flight.

Admiral Burrage, learning of the start through the Associated Press, immediately communicated with all the ships in his jurisdiction. He instructed them to keep the sharpest lookout.

Send-off Enjoyed
USS MEMPHIS, June 4.—"It was a glorious send-off," Captain Lindbergh remarked as the Memphis steamed away from Cherbourg this afternoon.

The farewell receptions to the American flying ace ashore this afternoon were highly gratifying, but this actual start for home, as the Memphis put on full steam and made straight for Hampton Roads, was the best part of the whole great adventure.

Many Flowers Sent
After formalities aboard the cruiser, Lindbergh, escorted by Commander Bagley, went to his quarters. He was well pleased, and said so. There were flowers heaped in every corner. Then he

SHIERMAN EXONERATED

Silverton Man Freed of Charges Following Fatal Crash

PORTLAND, June 4.—(AP)—A not true bill was returned by the grand jury here today in favor of Walter Shierman of Silverton, Ore., who, here on April 17, drove his automobile into a car operated by T. J. Parker of Seattle, the crash resulting in Parker's death. The report of the grand jury exonerated Shierman of blame, after he had been ordered held for investigation by the coroner's jury.

KIMBALL SCHOOL PLANS EXERCISES

DR. J. M. CANSE TO DELIVER BACCALAUREATE SERMON

Commencement Program Scheduled for Tuesday; Eighteenth Annual Event

Beginning with the baccalaureate service at Leslie Methodist church this morning, three days will be given to a program of commencement exercises which mark the close of the year's activities at Kimball School of Theology.

Dr. J. M. Canse, president of Kimball school, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon at 11 o'clock, speaking on the subject "Finding Life." Other members of the faculty will assist in the service, and it is expected that the students of the school will attend in a body.

Competition for the Fisher prize for scripture and hymn reading will take place in Kimball hall Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. This is open to all regular students of Kimball, and consists of reading of scripture and hymn selections made by the faculty committee. Prizes for first and second places are $12 and $8.

At the conclusion of the contest, a fellowship meeting will be held for Kimball students, followed by the annual communion service.

An opportunity for the Salem friends of Kimball School to pay their respects to the school and graduating class will be given Monday evening at a reception beginning at 8 o'clock in Kimball hall, given by President and Mrs.

CULT LEADER INDICTED

Inventor of Reputed Perpetual Motion Machine Held

PORTLAND, June 4.—(AP)—Homer D. Brown, represented as the head of a religious cult known as the Brotherhood of Divine Revelations, and promoter of an alleged perpetual motion machine, was indicted today by the Multnomah circuit court grand jury on a charge of violating the provisions of the Oregon state blue sky laws.

Brown was said to have formed the Brown-Estro Power & Manufacturing company, with a plant in the St. Johns district for the manufacture of the machine, details of which, he declared, was revealed to him by the Scripture.

The state said members of the cult were given shares of stock in the manufacturing plant in return for fees paid for memberships. The state charges that Brown operated without a permit from the state corporation commission.

HUGH'S RE-TRIAL TO OPEN MONDAY

INTEREST SURROUNDING PREVIOUS HEARING LACKING

State Has New Witnesses; Defense Counsel To Be Same As Before

MEDFORD, June 4.—(AP)—Hugh DeAutremont, 23, charged with his twin brothers Ray and Roy, with the Siskiyou tunnel train robbery of October 11, 1922, which resulted in the slaying of four trainmen, will go on trial at Jacksonville Monday morning, charged with the murder of Charles O. (Coyle) Johnson, a Southern Pacific brakeman, living at Ashland, Ore. DeAutremont's first trial on the same charge resulted in a mistrial, with the death of Juror S. W. Dunham, 63, of this city.

The defendant, under special guard in the county jail, views with no outward show of concern, the coming ordeal.

"Gentlemen prefer the open spaces," he says. "I expect to be there soon myself."

DeAutremont, a former regular army soldier, captured in the Philippines last January, has been a model prisoner, according to his keepers.

The re-trial, to date lacks the public interest of the first.

United States District Attorney George Neuner will arrive Sunday to take an active part in the prosecution, with Special Prosecutor George M. Roberts and District Attorney Newton C. Chaney.

The defense counsel will be the same as in the first hearing, consisting of Attorneys Fred L. Smith and David B. Evans of Eugene; John A. Collier of Portland, and Gus Newbury of Medford.

It is expected that the better part of three days will be required for the securing of a jury, and the opening statement of the state will be made by Prosecutor George M. Roberts, and for the defense by

FIRES SAID INCENDIARY

Rooming House and State Buildings in Portland Destroyed

PORTLAND, June 4.—(AP)—Fire, said by the fire marshal's office to have been of incendiary origin, damaged four store buildings and a rooming house on the river front here early this morning and for a time threatened the entire south waterfront district.

Damage was estimated at $53,100 by the fire marshal, although figures given out by owners reached a higher figure. The Portland Door & Window company was the heaviest loser.

A number of residents of the rooming house were rescued by firemen as the flames licked at the window sills.

APPOINTMENTS MAIN INTEREST ENSUING WEEKS

Board of Regents to Select President for New Normal School Soon

SIX APPLICATIONS MADE

State Board of Education to Meet and Select Members of Text-Book Commission According to Law

Selection of a state text-book commission, employment of a president for the new state normal school at La Grande, and appointment of a state budget director, are among the outstanding state activities scheduled for consideration during the next few weeks.

Employment of a superintendent of the new state tuberculosis hospital at the Dalles probably will not be announced for several months, it was said.

Six Applicants
There are six active applicants for the presidency of the new state normal schools. These include Ida E. Redfield, commissioner of education for the state of Idaho; H. E. Inlow, superintendent of schools at Pendleton; D. J. Jones, superintendent of schools at Eugene; H. M. Broadbent, superintendent of schools at Baker, and Linden McCullough, who recently was elected superintendent of schools at Deer Park, Wash. It was said that a large number of letters have been re-

MARRIAGE KEPT SECRET

Sophomores at Willamette University Make Announcement

Two Willamette university sophomores are smiling today—first because they put "something over" on their friends, and second—well, that's their business. They are, and have been since February 16, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Illiff; but in the intervening months professors and classmates have addressed Mrs. Illiff as "Miss Warner," for the marriage, performed in Tacoma, has been kept a complete secret from all their friends.

Mr. Illiff is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Illiff of Chemawa, where the elder Illiff is an official of the Indian school. Mrs. Illiff is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Warner of Los Angeles, and a sister of Loyal Warner, boys' work secretary at the Salem YMCA. They will make their home in Salem. The marriage was announced at the Delta Phi sorority of which Mrs. Illiff is a member, Thursday evening.

FILING TIME EXPIRES

Arguments on Nearly All Special Election Bills Recorded

The time for filing with the secretary of state arguments in favor of and against the several constitutional amendments and measures to go before the voters at the special election on June 28, expired last night.

The printing of the official pamphlets will get under way next Monday. It will require approximately 325,000 of these pamphlets to supply all the registered voters in the state.

The secretary of state said that arguments were filed in connection with virtually all of the amendments and measures on the ballot.

The law provides that the pamphlets shall be in the mails 10 days prior to the election.

HOLDS UTILITIES LIABLE

Properties Beyond Boundaries Under Jurisdiction Says Bean

Louis E. Bean, chairman of the public service commission of Oregon, has expressed the opinion that municipally owned and operated utilities situated beyond corporate boundaries are subject to the regulatory jurisdiction of the state.

It was said that Commissioner Bean's statement was inspired by a request for a legal opinion by the attorney general as to whether the state has authority to tax municipally owned properties operated outside of the cities in which the utilities are located.

PART-TIME WORK TAKEN BY MANY

FIRST YEAR LOCAL SCHOOL TRIED PLAN; MEETS FAVOR

Students Take From Four to Eight Hours of Work Each Week in Year

Opportunities for taking school work while engaged in part-time occupations in the city were taken advantage of by 19 boys and 17 girls who have been enrolled during the past year in the part-time general continuation school maintained by the Salem school system, reports Miss Lillian Schroeder, secretary of the Salem Teachers' association, in a statement made to Superintendent Hug's office.

These students have been taking from four to eight hours of school work each week, so arranged that they may also hold a position in an office or shop. Courses have been offered in business English, business mathematics, vocational civics, and penmanship and spelling. In most cases individual instruction is given.

In connection with this work, the secretary visits the homes and

MASONS TO RALLY HERE

June 13 Is Date Set For 75th Anniversary Celebration

Salem Lodge No. 4, Masons, will hold a celebration and rally here June 13, on the occasion of the 75th anniversary of the receipt of the charter of the lodge. Salem Lodge No. 4 was the first lodge chartered by the grand lodge of Oregon, and this charter was issued 75 years ago.

The Grand Lodge of Oregon was formed by Multnomah Lodge No. 1, located at Oregon City; Willamette Lodge No. 2, located in Portland, and Lafayette Lodge No. 3, originally located at Lafayette but later removed to Yamhill. Special invitations have been issued to these three lodges which formed the grand lodge at the time the charter was issued to the Salem Lodge in June, 1852. A number of the grand lodge officers have been invited and will attend the celebration.

A historical sketch of the Salem lodge will be given by Lot L. Pierce, past grand master. The first officers of Salem lodge were pioneers of this section of the state. A. M. Belt was the first worshipful master of the lodge. He later became grand master of the grand lodge of Oregon.

PROCLAIMS FLAG DAY

Governor in Annual Proclamation Asks Proper Observance

Governor Paterson yesterday issued a proclamation urging that the citizens of Oregon observe Flag day, Tuesday, June 14, which marks the sesquicentennial of the adoption of the flag of the United States.

"I suggest and request," read the governor's proclamation "that on that day the flag be displayed from public buildings, places of business and homes and that the citizen be instructed in the correct way of displaying and respecting the national emblem. That on June 12, Sunday, the ministers of all creeds and denominations direct the thoughts of their congregations to the flag of the United States and the things it represents.

"I urge that on Flag day special patriotic exercises be held by fraternal, civic, commercial and patriotic organizations, and in this manner fittingly commemorate the adoption of the flag, and re-dedicate ourselves to the ideals, traditions, principles and institutions for which the flag stands."

RICHMOND TO GATHER

Various Measures on Ballot to Be Discussed At Meeting

The Richmond Improvement club will meet on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the school house. At that time a general discussion and study will be made of the various measures which will be on the ballot for the special election on June 28. A speaker has been obtained for the evening, who will explain various matters pertaining to the community, and especially will he talk about the drainage question.

In addition to the discussion and talks there will be several musical selections and other entertainment features.

GOOD WEATHER FAVORS FLIGHT BY CHAMBERLIN

Bellanca Plane Heads Out Across 1900 Mile Stretch of Atlantic

BEHIND LINDBERGH TIME

Lievine's Departure Complete Surprise; Wife Collapses on Learning of His Plan After Plane Starts

(By Associated Press.)

Clear weather with favoring west winds attended the Chamberlin-Lievine trans-Atlantic flight in its second and most hazardous phase, when the plane headed out over the ocean in the 1900-mile reach to the Irish coast, according to radio reports received by the Associated Press from ships in the north Atlantic.

Calculations based on an average speed of 100 miles an hour indicate that the Bellanca monoplane Columbia would reach the Irish coast about 3 p. m., eastern daylight time today, provided Chamberlin holds her on the great circle course.

Further News Lacking

As the airplane carries no radio and is flying well north of steamship lanes, it was considered improbable that it would be reported again until close to Ireland.

When Chamberlin headed out to sea he had completed the first leg of his flight in 12 hours and 15 minutes. Although he left the Newfoundland coast 90 minutes earlier than Lindbergh had done, Chamberlin was 47 minutes behind the time of the Spirit of St. Louis for the first 1,000 miles. The Bellanca plane left New York an hour and 40 minutes earlier than Lindbergh and cut off nearly 100 miles by heading out to sea at Cape Race, Nfld., while Lindbergh went on to St. Johns.

Destination Unknown

NEW YORK, June 4.—(AP)—The Bellanca monoplane Columbia was over the north Atlantic tonight, headed east and with the farthest European point it can reach the objective in an effort to wrest the world record for long

FLIER'S MOTHER "THINKING LOTS"

PARENTS VISIT NEWSPAPER TO GET LATEST REPORTS

Believe Chamberlin Proceeding Slowly So as to Land in Daylight

OMAHA, Neb., June 4.—(AP) Outwardly calm, but admitting "underneath I am thinking lots," Mrs. E. C. Chamberlin, who, with her husband, drove to Omaha from Denison, Ia., tonight, sat in the editorial room of the World Herald, when the messages came over the Associated Press wires announcing the Columbia, trans-Atlantic plane piloted by her son, Clarence, had been seen heading east from Cape Race.

"What do you know about Clarence?" Mrs. Chamberlin asked, breaking the silence she had maintained during the drive from Denison. The latest dispatches were handed her husband, and as he read them aloud, the mother's hands trembled.

"Yes, my nerves are quite steady," she said, "and I am maintaining an outward calm. I'm like Clarence—I won't betray my thoughts, but underneath I'm thinking lots."

The parents were disappointed when they learned their son's time for the first 400 miles was slower than that of Lindbergh. They the father offered a possible explanation.

"I believe that Clarence has this flight carefully planned out," he said, "and I believe he is so confident of succeeding that he is gauging his time so that he will be able to land in daylight, wherever he's going."

A photograph of Charles A. Lievine, Chamberlin's companion on the trip, interested them.
