Normal Graduating Class Sets Record

Many Alumni Attend Annual Commencement Exercises

OREGON NORMAL SCHOOL, Monmouth, Ore., June 17.—(Special)—The largest graduating class in the history of the Monmouth normal school received diplomas Wednesday morning in the chapel before an audience which overflowed into the hallways. Besides the friends and relatives of the graduates many alumni members remained in Monmouth following their annual reunion in order to attend another commencement exercise of their alma mater.

Dr. E. O. Holland, president of the Washington State college at Pullman, gave an inspiring address. The graduates entered the chapel to the strains of the Processional played by the normal orchestra. Invocation was given by Rev. L. H. Willard, which was followed by three numbers by the McDowell club.

Dr. Holland took as his topic, "The Trained Leader and His Obligations to Society" and gave his audience a splendid address.

Mrs. Landers sang two delightful numbers, "Life," by Curran, and "Take Joy Home" by Basset.

President J. S. Landers presented the diplomas to the class, and the benediction was given by Rev. I. W. Cabeen.

Governor Patterson, Superintendent of Public Instruction C. A. Howard, and other members of the board of regents of normal schools attended the exercises.

ELK LAKE SELECTED FOR CAMP OF YMCA

Site Is in Mountains 12 Miles Above Detroit; Permission Secured

Elk Lake, in the mountains 12 miles above Detroit, will be the location for this year's YMCA boys' camp, leaders of boys' work at the local Y decided yesterday, after a trip of inspection of the location had been made Wednesday by Loyal Warner, boys' work secretary, Harvey Brock and Amos Hitt.

Permission to use the site, which is in the Mt. Hood national forest, has already been secured from government officials. A level space covering about 25 acres at one of the lakes will be an ideal location for a camp, with a fresh water spring, ample provision for tents and a large play-field, the three declared.

The lake itself is about three quarters of a mile long, and a quarter mile wide, with clear water, and is little bothered with mosquitoes. It is almost entirely surrounded by timbered mountain slopes, and is twelve miles by trail from Detroit.

Game and fish are plentiful, Warner reports. If the campsite proves satisfactory it is hoped that permanent cabins will be built, and the site made a permanent YMCA summer camp.

Thirty-two boys have already registered for the camp, which will be held from August 1 to 15. The limit has been set for 60 boys. Any boy over 22 years of age may register.

The camp will be conducted under the direction of Bob Boardman and Loyal Warner, local Y leaders. Others who will assist at the camp will be J. B. Cray, cook, who has been camp dietitian for several years past; and Chief Bent, disciplinarian at the Chemawa school, who is a full-blood Sioux and a Carlisle graduate. Bent will have charge of camp activities.

Activities at the camp this summer will include courses in archery, under Chief Bent, totem pole making, under a full-blood Winnebago Indian, nature study, life saving, and swimming, first aid, photography, and Bible study. A number of hikes will be taken to nearby points of interest, including Battleneze Butte, which rises 800 feet above the lake, and has snow on one side all year.

Within easy hiking distance are ten lakes, all of them declared to be good fishing. A mine which is in operation six miles from the camp will also be visited.

Ample provision is being made for the safety of the boys who go to camp, and horses will be kept at the lake for emergency trips out to Detroit, where contact may be had with either the highway or railroad, according to Warner.

LOOKS BETTER FOR STRAWBERRY CROP

Water at Portland Will Remain Nearly Stationary for Several Days

The Associated Press at Portland sent the following special to The Statesman last night:

"The lower Columbia and the Willamette at Portland will remain stationary for several days, but may rise later if hot weather sets in over the upper portion of the drainage basin."

The above would indicate that the danger of a serious flooding of the basements of the cold storage houses in Portland, along the water front, has grown less acute—and in fact will likely pass entirely, unless there shall follow soon a period of very hot weather in the upper reaches of the Columbia drainage basin, melting the deep mountain snows.

In this case, the shortage of storage space for freezing barreled strawberries will not be so acute as it might have been with flooded basements of the cold storage warehouses there.

The Willamette river at Salem is falling, indicating very slow melting of snows on the western slopes of the Cascades.

Activities at the camp this summer will include courses in archery, under Chief Bent, totem pole making, under a full-blood Winnebago Indian, nature study,

SOUTH SALEM MEN FORM ORGANIZATION

New Club Devoted to District's Interests; Social, Mental, Religious

An earnest group of men representing the Leslie M. E. church and the Friends church of South Salem met in the dining room of the former church Wednesday evening, June 15, to complete the organization of the South Salem Men's club. The object of the club is to advance the interests of South Salem in a social, moral and religious sense through the men of this section.

A bountiful dinner, ending with strawberry short cake, ministered to the department of the interior, then Dr. Cause brought to the group an instructive and inspirational address setting before them the work that can be done through organized men, and the strategic importance of the great northwest as we look into the future 25 to 50 years.

The central states may be that part of the world where the great fortunes are to be amassed at that time, but the great northwest is destined to be the center from which will radiate the intellectual and spiritual forces in the coming years.

Salem is located in the very heart of the great northwest and the men of Salem should be alert and ready to meet the situation

Pacific Ocean Flight Will Be Made in July

WASHINGTON, June 17.—(AP)—An attempt to span the Pacific ocean between San Francisco and Honolulu will be made by the army corps if success marks final tests being given the giant Fokker transport plane selected for the hop.

The 2,360 mile flight would be made late in July, with Lieutenants Lester Maitland, army racer, and Albert F. Hegenberger, pilot-in-charge.

This was announced today by Assistant Secretary Davison in charge of the army's air activities, when the Fokker plane, en route to the west coast from Dayton, Ohio, to complete its tests, stirred up rumors that it would attempt a flight to the islands.

Plans for the hop, it was disclosed, have been held in secret for some months with the intention of keeping them confidential until everything was in readiness.
