Mrs. Fred J. Tooze Entertains Chapter G of PEO at Meeting Thursday
The home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Tooze on Mill street was the scene of an interesting meeting of Chapter G of the PEO Sisterhood on Thursday afternoon. At this time complete reports of the state convention held at Wallowa Lake in May were given.

Mrs. Frank Churchill gave the main convention report, assisted by Mrs. W. W. Moore, chapter president, and Mrs. W. H. Byrd. Special guests at the meeting were Mrs. Cassidy, member of an Iowa chapter, and Miss Davis, who belongs to the PEO in Vale.
Many baskets of roses decorated the rooms. At the tea hour Mrs. Tooze was assisted by her daughter, Miss Annabelle Tooze, and by Miss Ellen Jean Moody.

An interesting fact that came to light during the afternoon was the news that the PEO Sisterhood has educated more than 1800 girls since the St. Louis exposition. Throughout the United States are 40,000 women who belong to this extremely worthy organization.

Miss Taylor Will Attend National Nursing League

First Methodist WHMS Elects Officers at Tea Meeting on Wednesday
The outstanding meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary society of the year was held on Wednesday in the church parlors. New officers were elected at this time. Mrs. George Lewis was chosen to succeed Mrs. George H. Alden, retiring president. Mrs. Alden now holds the office of president of the district.

Mrs. Carl Gregg Doney was the choice of the club for vice president.

The other officers are as follows: Secretary, Mrs. W. E. Kirk; corresponding secretary, Mrs. H. M. Durkheimer; treasurer, Mrs. B. E. Carrier; secretary of the mite box, Mrs. E. E. Gilbert; supplies secretary, Mrs. A. Hale; temperance secretary, Mrs. J. W. Beckley; literature secretary, Mrs. Harry Swafford; secretary of the home guard work, Mrs. E. C. Miller; superintendent of the young people's work, Mrs. C. M. Keefer; secretary of evangelism, Mrs. Orin Stratton; in charge of the Old People's Home department, Mrs. A. Underhill, and Portland settlement center work, Mrs. W. C. Winslow.
Mrs. H. M. Durkheimer was in charge of the lesson on Wednesday, and Mrs. E. J. Swafford had the devotions. Mrs. Hisey gave a special talk on young people's work.

Sixty members of the society were present for the business session and the elaborately planned tea which followed. Roses, iris, columbine—the loveliest of the early summer garden flowers—filled the church for the occasion. The tea table was centered with an arrangement of the same flowers in the delicate pastel shades. Green tapers gleamed in crystal holders.
Mrs. Carl Gregg Doney and Mrs. F. C. Taylor poured the tea. The tea committee, with Mrs. Almira Hale as chairman, included Mrs. E. E. Gilbert, Mrs. F. A. Legge, Mrs. Carruthers, Mrs. Charles J. Lisle, Miss Elizabeth Baker and Mrs. N. S. Savage.

Willamette University Co-Ed Keeps Marriage Secret for Four Months
Willamette university students were distinctly surprised last week when Miss Fernie Warner announced that her marriage to Amos Iliff occurred in February, and had been kept secret for more than four months. The news of the marriage was first told at the Delta Phi sorority of which Mrs. Iliff is a member.
Mrs. Iliff is a member of the sophomore class, while Mr. Iliff is a junior.
Mrs. Iliff is registered at the university from Los Angeles and Mr. Iliff from Chemawa.

Miss Louella Tompkins Becomes Bride of Lester Harding on June Fourth
Miss Louella Tompkins and Lester Harding were quietly married in Woodburn yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. The ceremony took place at the First Methodist parsonage in Woodburn, with the pastor of the church officiating.
The only attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Gail Landen, sister and brother-in-law of the groom.
The bride wore an extremely becoming frock of Saxe blue georgette trimmed with cream lace. She wore a small white hat. The wedding bouquet was a gorgeous arrangement of Ophelia roses.

Mrs. Harding, who has spent practically her entire lifetime in Salem, is a graduate nurse, who trained in Chicago. In Salem she has made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Edward N. Weller of 165 N. 17th street.
Mr. Harding is head bookkeeper and business accountant for the Sibley Lumber company at Columbia City, near St. Helens.
Mr. and Mrs. Harding left yesterday noon for a tour of the Oregon beaches. Mrs. Harding's going-away outfit was an attractive ensemble in tan.
The couple expect to make their home in St. Helens.

A PRAYER FOR THE OLD COURAGE

Still let us go the way of beauty; go
The way of loveliness; still let us know
Those paths that lead where Pan and Daphne run,
Where roses prosper in the summer sun.

Miss Maureen Styles Announces Betrothal to Robt. Campbell of Portland

A host of friends will be interested in the news of the engagement of Miss Maureen Olive Styles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Styles, to Mr. Robert Campbell of Portland. Mr. Campbell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Campbell, who formerly lived in Salem.

Miss Styles is an unusually attractive member of the younger set, who graduated from the Salem high school with the class of '26. She entered Washington State College at Pullman last fall and was pledged to the Alpha Chi Omega sorority.

Mr. Campbell, who is in the Standard Oil business with his father, is graduate of the Franklin high school in Portland.

Miss Styles is well known for her dramatic ability and starred in a number of plays during her high school days.

The marriage of the couple will be an event of next spring.

Miss Eugenia Savage Thrills Audience With Graduation Recital June 3

Miss Eugenia Savage, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Savage, and artist pupil of Frances Virginia Melton, head of the piano department of Willamette university, established an incontrovertible place for herself among the younger musicians last Friday at Waller Hall when she appeared in senior recital.

Probably the largest audience that has ever assembled for a similar event was present in Waller Hall for the musicale. The stage was decorated with tall baskets of roses, and Miss Savage, the pianist, was showered with floral tributes.

The Beethoven Sonata, with which Miss Savage opened her program, was notable for its clear-cut execution, and its extremely rhythmic presentation.

In Griffes' Nightfall Miss Savage reproduced the mood of the composer admirably. In each beautiful passage, and in each strange chord, her musicianship was superb.

promptly" which the young pianist played, with absolute accuracy in spite of the speed which was furnished, apparently, so effortlessly. The fiery march rhythm was flawless.

Miss Savage played four Chopin preludes with a maturity of style that quite astounded her listeners. No two-piano presentation has ever been heard in Salem that can compare, for sheer musical merit, with the first movement of the MacDowell concerto as played by Miss Savage and Miss Jean Hobson. It was of special interest to the audience that Miss Hobson, who took the orchestral parts, played entirely without her notes. Two encores completed a program in which Greig, Czerny and Debussy numbers were also played with the finesse that never fails this talented performer.

To Miss Frances Virginia Melton goes much credit for Miss Savage's rapid progress. Miss Melton, who has studied with leading musicians of both Europe and America, has had Miss Savage under her tutelage for three years.

Outstanding Social Event of the Week Will Be Tea Honoring Miss Richards

Foremost on the social calendar for the week is the farewell tea which the Town and Gown club will sponsor on Tuesday in honor of Miss Frances M. Richards, who has resigned her position as dean of women at Willamette university and accepted a teaching fellowship in Berkeley. The tea, to which every friend of Miss Richards is invited, will take place at the home of Mrs. E. C. Cross on Chemeketa street.

The hostess organization will be assisted in the receiving and in the serving by Chemeketa chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution and by the Salem branch of the American Association of University Women. Miss Richards was prominent in all of these organizations, and her wide influence in Salem will be hard to replace.

Miss Josephine Albert and Miss Pauline Johnson will receive the guests at the door. In the receiving line will be Miss Richards, the guest of honor, Mrs. E. C. Cross, Mrs. C. P. Blah-op, Mrs. Roy Klein and Mrs. Chester C. Clark. Mrs. George H. Alden will introduce to the line. Assistant hostesses during the afternoon will be Mrs. Russell Catlin, Mrs. E. C. Richards, Miss Margaret Cosper, Mrs. H. T. Love, Mrs. George H. Alden, Mrs. U. G. Shipley, Mrs. C. K. Spaulding, Mrs. Alice H. Dodd, Mrs. George Pearce, Mrs. F. A. Elliott, Mrs. John H. Lauterman, Mrs. Gustav Ebsen, Mrs. Robert J. Hendricks,

During 1927 —will you get "ahead?"

If we think we can't get ahead financially, we never will—that's sure.

But we all can get ahead, if the will is aroused in that direction—and if we persistently hold to it.

The point is this: if one genuinely sets out to save—and "stays with it"—he is certain to arrive. The proof rests in the many thrifty people who actually are traveling that road.
