

BRITISH GOLFERS ENTER FOR TITLE

NEW YORK, June 11.—(AP) American supremacy on the links, which reached its crest last year in sweeping British victories by Bobby Jones and Jess Sweetser, will be subjected to its most threatening challenge since 1926 in the American open championship at Oakmont, Pa., June 14, 15 and 16.

In places in the starting field already have been set aside for a band of British professionals whose invasion has the double objective of successfully defending the Ryder team trophy against an American team and of lifting the most coveted of American link titles. One invader, the powerful hitting veteran, Ted Ray, is a former American open champion.

Of the many scattering attempts which foreign stars have made to penetrate the home defenses, only two have been successful. Ray's triumph seven years ago was the last, terminating a 20-year stretch during which no European player was able to break through. The other victory in 1909 was posted by the great English stylist, Harry Vardon.

The success of British forces in these two campaigns, however, was pronounced, for on both occasions opponents finished in the run-up positions. J. H. Taylor of England was second to Vardon in 1909, two strokes behind the winner's score of 313, while Vardon tied three America players for second place in 1920.

There was one other notable British invasion in 1913 by Vardon and Ray, when the two famous overseas players finished in a tie with Francis Ouimet, then a young Boston amateur, for first place. To the surprise of critics and a large gallery, Ouimet then proceeded to win the subsequent play-off, shooting 72 to 77 for Vardon and 78 for Ray.

Contrasting with the record of British professionals on this side of the Atlantic has been the amazing success of American players abroad in recent years, links stars from this country having won five of the last six British open tournaments.

Jack Hutchinson, first to break through in 1921 set the pace for Walter Hagen, who scored in 1922 and 1924. Jim Barnes followed suit in 1925, while Bobby Jones annexed the crown last year.

WEST SALEM LOSES TO SPRING VALLEY

WEST SALEM, June 11.—(Special)—In an exciting game played with hitting and other thrills, Spring Valley defeated West Salem 17 to 16 in a game which was a feature of the Strawberry festival held here today. Other diversions included a series of races and contests in the afternoon, and a program of speaking and music in the evening.

The ball game was interesting from the start. Spring Valley led up to the seventh inning despite the scoring of seven runs by West

AGGIES' ATHLETIC YEAR SUCCESSFUL

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, June 11.—The Oregon Aggies have just closed what is considered one of the most successful years in the athletic history of O. A. C., having won honors in practically all sports.

The football season was undoubtedly the best in history, according to those who have followed the destinies of the Orangenemen for any great while. Nationally the Aggies placed first in defense and tenth in offense at the same time tying with Washington State college for the championship of the northwest. The Orangenemen lost only one game out of eight starts.

In basketball Coach Bob Hager was handicapped early in the season on account of inexperienced material but as the season progressed the Orangenemen made it tough for all opponents. The final game of the year against University of Washington was won by the Aggies thus eliminating the Huskies from a chance at the northwest championship. Hager's men played 25 games during the season winning 14 of them. Five games were lost by the slim margin of one point.

Baseball under the coaching of Ralph Coleman, one time pitcher for the Portland Beavers, had a most successful season. The Aggies won the championship of the western section of the northern division of the Pacific coast conference and forced Washington State college to a third game to decide the champions of the northern division. O. A. C. placing on the top of the league was considered exceptional as Coleman was faced all season with the problem of having only one first class pitcher.

Coach Dad Butler's trackmen had the best season in ten years. The Orangenemen started out by winning laurels at the Kansas and Drake relays then fought University of Washington for every point in the dual meet at Corvallis. The annual meet with University of Oregon was an overwhelming victory for the Orangenemen. The Aggies placed second in the northern division conference meet and tied University of California for fourth place in the Pacific coast intercollegiate at Los Angeles where 15 colleges were in competition. Dad Butler's men captured 26 points in this meet compared with five made in the meet last year. For individual honors Jim Dixon and Melvin Whitlock broke the northwest records in the shot put and javelin.

In minor sports—cross country, swimming, and tennis—the Aggies had an exceptionally good year. University of Oregon was defeated in the annual cross country race and in both swimming engagements. In tennis the Beavers won three and lost four matches.

More interest has been shown in intramural sports and gymnasium work such as fencing, boxing, wrestling, and tumbling than in any other year in the history of the college. The college slogan

"Every man an athlete" was well lived up to.

SCHOLASTIC AVERAGE HIGH

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, June 11.—Kenneth "Red" Denman of Corvallis, with a scholastic average of 91, won the Warren trophy for the football letterman making the highest scholastic average in three terms of this school year. Denman who has just been graduated played halfback for the Aggies. Lawyer of Central church.

EARL SANDE TAKES THREE GREAT RACES

NEW YORK, June 11.—(AP) Joseph E. Widener's great bay three year old, Chance Shot, today won the classic Belmont stakes, rich in gold and tradition.

In a stirring gallop of a mile and a half against the leading colts of east and west, the brilliant son of Fair Play finished first by a length and a half. His run netted his owner $60,910.

It was a great day for Earl Sande. The master jockey not only booted home Chance Shot in the Belmont, but rode the winner of the $25,000 stallion stakes, supplementary feature of the closing day of Belmont park.

An extra race, "The Lindbergs" in honor of the flyer, gave Sande an opportunity to top off his day with a third victory, and he did it riding another Widener entry, Royal Play.

Spats Take Back Seat in World of Fashion

LONDON.—(AP) Spats have taken a back seat in the world of fashion for the moment.

In fact, London has become almost a spatsless town, and dealers are a loss to account for the sudden demise of the short gaiter which has been popular here for years. One report says the king does not care for spats as much as formerly and also that the Prince of Wales has not worn them regularly of late, all of which has affected the market perceptibly.

Opera hats, too, are on the wane, the real bloods considering them altogether too common, the silk hat being the better thing for the up-to-the-minute dressers. Gloves are not quite as popular as formerly either.

Study of Traffic Begun in Cities by Committee

Dr. Dexter S. Kimball, president of the American Engineering Council and dean of the Cornell School of Engineering, says a study of traffic conditions in 250 cities has been started by a special committee of the council. This committee will, after the study, recommend national standards that will simplify the driving of automobiles and improve street and highway conditions. Confusion now results from variance in traffic rules, and to make rules uniform is the chief object of the movement.—Motor Chat.
