

DENTAL UNIT WORK WILL BE CONTINUED

Over 8,000 Children Have Taken Dental Examinations, Says Report

The Marion county dental unit will continue its work of dental inspection and dental education among school children of the county, and the work will be carried to other counties and communities desiring it, as a result of the success of the experimentation here during the last year, according to a report made Friday night by Dr. Estill L. Brunk, dentist for the unit, to the joint committee representing the State Board of Dental Examiners and the Marion County Dental association.

Over 8000 children in the county have been given dental examinations during the year, and out of the 127 public schools in the county, 100 of them have been visited and over 120 class room demonstrations given on care of the teeth.

Meeting have been held with community groups in all parts of the county, and talks given on preventive dentistry, Dr. Brunk said. Dental clinics have been established in Salem and Silverton, and local dentists have cooperated in giving their time in these clinics.

Dr. Brunk reported that Marion county has 38 dentists, this number being more than that in any other county in the state except Multnomah. Out of this except 25 have reported on the number of children coming to them for corrective work as a result of the examination given by Dr. Brunk or in the clinics. About 55 per cent of the children found in need of work have been reported cared for, and probably a much larger number have actually gone to dentists, but have not all been reported.

As a result of the reports given, the state board of dental examiners has set aside an appropriation for the extension of the work to other sections of the state, with headquarters in Salem. Dr. Brunk was tentatively chosen to take charge of the work in the state, going into those counties where local health organizations expressed their willingness to cooperate in dental health work. Several counties have already expressed their desire to have such a program carried out.

Members of the joint committee are Dr. Geo. C. McCord, Baker; Dr. W. D. McMillan, Portland, secretary; Dr. E. T. Heidund, Portland, president; Dr. W. W. Walker, Grants Pass; Dr. Carl E. Miller, Salem, all of the state dental board, and Dr. W. H. Brown, Salem, representing the Marion county health demonstration; Dr. W. A. Johnson, Salem; Dr. Albert Woodmansee, Silverton; Dr. Fred Ellis, Salem, and Dr. L. E. Barwick, Salem.

Dr. Walter H. Brown, head of the Marion county health demonstration office was re-elected secretary of the joint committee. Dr. Fred Ellis and Dr. Carl Miller were also re-elected as members of the executive committee of the Marion county dental unit, with Dr. Brown, Dr. Miller is chairman of the committee.

12 Reasons Why You Should Install an Austin

it's better .. it's different

(1) Large Clean-out Door No hinges, no bolts, simplifies cleaning of flues.

(2) Upper Front Panel Slips in place without bolts. No cement, no leakage of gas. Throat of feed section extends through front panel.

(3) Large Feed Door Easy to fire. "Hot Blast" construction gives perfect combustion. All doors in AUSTIN Furnaces are surface ground.

(4) Large Humidifier Insures moist, comfortable, healthful atmosphere.

(5) Lower Front Panel Held in place without bolts. No cement, no leakage of gas. Ash pit extends through panel eliminating possibility of dust entering air circulating system.

(6) Ash Pit Door Extra large to facilitate removal of ashes. Ash pit and ash door surface ground insuring tight joints.

(7) Large Radiator Made in two parts of equal thickness, insuring smooth casting, inside and out.

(8) Combustion Chamber Extra heavy. High with straight side, giving great radiating surface.

(9) Large Combination Fire Box Can be used for burning wood, briquets or coal.

(10) Casing Extra Large Insuring an ample supply of warm air. Double constructed. Lined on inside with bright corrugated tin and asbestos.

(11) Extra Deep Ash Pit One Piece Depth reduces danger of burning out grates due to accumulation of ashes. Ash pit section extends through front panel. Impossible for fine ashes to sift through into air circulating system.

(12) Hinges and Catches Bolted All door hinges and door catches are bolted to frame. Should one become broken it will not be necessary to replace complete front of furnace.

Douglas County Pioneer Monument

Dedication on Cabin Creek, a Mile North of Oakland, Next Sunday

Douglas county pioneers and other residents, as well as people all over Oregon, will be interested in the pioneer monument that is to be dedicated at 2 p. m. on Sunday next, on Bear creek a mile north of Oakland.

A cut of the monument appears herewith. Supreme Judge George M. Brown, born in Douglas county and one of the best known men of southern Oregon, will deliver the chief address. Oliver Huston, a great grandson, will represent the family. A daughter of Rev. A. J. Cornwall, who was two years old when the family wintered on Cabin creek, will unveil the monument. There will be a state traffic officer present to help in handling the crowds.

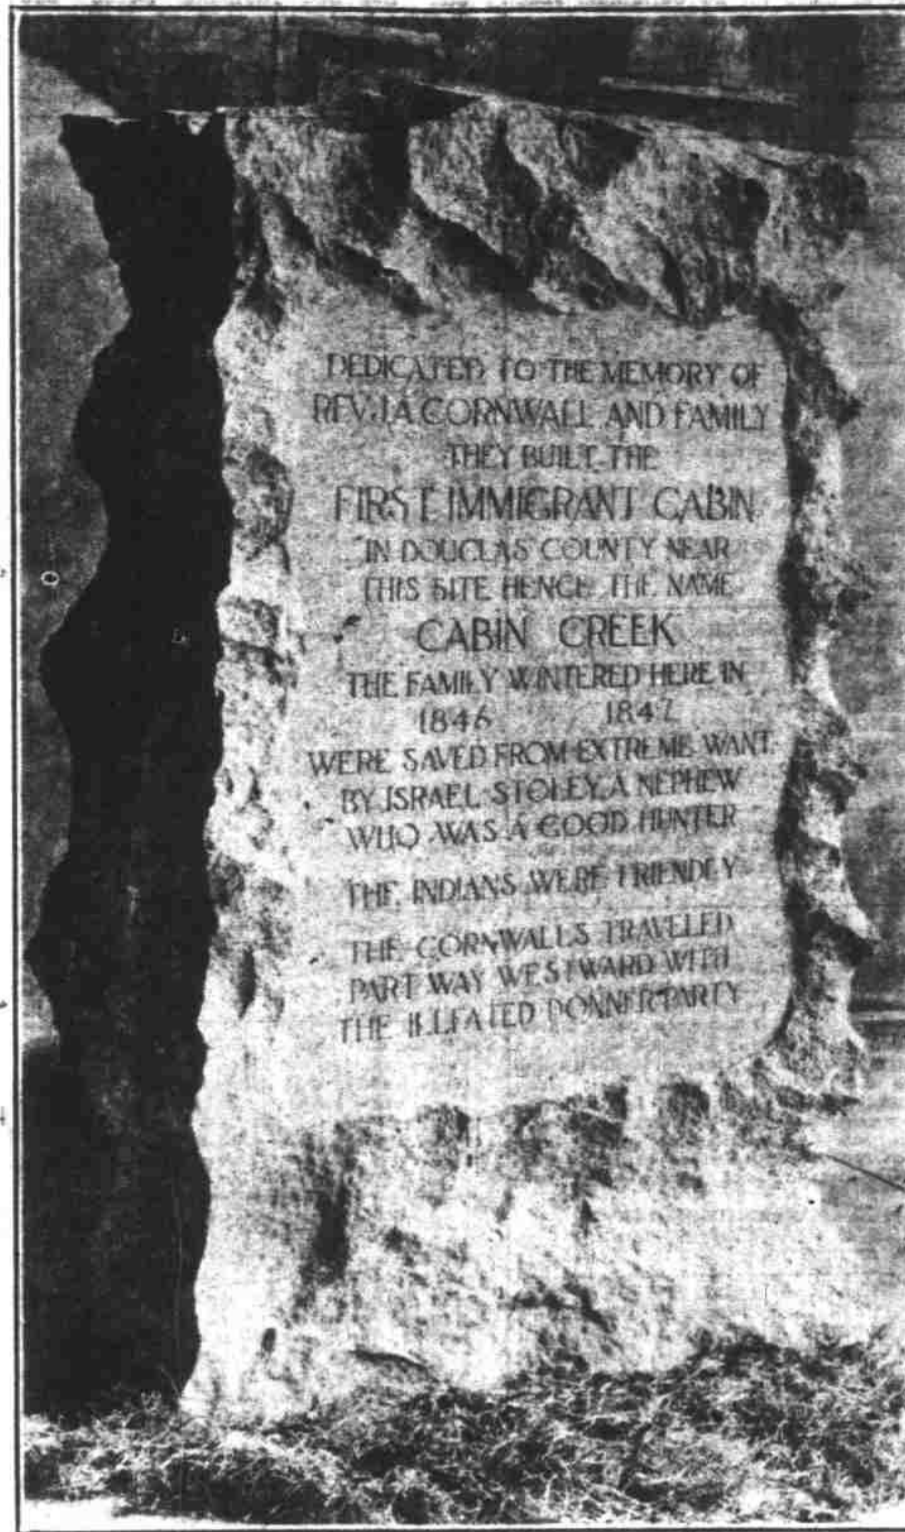

Word on Monument

The wording on the monument explains the appropriateness of its erection and dedication, as follows: "Dedicated to the memory of Rev. J. A. Cornwall and family. They built the first emigrant cabin in Douglas county near this site, hence the name, Cabin creek. The family wintered here in 1846-1847. Were saved from extreme want by Israel Stoley, a nephew, who was a good hunter. The Indians were friendly. The Cornwalls traveled part way westward with the ill-fated Donner party."

The Inspiration

The monument is of granite, six and a half feet high, on a sandstone foundation. The inspiration for its erection came from Lafe P. Manning, Gresham, Oregon, president of the Douglas county association, now numbering about 500 members, 700 of them living in Portland—former residents of Douglas county. That is a neighboring county, and has ever been. Any one who has ever lived in Douglas county has this neighborly spirit. Hence the large number of former residents who have banded themselves together to perpetuate the memories of their old associations.

The roll of members makes up a fine cross section of the best people of Oregon.

DEDICATED TO THE MEMORY OF REV. J. A. CORNWALL AND FAMILY THEY BUILT THE FIRST IMMIGRANT CABIN IN DOUGLAS COUNTY NEAR THIS SITE HENCE THE NAME CABIN CREEK THE FAMILY WINTERED HERE IN 1846-1847 WERE SAVED FROM EXTREME WANT BY ISRAEL STOLEY, A NEPHEW WHO WAS A GOOD HUNTER THE INDIANS WERE FRIENDLY THE CORNWALLS TRAVELED PART WAY WESTWARD WITH THE ILL-FATED DONNER PARTY

Capt. N. J. Cornwall, 2230 Chapel street, Berkeley, Cal., a son of the pioneer, but who was born after the historical winter, has been one of the moving spirits in providing the means for the monument. He gives Mr. Manning credit for having originated the idea that has made the dedication possible. Capt. Cornwall formerly operated boats between the mouth of the Umpqua to San Francisco and other coast points. He is now retired.

Lease of the plant, according to the complaint, was made on the basis of tonnage handled as follows: One dollar per ton for dried fruit packed, handled or sold from the plant; $2.50 per ton for fruit and vegetables put through the evaporator; 15 cents a case for all fruits and vegetables canned up to 25,000 cases; 12½ cents a case in excess of 25,000 cases, and 10 cents a case in excess of 50,000 cases. Other rentals paid for the plant during the year brought the total up to $9,225.12.

MASONS CELEBRATE

75TH ANNIVERSARY OF LODGE HERE OBSERVED

Salem lodge No. 4, Masons, Monday night celebrated the 75th anniversary of the granting of its charter. Members of the lodge from Marion, Polk, Linn, Yamhill, Benton and Lane counties were in attendance.

The address of welcome was given by Governor Patterson, a member of the Masonic order. Edgar H. Sensenich, grand master of the Grand Lodge of Oregon, gave the response. Lot L. Pierce, past grand master, gave a historic review of Salem lodge, while J. D. Ferguson of Astoria gave an address, "The Quenchless Light and the Undying Fire." Music was furnished by an orchestra. A banquet followed.

There were six charter members of Salem lodge. They included A. M. Belt, John Howell, John W. Kalfas, A. W. Ferguson, F. Wayne and A. B. Carter. D. R. E. Bailey was the first candidate to receive all three degrees from the Salem lodge.

CO. B TO LEAVE EARLY WEDNESDAY FOR CAMP

4:45—Formal guard mount. 10 p. m.—Taps.

In addition to all this training for the possible future national defense, the guardsmen will encounter some other features of army life which are of importance in peace time, and one of these is the matter of personal hygiene. The annual encampment pays much more attention to this subject than it did formerly, and in Company B, at least, the older members see to it that the lesson is well learned.

The encampment this year is being held for the first time at the Clatsop beach, where the men will have the opportunity for sea bathing; but strict rules prohibit any swimming except under supervision, so that there will be no danger of drownings.

Other guard units that will leave Salem are Headquarters company, 249th Coast artillery, with 33 enlisted men under the command of Captain Clifton N. Irwin; and the medical detachment of the 249th, twelve men, in command of Captain J. H. Garajobst. The artillery regiment will train at Fort Stevens. Captain Irwin left Sunday with an advance detachment.

Mrs. Burton Advises Women on Motherhood and Companionship

"For several years I was denied the blessing of motherhood," writes Mrs. Margaret Burton of Kansas City. "I was terribly nervous and subject to periods of terrible suffering and melancholia. Now I am the proud mother of a beautiful little daughter and a true companion and inspiration to my husband. I believe hundreds of other women would like to know the secret of my happiness, and I will gladly reveal it to any married woman who will write me." Mrs. Burton offers her advice entirely without charge. She has nothing to sell. Letters should be addressed to Mrs. Margaret Burton, 8029 Massachusetts, Kansas City, Mo.
