White Shrine of Jerusalem Conducts Ceremonial

Willamette Shrine No. 2 conducted a beautiful ceremonial on Monday evening in the Masonic temple when Mrs. Merle Stewart was presented with the degree of the Order of the White Shrine of Jerusalem. The recently elected officers of the organization, led by Mrs. Winifred Herriek, worthy high priestess, led the ceremonial for the first time last night.

A special feature of the music which added to the beauty of last night's ceremonial was the song, "Open the Gates," said by Mrs. Percy Cupper. Vocal duets were also given by Mrs. Cupper and Mrs. Rose Babcock. Mrs. Gladys Adams served as pianist.

A color plan of yellow and white, the colors of the Shrine, were used in the ceremonial rooms and also in the dining room, where covers were laid for 75 members for the banquet which followed the ceremonial. Yellow and white daisies in large baskets centered the banquet tables.

In charge of the banquet were Mrs. Nellie Taylor, chairman; Ida Babcock, Elizabeth Shafer, Hettie Krickenbaum, Myrtle Pierson and Leila Johnson.

The 75th anniversary of the organization of the First Congregational church in Salem will be celebrated Sunday, June 26, with an all-day service. U. S. NOT TO RELENT NAVAL PARLEY PLAN

As any low limitation scheme would undoubtedly involve the scrapping of American destroyers because of their superior numbers the head of the Japanese delegation declared that by the transfer of destroyer tonnage American cruiser power could be brought up to meet any American requirements.

Present Strength Wanted

But Saito emphasized that Japan

wanted to keep her existing or contracted fleet of strength in cruisers, numbering 32 with a total tonnage of 200,000. It is evident that on these figures the United States would be obliged to possess eventually some 30 high powered cruisers of 10,000 tons each, if it desired to keep the parity of 5-5-3, which was fixed at the Washington conference for battleships.

The admiral admitted that the Japanese plan allowed the construction of small submarines without limit, but contended that these were purely for the defense of Japan's extensive island coast lines.

Even naval experts are having difficulty in their efforts to understand the exact meaning of the respective plans. That is why selected officers of each country will meet tomorrow and endeavor to determine the exact purport of the American, English and Japanese projects.

Despite the heat, the leaders declined to get excited. Admiral Viscount Saito is unperurbed, calm and meditative, as if sitting in his Japanese garden in the outskirts of Tokyo. The first lord of the British admiralty, W. C. Bridgeman, is approachable, and the fairness and righteousness of all things British, candidly discusses the virtues of the British plan.

Hugh S. Gibson, head of the American delegation and president of the conference, refused to abandon his smiling optimism, while Admiral Earl Jellicoe and Vice Admiral Sir Frederick Field, receiving the correspondents, reiterated the British belief that the adoption of their plan would lighten the burden of the taxpayer and earnestly contended that the British proposal was not a blow at the Washington treaty.
