

The Oregon Statesman

WEATHER FORECAST: Generally cloudy Friday and Saturday, fog or mist near the coast; moderate temperature; moderate northwest and west winds on the coast. Maximum yesterday, 69; minimum, 51; river, 6.1; atmosphere, cloudy; wind, southwest.

A dietary expert says that growing tall depends on the kind and amount of food you eat. In our opinion having six-foot ancestors also helps a little.

SEVENTY-SEVENTH YEAR SALEM, OREGON, FRIDAY MORNING, JUNE 10, 1927 PRICE FIVE CENTS

ENEMY AIRMEN OF DECADE AGO FETE U. S. PAIR

German Aerial Club Members Hosts to Chamberlin and Levine

UNITED WORLD GREETED

Trans-Atlantic Fliers Planning to Accept Invitation of Mussolini to Visit Italy, They Announce

BERLIN, June 9.—(AP)—Most of the living German wartime aces assembled this afternoon in the German aerial club to welcome Clarence D. Chamberlin and Charles A. Levine, American trans-Atlantic fliers, at tea. The pair, accompanied by Ambassador Schurman and Major Von Kohler, president of the club, were escorted to the table of honor, while their 400 hosts jumped to attention and stood silent until the Americans were seated.

Among the notable German air experts gathered to greet them were General Von Haeckel, war time inspector of army aviation; Major Von Parsifal, who carried out Zeppelin's idea of rigid airships; Dr. Koeschel, army surgeon for aviation in the war, and Professor Berson, who for 20 years held the altitude record for balloons.

Many War Heroes

A goodly number of those assembled wore the Iron Cross of the first class—awarded for bravery in battle, as their many scars testified. There was a fair sprinkling of officers still in the service of the reserve wearing field gray uniforms with decorations and a large number of young civilian aviators, contemporaries of the American guests.

After the company had congenially sipped tea and nibbled cakes and biscuits for a half hour Major Von Kohler, first in German, then in English, greeted the fliers. He told them they had united the old and new worlds, thereby proving the truth of the proverb, "Where there's a will there's a way."

He bade on the audience to stand at attention and led the gathering in three staccato hurrahs, barked out with military precision.

Message Sent Wright

Major Kohler then read the text of a cablegram which the club was sending to Orville Wright, saying that the members of the club, together with Chamberlin and Levine sent heartfelt greetings to "the first successful flier in the world."

Amid applause, a girlish enthrallment.

AVIATRIX WANTS TO CROSS OCEAN

THEA RAISCHE, DAREDEVIL FLIER, HOPES FOR CHANCE

Believes She Can Do Anything Man Can, But Lacks Plane and Backing

HAMBURG, Germany, June 9.—(AP)—Thea Raische, Germany's only licensed woman air pilot, is willing to be the first woman to attempt a trans-Atlantic flight, provided somebody gives her an aircraft.

She will start from Hamburg at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in her plane not only to attend the American colony's dinner in Berlin in honor of the American aviators, but especially to discuss with Chamberlin professional questions relating to a trans-Atlantic flight.

"Why should not woman be able to cross the ocean in an airplane just as well as a man?" she asked today in response to the Associated Press correspondent's inquiry as to whether she was ready to make such an attempt. "I don't have the slightest fear—but who will give me a plane?" As to the endurance required, the fraulein said: "Naturally I would have to go in for training, as all my flying has been of the stunt species, but I feel sure that a woman can perform the same feats as a man."

GIRL'S ATTACKER BELIEVED KNOWN

NIGHT VISITOR TO DORIS WILLIAMS' ROOM SOUGHT

Story Of Slashing Letter "K" By Ape-Man Doubted By Detectives

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., June 9.—(AP)—A mysterious midnight visitor to the apartment of Doris Williams, 21, stage actress, and film extra, also known as Doris Dore, was being sought tonight by Hollywood police to whom the actress told a story of having been attacked by an "ape-like" man who slashed seven or more letter "K's" on her body.

The name of the man sought is known, according to the police, and if he is located and questioned the entire mystery may be solved. The police search for the man believed to have paid a call at Miss Williams' apartment was based on questioning of other residents of the apartment house.

Slashing of the letter "K" with a safety razor blade upon the forehead and one hand of Miss Williams was being investigated today by police detectives. The actress with two of the wounds bandaged and the rest treated with iodine, sat in her home relating confusing accounts of an attack by a member of a secret organization who had hounded her across the country.

The attack of an unidentified man with "terrifying long arms" occurred in the early hours today, Miss Dore told the police when she opened her apartment door in response to a knock. She thought the knock was by a friend with whom she quarreled yesterday, who had come to apologize. The man seized her, and despite her struggles held her on the bed with his knee while he carved out the initial on her forehead, chin, breast, hands and arms. When she revived she found herself splashed with blood and the man gone.

Miss Dore, who played a minor role in a stage play here recently before taking screen parts, told the detectives she had been followed from New York City to Denver and then here by a male member of a secret organization. She said two years ago in New York City where she was born, and where she at that time played in "Alma of the South Seas," had signed a paper "in fun" at a party of stage people to become a member of the organization. She was wanted to obtain information concerning members of a race to which the organization was opposed.

(Continued on Page 5.)

IRISH ELECTIONS QUIET

Vote Held But Results Will Not Be Known For Week

DUBLIN, June 9.—(AP)—Today's general elections of the Irish Free State were carried out with only few instances of disorder at the polls, the voting being brisker than in previous elections with the women's vote particularly heavy. A prolonged analysis of the ballots, necessitated by the proportional representation system which is employed, will delay final announcement of the results for almost a week. With 70 per cent of the electorate voting, according to the best estimates, the general indications are that the present government will be returned, despite an extensive campaign waged by candidates of the Eamon De Valera group which is opposed to the present free state constitution.

There were 400 candidates for the 152 Dail seats, the De Valera candidates numbering 115.

OLD TIMERS TO MEET

Special Program Arranged For Gathering On June 19

The third program of the Old Timers' club will be put on at the fair grounds in Salem, Sunday, June 19th. All persons in Oregon for 40 years or more are requested to come.

In order that visiting may be over before the general program, if practical, bring lunch and be on the ground by 10 a. m. Hot coffee, cream, and sugar will be furnished free to all. Light lunches can be bought on the grounds.

GUARD PLANNED FOR LINDBERGH AFTER ARRIVAL

Too Much Enthusiasm Fear Committee Planning for Reception

TROOPS WILL SURROUND

Escort of Soldiers, Sailors and Marines Will Protect Both Air Hero and President From Mob Rush

WASHINGTON, June 9.—(AP)—Fearing that Washington's usually blasé crowds may become over enthusiastic when Lindbergh comes home Saturday, military and police authorities are making elaborate plans for his protection. Should the thousands who will strain against the protecting wires along Pennsylvania avenue break through as the knight of the air passes, cavalry, infantry, artillery, marines and sailors to the number of two thousand will surround his car to fend off the crowds.

Mobs Abroad Endanger

Conditions surrounding his reception here will be materially different from those in France, Belgium and England where he landed on broad flying fields to be almost mobbed by those seeking personally to congratulate him on the feat.

(Continued on Page 2.)

NEWS OF DEATH DELAYED

Clifford W. Brown Drowned Week Ago, Message States

Word of the tragic death of Clifford W. Brown, Salem broker and capitalist, was five days in reaching his friends here, according to the latest news received by wireless Thursday from Brown's widow, which contained the information that the drowning occurred last Friday, June 3, in Wolf creek, 93 miles from the main channel of the Gardner canal.

The excursion party spent four days searching for the body, then left two trappers at the mouth of the river to continue the search before going to the nearest wireless station at Butedale, B. C., it was learned.

Brown and a companion were rowing on Wolf creek when the boat capsized against a submerged rock. Brown was unable to swim to shore.

ALUMNI OF W. U. PLAN FOR MEET

OLD GRADUATES TO RETURN TO THEIR AEMA MATER

Reception in Afternoon and Banquet in Evening to Round Out Program

Plans have been completed for the Willamette university alumni banquet which is an annual event in connection with the commencement exercises each year, and announcement made by Harold Eakin, president of the alumni association, that the banquet will take place in the university gymnasium on Monday, June 13, at 6:30 p. m., and will combine the functions of banquet and business meeting.

Toastmaster for the evening will be Carl Hollingsworth of Portland. Speakers on the program will include Clarence "Leeter" Gillette, coach at Roosevelt high school in Portland; Etna Emmal Olson, recently returned missionary teacher from Bankora, India; Prof. Roy Hewitt of OAC; Frank T. Wrightman of Salem, and Mrs. Nellie Cook Lee, graduate of 50 years ago, from Newberg.

The class of 1927 will be introduced by James Crawford, Portland lawyer, and response for the class will be made by William Walsh, its president.

President Carl Gregg Doney will speak on "Willamette University of the Future."

Musical numbers on the program will include vocal solos by Louise Robertson of Salem and Harold Jory of Everett, Wash. The Alpha Psi Delta orchestra will furnish incidental music during the evening.

Tickets for the banquet may be secured from Lestle Sparks at the university, or from Harold Eakin in the First National bank. It is hoped to begin promptly at 6:30, so that the meeting may not carry too far into the evening.

In the afternoon, before the banquet, at 2:30, a reception will be held.

(Continued on Page 5.)

WOMAN'S BODY IN FIRE

Mystery Surrounds Death of Mrs. Paul F. Lake at Albany

ALBANY, Ore., June 9.—(AP)—The body of Mrs. Paul F. Lake was found in the ruins of her home here by firemen after the building had been destroyed by fire. A gasoline camp stove and coal oil can were beside the body. How the flame started was undetermined.

Mrs. Lake's husband, a contractor, was not at home when the fire started, and no one else was around the place. An inquest probably will be held, Coroner Fisher said.

RUSSIA PLANNING "SHARPER" NOTE

MORE MONARCHISTS ARRESTED IN POLISH CITIES

Voikoff's Assassin Claims He Had No Accomplices; Had Other Plans

WARSAW, POLAND, June 9.—(AP)—The authorities here made further arrests at Bialystok, Grodno, Brestlitovsk and Stenim, mostly members of "Russian monarchist organizations and former officers in Denikins' and Wrangel's armies."

It is considered certain the assassin of M. Voikoff, the Soviet envoy, will be tried before a civil court. The assassin declares that he had no accomplices. He only tried, he explained, to "do his sacred duty as a Russian patriot."

It is reported that while living at Vilna, Voikoff's assailant belonged to the White Russian organization and told friends before leaving that he wanted to go to Russia and kill Stalin and Rykoff and thus hasten the downfall of the Soviet regime.

According to Moscow reports which are not yet confirmed, the Soviet government is preparing to send to Poland a second note much sharper in tone than the first. It is understood that the note says, among other things, that "a great European power is also to be blamed for Voikoff's assassination."

ELKS PLAN FLAG DAY

Parade and Public Service to Be Held Next Tuesday

Flag day, next Tuesday, June 14, will be observed by Salem Lodge No. 336, B. P. O. E., with a parade at 10:30 p. m. followed by the lodge ritual conducted at a public meeting in the lodge temple, it was announced Thursday.

August Huckestein is chairman of the committee in charge. The American Legion drum corps will participate in the parade, and the committee in charge also hopes to have the assistance of the Australian national band, which will be in the city that evening for an engagement at the Capitol theatre.

Judge Harry H. Belt, associate justice of the supreme court, will be the principal speaker at the ritualistic service in the temple auditorium, which will begin at 8:15. Harold H. Eakin will deliver the eulogy to the flag.

The Harmony quartet will play several selections, among them "Proudly as the Eagle" and "The Flag Without a Stain." Lyman McDonald will sing a solo preceding the appearance of the quartet, the members of which are H. I. Pearson, first tenor; E. H. Leach, second tenor; Dr. L. E. Barriek, baritone, and J. J. Moritz, bass.

MORE WORKING CAPITAL NEED OF LINEN MILL

Board of Directors Given Full Power to Secure Operating Money

CONFIDENCE EXPRESSED

Optimistic Note Struck as to Success of Company; Some Returns Now From Goods Market

The called meeting of the stockholders of the Oregon Linen Mills, Inc., was held at the office of the company at the mill yesterday forenoon, with a considerable majority of the stock of the company represented.

The business of the meeting was to discuss ways to provide more working capital, now that the mill is fully equipped in all departments and actually turning out linen manufactures for the markets.

After a general discussion, in which there was a hopeful note, it was decided by unanimous vote, excepting one, to give the board of directors full power to secure up to $150,000 of new money in any way or ways by them deemed best. The one negative vote was not explained.

An Optimistic Note

After Hon. T. B. Kay, president of the company, had spoken of the object of the meeting, and given the progress of the undertaking up to date, Nathan Strauss of Portland, one of the big and keen business executives of the whole country, head of the historic wholesale house of Fleischer, Mayer & Co., Portland, said his concern, in his opinion, was justified in its investment in the stock of the linen mill, even if the con-

(Continued on Page 5.)

ALL CROPS TO BE LIGHT

Flood, Heavy Rainfall and Drought Cut Land Production

WASHINGTON, June 9.—(AP)—Drought and heavy rainfalls in different parts of the important farming regions of the country, combined with cold weather, have been detrimental to farm operations and growing crops.

A decline of approximately 57,000,000 bushels in the indicated winter wheat crop was shown today in the department of agriculture's June crop report which placed the probable production of winter wheat this year, based on June 1 conditions, at 537,001,000 bushels, almost 90,000,000 bushels less than was harvested last year.

Continued rains, the report said, have seriously delayed corn planting in nearly all sections of the corn belt where seeding usually is about completed by June 1. This year up to June 5 only one quarter of the intended acreage had been planted in some sections, one half in other sections and in other areas the planting was much later than usual.

REMINGTON SAVES CHILD

Episcopal Bishop Rescues Little Girl From Umatilla River

PENDLETON, Or., June 9.—(AP)—Caught in the treacherous current of the Umatilla river today while swimming, Martha Isaacson, 10 years old, was rescued in an exhausted condition several hundred yards down the stream by the Right Rev. William P. Remington, bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Eastern Oregon.

Bishop Remington plunged into the water fully clothed when, from his home a block away from the stream, he heard the child cry for help.

BOYS' SINGING PLEASE PEOPLE

EVERY NUMBER ON PROGRAM THOROUGHLY ENJOYED

Youths Have Helped Many; Benefit for Themselves Given at Capitol

Doc Epley's "little sweethearts" were the hit of the evening last night, when the Salem Boy's chorus gave their benefit program at the Capitol theater before a large audience.

Not that it all wasn't good, for it was, every number on the hour's program. But when a little four year old, in all the dignity of long trousers, white shirt and tie, gets so filled with the music in his soul that he can't stand still, one has to laugh. And when the same little fellow sings "Jesus Loves Me," and "Precious Jewels," with all the fervor and flourishes of a trained choir singer, no one can resist him. That was little Donald Bronchusko.

And the other tiny tots did equally well. Harold Stout, 6, and Adelbert Henderson, 5, sang a Japanese love song, in costume. Billy Mudd, 7, and Wayne Gordon, 6, sang a clever and well rendered piece about "The Story-book Ball." And finally Adelbert surprised even Doc Epley himself with a song about Doc's younger days. He held his audience like a professional.

That was the tiny kiddies' group. The rest of the program continued other surprises, mixed as it was with solos, duets, choruses, specialties, and instrumental numbers. It would be hard to name the best ones. Victor Wolfe's vocal solos, "My Gypsy Love," and "On the Shore" brought out a basso voice rich in promise for the future. The duet sung by Earl and Irwin Potter, "Perfect Day,"

(Continued on Page 5.)

FLOOD WARNING ISSUED

Texas Basin to Have New Rise; Water Lower Elsewhere

NEW ORLEANS, La., June 9.—(AP)—With the flood crest virtually stationary in the lower Atchafalaya river basin and falling elsewhere in Louisiana, the upper Texas basin in the northeastern part of the state was warned today that the new flood on the Mississippi will cause a slight rise at the Sabine Teale and Winter Quarter crevasses.

Meager reports received by the American Red Cross from the newly flooded sections of Arkansas, Missouri and Illinois indicated that the situation there was unchanged.

Disaster relief headquarters announced that it was feeding 1560 families in the vicinity of Blytheville, Ark., and that additional hundreds were being provided for in Missouri and Illinois. Reports previously issued that there would be 11,000 refugees around Blytheville were said to have been exaggerated. No substantial rise in the Big Lake area is anticipated.

SALEM FOLDERS MAILED

Advertising and Information Matter Sent for Tourist Use

The Salem Chamber of Commerce is sending out to all stations of the AAA from Los Angeles to British Columbia, and to auto camps throughout the same region a supply of the "Trail 'Em to Salem" folder. This contains the new 1927 Oregon highway map on one side and on the other a variety of information to tourists about Oregon's capital city. These folders were mailed to 64 such addresses Thursday.

The chamber of commerce has received a new wall map issued by the highway department, showing the newly completed highways in the state, as well as those that are proposed.

AUSTRALIANS CONFER

Visitors Investigate Highway Construction in Oregon

P. A. Gourgaud and Thomas Hill, representing the government of Australia, were in Salem yesterday conferring with officials of the state highway department with relation to road construction in this state. They will confer with officials of highway departments of other states before returning to their homes.

Mr. Gourgaud is secretary to the minister of works and railways while Mr. Hill is chief engineer for the department of commonwealth works and railways. Both men are residents of Melbourne.

DE AUTREMONT JURY SELECTED CASE ON TODAY

129 Veniremen Excused Before Twelve Finally Selected for Trial

BROTHERS ARRAIGNED

Ray and Roy Held Without Bond as Fugitives From Justice; Waive Extradition; Rewards Now Awaited

COURTHOUSE, Jacksonville, Ore., June 9.—(AP)—A jury was selected this afternoon at 3:35 o'clock in the retrial of Hugh DeAutremont charged with the murder of Charles O. (Coyle) Johnson during the Siskiyou tunnel train robbery in 1923 after four days of examination and 129 veniremen had been excused by court and counsel.

The jury as selected is as follows: Thomas Farlow, Lake Creek, rancher.

R. A. Weidman, Eagle Point, dairyman.

M. J. Kearney, Central Point, orchardist.

R. S. Daniels, Medford, electrical engineer.

Henry W. Frame, Phoenix, farmer.

L. O. Norcross, Ashland, land-lord.

Paul W. Martin, Central Point, farmer.

Earl W. Weaver, Central Point, merchant.

W. W. Hittle, Gold Hill, farmer.

Frank Nutter, Ashland, farmer.

Fred P. Dutton, Medford, farmer.

Wm. F. Darby, Ashland, laborer.

Adjourn to Morning

Court adjourned with the selection of the jury until tomorrow morning, to give the jurors an opportunity to make arrangements for the long siege before them.

The opening statement of the defense will be made by Attorney Fred L. Smith, chief counsel of Eugene, Ore., and the opening statement by Special Prosecutor George M. Roberts for the state, as in the first trial.

Before the jury was accepted by the court, United States District Attorney George Neuner of Portland proposed that an alternate juror be chosen by stipulation between counsel. The defense, however, refused this upon the ground no provision was made for it under the Oregon law.

Held Without Bond

STUEBENVILLE, Ohio, June 9.—(AP)—Ray and Roy DeAutremont, arrested here last night for

(Continued on page 6.)

CAPTURED TWINS TO BE RETURNED

NEWS OF ARREST PLEASES FEDERAL AGENTS HERE

Change Of Venue Likely, Belief; Pair May Be Brought To Portland

PORTLAND, June 9.—(AP)—Federal agents here today all expressed gratification that Ray and Roy DeAutremont, alleged Siskiyou mountain bandit-slayers, had been captured in Ohio, bringing to an end the unceasing search since the crime was committed in 1923.

