

MOTHER OF BANDITS MAY LIVE IN SALEM

Mrs. DeAutremont Indicates Will Settle Down Here With Eldest Son

MEDFORD, Ore., June 28.—(AP)—Mrs. Belle D'Autremont, mother of Hugh, Ray and Roy D'Autremont, confessed Siskiyou tunnel murderers, left today for her home in Lakewood, N. M., to join her oldest son, Verne, who has maintained her little store business there during her absence.

"If it were not for Verne, I don't believe I could ever go back," the woman said, as with a broken heart, and 2,000 miles of weary travel ahead of her, she stepped on the train. "Under these conditions, that long, long trip up into the desert country where I've lived and worked for so many years, the sympathetic eyes of my old friends as they greet me—all these things are going to be hard now. Sympathy is some times harder to bear up under than anything else. But Verne needs me."

"Folks here have been wonderful to me, and I shall never forget them," Mrs. D'Autremont said. "Up to the very last, I believed my boys innocent; I hope they realize that. It was an awful blow."

Mrs. D'Autremont said she would try to dispose of her store and that she and Verne would come to Salem to be near the other boys.

"If we succeed in doing that, we will ask Hazel (Ray's wife), and the baby, to come from Ohio and live with us. Verne and I will be only too glad to have them and to make a home for them. Ray told me all about Hazel. She must be a wonderful girl."

FAVORS BUREAU CONTROL

Coolidge Would Put Possessions Under Interior Department

RAPID CITY, S. D., June 28.—(AP)—Specific recommendations to the next congress for administration of American insular possessions, is seen in the disclosure at the summer White House today, that President Coolidge favors the vesting of control over these territories in a civil bureau of the interior department.

It was pointed out that Mr. Coolidge previously had expressed himself as disposed to look favorably upon any change which would place the insular possessions under a civil rather than a military authority, and his recent visit with Governor-General Leonard Wood of the Philippines, has tended to strengthen the opinion that the interior department would be the logical executive branch to govern the possessions.

WILL BOAT IN MUSEUM

Stanley's Congo Boat Will Be Shown at Ostend Exposition

PARIS, June 28.—(AP)—A small boat, 40 feet long, which Henry M. Stanley used in his explorations on the upper Congo, is to be brought to France by the government as a museum relic.

Stanley used this boat when he was representative of the International African association, from 1879 to 1884. The association was formed to further discoveries in Africa long after Stanley's famous trip to find Livingstone.

The boat will be shown first at the Colonial exposition soon to open at Ostend.

SIDE LIGHTS OF THE STAGE and SCREEN

Elsinore Theater At last a perfect automobile wreck in the movies without injury to anyone! Such a smash recently was filmed by Director Eric Kenton with Harrison Ford, Frank Langborn and Robert Edeson as the participants.

In "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary," which shows at the Elsinore today and Thursday, Ford and Langborn are perfecting a device to increase the speed of a motor, and in trying out the new "contraption" as Aunt Mary calls it, they smash into a large touring car which Edeson's chauffeur is driving.

Out in the Beverly Hills district where the roads are exceptionally inviting to speeders, the company found a location.

Distances were measured off, timing of machines checked, and the cameras set up at an angle that, if there should be a miscalculation, they'd be safe and have the scenes "in the box."

Rehearsals were unnecessary. "Go!" shouted Kenton, and the two cars started for the same corner—to arrive at the same time. They did. The crash happened within the area designated. Edeson's machine lost a front wheel. Ford skidded a bit, and with the exception of some smashed machinery, broken fenders, a cracked axle and two blowouts, no casualties resulted.

Oregon Theater "White Flannels," a Warner production featuring Louise Dresser and Jason Robards, shows at the Oregon today and Thursday. It is a fine, warm, human photoplay, with big spectacular thrills, honest comedy and excellent direction.

Jason Robards is cast as the young coal miner who goes to college and becomes a football star. He gives an excellent, forthright characterization, and shares honors with Miss Dresser, who, as his Polish mother, creates another memorable, forceful screen character.

Virginia Browne Faire, playing the part of the village hash sling, in a restaurant, is a lovely and sympathetic heroine. Then Warner Richmond of "The Fire Brigade" and "Slide, Kelly, Slide" fame, does a fine bit of comedy as a roughneck miner.

The picture, while written on the theme of mother-love, has exciting moments, as in the great final scene of the mine disaster, the football sequence, or the earlier scenes in the mines.

The black cherry crop of this district, as will be seen, is going to bring a big lot of money, and bring it very quickly. Added to the Royal Ann crop, for both canning and barreling, the volume of money received by cherry growers here will mount up for the present crop.

Both growers and packers are hoping for fair weather. The late rains have done some damage, by crack and to the Bings, a little to the Royal Anns, and slight injury to the Lamberts.

Political Peril Seen in Tripartite Parley

GENEVA, Switzerland, June 28.—(AP)—What constitutes the present danger of the tripartite naval conference, in the minds of close observers, is that it may awaken or even create political animosities.

Not so much danger is attached to its failing to reach an agreement on the strength of auxiliary warcraft. Great Britain, United States and Japan may bind themselves not to exceed.

This political peril has appeared on the horizon because of the sudden Japanese initiative which indicates that Tokyo may be forced either by conviction that real economy may be achieved, or by political expediency, into backing the British in their demand for a re-examination of the Washington treaty, at least so far as battle-ships are concerned.

OFFICES BOYCOTT RENTS

Supply of Space in London Exceeds Demand; Rents Slump

LONDON, June 28.—(AP)—Real estate owners and agents in the city of London report a boycott against high rents for offices.

They say they have a large number of rooms vacant even in the most recently erected buildings. Last year when offices were scarce and rents rose considerably, a large number of tenants migrated to the west end and to Westminster. Others were forced into paying higher rents, but with the supply of offices exceeds the demand and rents are slumping.

Proper Methods of Displaying the American Flag

7. When the flag is displayed from a staff projecting horizontally or at an angle from the window sill, balcony or front of the building, the union of the flag should go clear to the peak of the staff unless the flag is at half-mast. When the flag is suspended over a sidewalk from a rope, extending from a house to a pole at the edge of the sidewalk, the flag should be hoisted out from the building towards the pole, union first.

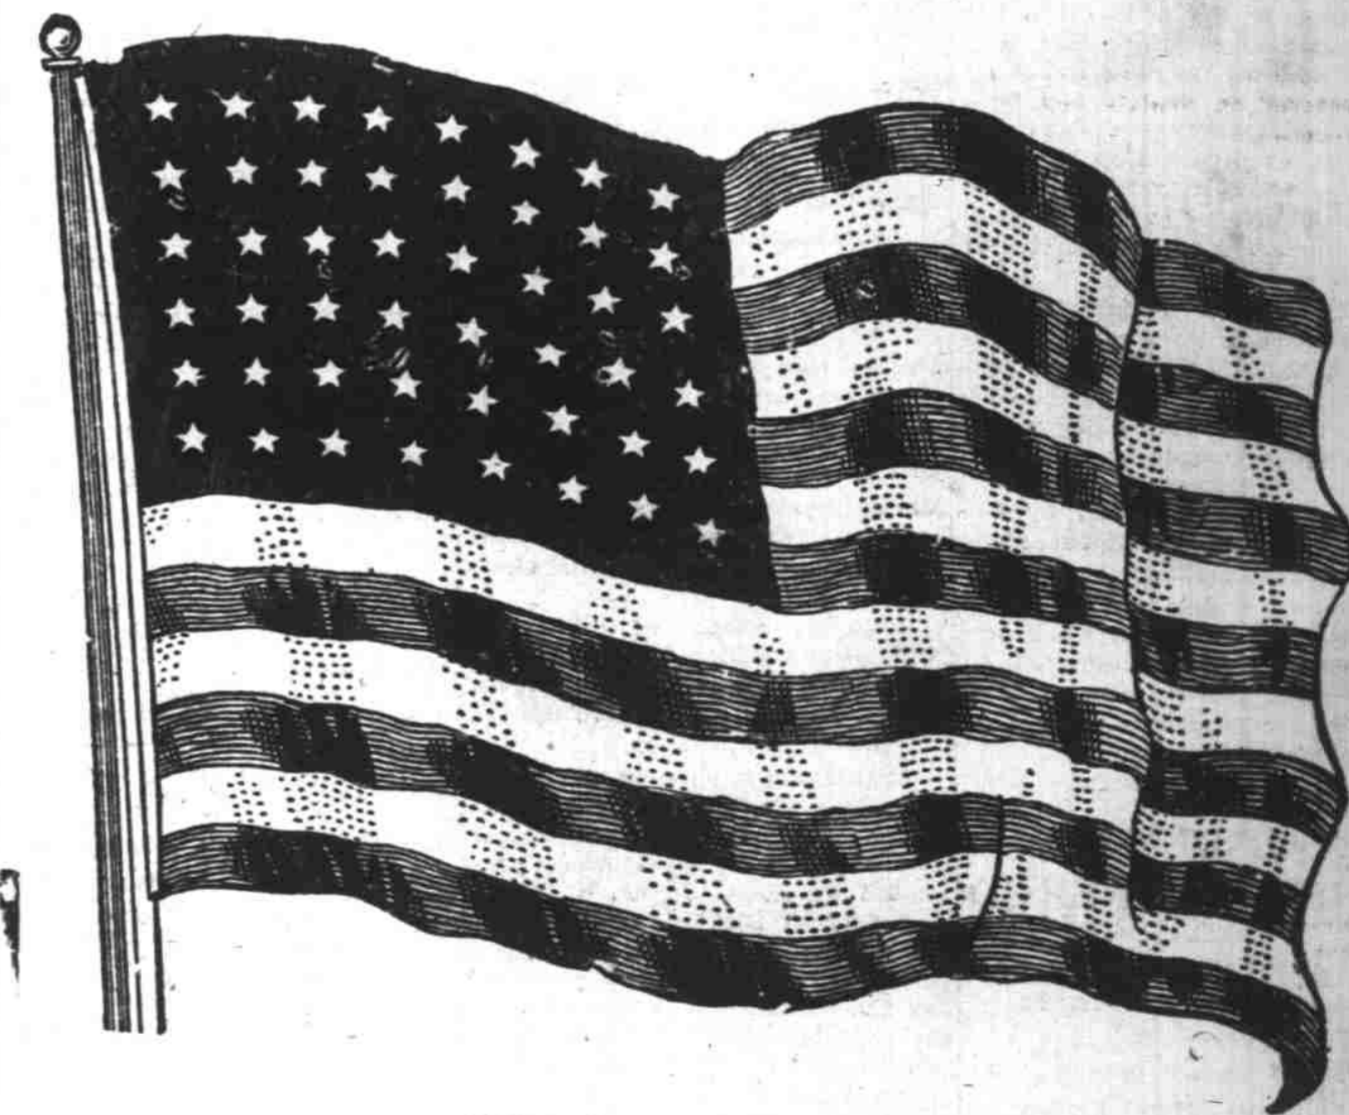

8. When the flag is displayed in a manner other than by being flown from a staff, it should be displayed flat, whether indoors or out. When displayed either horizontally or vertically against a wall, the union should be uppermost and to the flag's own right, i. e., to the observer's left. When displayed in a window, it should be displayed the same way, that is, with the union or blue field to the left of the observer in the street. When festoons, rosettes, or drapings are desired, bunting of blue, white and red should be used but never the flag.
