

SIDE LIGHTS OF THE STAGE and SCREEN

Elsinore Theater
Fast moving, cleverly titled, admirably cast and splendidly directed, "Cradle Snatchers," Fox Films prominently funny farce, shows at the Elsinore today and Monday.

It is a sermon in laughs for deceiving husbands and a lesson that many will take to heart when they see this picture. But while it delivers a sermon, first, last and always it is an entertainment pure and simple.

The story is quickly told, but not the dozens of rich provoking episodes. Briefly three wives discover that when their husbands go they go duck hunting they tell only half the truth. They go further, but not for ducks, but for chickens—blonde, brunette and red heads. And the wives to teach them a lesson hire three college boys to act as their Romeo—a dark romantic Spaniard born in Brooklyn, a blonde Viking very shy, and one who is strictly business.

That is the gist of the plot that furnishes the fun, that kept the audience shouting with laughter.

When a pretty girl makes up her mind—any man, even a father, had better agree to agree with her.

When Margaret Shorey, who answers both qualifications of being pretty and having a determined mind, decided to go on the stage, it was a thunderbolt to a family that had always been content to stay on the public side of the footlights.

Miss Shorey's family was originally from Milwaukee and came to California when she was a child. As she grew older, the stage was her ambition. The family didn't readily agree and she ran away, and, according to the best Almer traditions, was successful. She is the feminine half of the team of Pepito and Rosita, featured in Fanchon and Marco's All-Baba-Ida at the Elsinore theater today and Monday. She is a charming soprano if ever there was one, and she really speaks Spanish like a Castilian.

"When I was home," says Miss Shorey, "I never thought of the movies. There seemed to be so many pretty girls from all over the world in Hollywood that it seemed almost impossible for another person to break in. But lately I've been interested in the idea of trying the movies. At first I liked traveling around the country so much I preferred the stage, but now I'm anxious just to see what I could do before the camera."

If beauty is the key to unlock the film fame door, it is predicted that Miss Shorey stands a wonderful chance of some day being seen the world over in film dramas.

A notable incident in the Elsinore theater is the appearance of Otis Skinner on June 22.

Mr. Skinner is again under the Charles Frohman engagement and will present his greatest success, "The Honor of the Family" in which this eminent actor will essay the part of Philippe Bridau, an unusually interesting stage personality, a blustering sort of a soldier, who however, has the virtue of courage to sustain it, and who is presented in a series of most unusually graphic and dramatic situations. The Charles Frohman office has surrounded Mr. Skinner with an unusually strong cast.

Oregon Theater
If you like Jetta Goudal on the screen, you usually rave about her. If you are one of those who don't appreciate the exotic, the distinctive, the "different," but are open to conviction you will probably join the rapidly growing legion of Goudal enthusiasts when you see the emotional Jetta in "Fighting Love," her latest starring vehicle, which shows at the Oregon theater today and tomorrow.

"Fighting Love" is one of the most stimulating stories of that prolific and popular writer of best-sellers, Rosita Forbes. Action, colorful and exciting that takes in a wide range of territory, from the erotic atmosphere of Italy to the exotic environment of the Orient; intrigue, romance and high adventure, make this one of the really noteworthy pictures of the season. There is real drama in the story, genuine suspense in the building up of the sequences, and a vivid characterization by the magnetic Miss Goudal that lifts this photodrama into the higher realm of screen art.

Victor Varconi, Henry Wallhall and Louis Natheaux are the leading members of an exceptional cast.

Now that "Bill" Rogers has been elected Mayor of Hollywood considerable conjecture is evinced as to what will be in store for Dallas Walker, known as the female "Bill" Rogers, a former star of the movies along with Jimmie Aubrey of the Vitagraph and Pearl White in the "Wallingford" series, she with her sister Helene who was the winner in the New York Daily Mirror's beauty contest are known as the "Girls from Hollywood" and are one of the feature attractions on the bill opening today at the Capitol, the other feature is "Sunflower Kisses" a quintette of jolly boys assisted by Hazel Leona in a melange of song, dance and music. A third feature who is also a Broadway favorite is Eddie Innis "The Personality Kid" who was understood for Eddie Cantor in an act written by the famous Cantor. Charles Kenna presents his original character "The Street Fakir" which is just bubbling over with bright comedy and satirical fun. The bill is completed by the Viking Brothers "Novelty Gymnasts" in a pleasing vaudeville turn displaying agile feats of skill and ability in acrobatics.

On the screen Hoot Gibson in "Prairie King."

Hopewell Boy Scouts Declare Open Season

"Ole Swimm'n' Hole" Attracts; Goat Gets Needed Rest

HOPEWELL, June 18.—Miss Julia Bosshardt has a position in Salem, which she took the last of the week.

Mrs. H. A. DeWett and children, Miss Alice and Master Theodore, were in Portland to see Rosaria Thursday and Friday.

Miss Siama Puumala is employed in a restaurant in Amity. Mr. Harris' niece of Portland, Miss Irene Harris, is here to help him in the store.

The Boy Scouts met for their occasional big time Thursday evening at which time the "ole swimm'n' hole" was officially opened for business. The water was fine and was almost up to the capacity of the dam. It will be entirely filled in a few days. After a few riles in the water, refreshments were served, consisting of "hot dogs" and coffee. Several bonfires were built, and the gang enjoyed the water until a late hour. One visitor was present who was afraid of the goat, so his initiation was delayed until a later date. The goat was released for a few days to get much needed refreshments. His name is "Sweet William." A baseball team was organized by the scouts, with Elmer Wood as captain.

The Lily patrol, Campfire Girls of Hopewell, went on their weekly hike in an auto Friday, their destination being "somewhere on the Willamette." They had a very fine time, with lots of refreshments, consisting of strawberries and cream and cake. A very enjoyable time was had by all, as there was a scarcity of snakes and mice were just simply not. They are planning the organization of a baseball team soon. The patrol went swimming after the meeting was finished.

Several of the young people, and some of the older young ones as well, met at the parsonage Friday evening for a social hour, and to make plans for C. E. work during July.

Master Lee McKinley is employed on the ranch of Mr. Denham.

Cherry harvest will soon be on in full blast, with a very good crop, and likely a scarcity of pickers.

Mr. Velle is improving his property by the addition of a new barn.

The Hopewell ball team is busy practicing at every opportunity these days. They are victors in nearly every game they play. Kimmie is the pitcher, who knows his ball—as the many hitless innings pitched will testify.

ELECTRO-COLD Wins by Comparison

ELECTRO-KOLD The Simplest Electric Refrigerator

Electro-Kold equipped home of Vincent Palmer, Los Angeles.

Have you noticed that careful purchasers of Refrigeration machinery nearly always select Electro Kold. They do and there are many reasons why. Electro Kold always satisfies those who really know what a refrigeration machine should be. For these reasons Electro Kold is being used in the majority of Pacific Coast apartment houses as well as in stores, restaurants, hotels and fine homes. During the past year this store installed nearly eighty Electro Kolds. In this number are included the Glendora, Sundberg, Olympia, Demogalla and Stratten apartments and many homes.

Electro Kold is a thoroughly tried and tested machine. Electro Kold refrigeration is the new method of food preservation. Food may be kept many times longer than under the older methods of refrigeration. For example milk may be kept over a week in the hottest weather. This makes for economy of quality buying as well as convenience. The deserts freezing feature, etc., as well as salads and ice cubes may be frozen in large quantities. Yet such Electro Kold Refrigeration is much cheaper than ice refrigeration that in a few years you can actually save the cost of the machine. Three cents a day will run the ordinary home size.

If you have a good refrigerator now we can install an Electro Kold machine in it, placing the compressor unit in the basement or any convenient place, or you may trade in your old refrigerator as part payment on an Electro Kold. Be sure to see Electro Kold at once. No more costly than ordinary refrigeration machines. Let us show you why it is better.
