

FOUR GENERATIONS AT FAMILY REUNION

Cyrus F. Yeaton, Now Living in Washington, Here First in 1864

Four generations of the Yeaton family drove from Seattle to Salem Monday, and are guests at the home of A. T. Yeaton, 507 North Cottage...

Those in party are Cyrus F. Yeaton, aged 90; his daughter, Mrs. Lela Y. Gazzam, aged 58; his granddaughter, Mrs. Lea G. Hodge, and his great granddaughters, Betty Lea Hodge, age 8, and Mary Russell Hodge, age 6.

Cyrus F. Yeaton, who is the oldest brother of A. T. Yeaton, came to Salem in 1864, and was in business here for some time before moving to Seattle, he told a Statesman reporter yesterday. In Seattle he engaged in the book business, and was also for some time clerk in the federal court there. At present he is living at Crystal Springs, Wash., near Port Blakely.

His daughter, Mrs. Gazzam, is a native of Salem, but has not lived here for some years. The host for the group, A. T. Yeaton, is himself over 87 years old, and has been a Salem resident since the arrival of his family in 1864, 58 years ago. For many years he was a furniture dealer, finally selling his establishment to the father of Max Buren, present owner of the business.

Another brother of the two is living in Maine, the reporter was told. He is 76 years old, and was for a number of years member of the state legislature and senate in New Hampshire.

The four-generation family group intends to drive back to Seattle today.

MRS. GEORGE MINK DIES IN PORTLAND

Daughter of Prominent Salem Pioneer Families Succumbs to Heart Attack

PORTLAND, June 28—(Special)—Laura Catherine Mink, who was born in Marion county, Oregon, November 28, 1867, died suddenly at her home, 661 Fremont street, this morning, of heart failure. She had been in excellent health and spirits and her passing was entirely unexpected, having but recently returned with her husband from a trip of several weeks in Hawaii.

Mrs. Mink was a daughter of Charles Peyton Glover and Clara Palmer Glover, two representatives of well-known pioneer families of Marion county, both of said parents being now deceased. She leaves to mourn her death her husband, A. George Mink, of Portland; five sisters, Lenora Glover, Mrs. Clarence Turner, Mrs. George H. Root of Portland, Mrs. Harvey O. Taylor of Macleay, and Mrs. George Harbor, of Albany, and five brothers, Samuel of Antelope, Orange of Gaston, Wallace of Portland, and Ralph and Ronald of Salem.

Her death marks the breaking of a family circle of 11 children which has remained intact for almost 45 years.

Funeral services will be held from Finley's at Portland, at 2:30 Thursday afternoon.

R. L. Kirk Visits; Business Men Recall Him as "Prof."

R. L. Kirk, principal of Salem high school from 1909 to 1911, and at present northwest distribution manager for the A. H. Andrews company of Seattle and Portland, manufacturers of school furniture, is making a business visit in Salem for a few days this week.

After leaving Salem Mr. Kirk became superintendent of the Springfield schools, and later of The Dalles schools.

While he was in Salem Mr. Kirk said yesterday there were about 600 pupils in the high school, with no junior highs. During his administration the eastern and western wings of the high school building were added.

Mr. Kirk is remembered by a number of the prominent business men in Salem today who were attending school there then. He told stories yesterday of pranks and escapades in which many of them figured prominently.

THIS YEAR BRINGS A REVUE Chautauqua Keeps Up-to-the-Minute in Entertainment Features

The 1927 Chautauqua is bringing a 1927 program. One of the outstanding features of the entertainment world in the past two years has been the increasing popularity of what is known as a revue. This year's Chautauqua, coming July 20 to 25, will bring a revue as part of the program.

However, a revue as it has been given in the larger cities has often been subject to criticism on account of the type of entertainment offered. The Chautauqua revue that is being given this year is the kind that has achieved popularity among those who insist that the entertainment be kept clean and those who appreciate quality rather than mass production in their entertainment.

The Lucille Elmore revue is led by a diminutive Broadway star, who secured her training under Fred Stone in "Stepping Stones." Fred Stone is famous throughout America as the "Christian Comedian," and has long stood for clean entertainment. At the same time, when his show is on Broadway it is generally harder to get seats for it than any other theater in town.

Miss Elmore has learned just how to build a program of the Stone type which is sparking in its comedy, swift moving in its action and thoroughly above criticism in every respect. Her own numbers are always received with a storm of applause.

Among notable members of the revue is Stewart Churchill, whose Marimba playing has been a sensation wherever this young wizard has appeared. The present tour is his first trip to the far western states. Western audiences have seen some good Marimba people, but unless all predictions fail, Churchill's playing will be remembered for many a day.

WAR DEBT PROBLEM TOPIC AT LUNCHEON

Good Will of European Nations Important, Says U. of O. Professor

Two major points should be taken into consideration by persons urging that the United States be firm in its demand for repayment of the approximately 10 billion dollars loaned to European allies during the world war, members of the Salem Kiwanis club were reminded by Professor Victor Morris of the economics department of the University of Oregon, in a talk at Tuesday's luncheon.

The first of these is that the point of view of the debtor nations should be taken into consideration, the second that there is not gold enough in the world, to say nothing of Europe, to pay that debt in full.

As to the attitude of European nations, their agreement to the Locarno treaty and to the Dawes plan showed a better spirit than was previously manifested, and this should not be discouraged; on the other hand, they have been referring to the United States as "Uncle Shylock," and this, unfair as it is, should be overcome if possible.

Since the debt cannot be paid in gold, Professor Morris said, the only possible alternatives are goods and service and either would seriously disrupt conditions both here and abroad.

Some people make the mistake of thinking that the matter is settled with the agreement of the European nations to pay in small amounts over a period of 62 years, but that is erroneous because in international relations, many things cannot be foreseen, the speaker explained.

CLIMB HAYSTACK ROCK

Three Veteran Mountaineers Scale Crag Near Cannon Beach

ASTORIA, June 27.—(AP)—Haystack Rock, towering 300 feet out of the surf at Cannon Beach, 20 miles south of here, was climbed Sunday for the first time, by Emil Norden, M. J. Wulfberg, and Nels Skjersaa, experienced mountaineers.

The men spent six and a-half hours in scaling and descending the steep face of the rock, which had already claimed the life of one would-be climber. The party used ropes and alpenstocks in the ascent.

VEHICLE ORDINANCE UP FOR DISCUSSION

Committee of Councilmen to Consider Measure at Meeting Tonight

An open meeting of the city council ordinance committee will be held tonight in the council chambers at the city hall for the purpose of discussing an ordinance bill fixing the tax on motor buses, trucks, and stages using the Salem streets at $10 a year.

Taxation of transportation motor vehicles has been a vexing question in Salem for some time. A year ago, a bill providing for a tax of $20 a year was favored by many council members and passed by that group. It was attacked in the courts, however, and subsequently not enforced.

People of the state voted in the general election of 1925 to approve house bill 413 of the previous legislature session, providing for a per mileage tax per passenger for motor vehicles transporting passengers and per ton for vehicles transporting property.

Payment of this tax covering mileage on city streets has been refused and operators have taken the matter to the courts where it is still pending. Not inclined to wait until a decision is reached, the $10 city ordinance was drawn up and will be thoroughly discussed tonight.

COTTAGES AT CAMP PROVE INADEQUATE

Six Erected This Spring Already Being Used to Limit, Says Manager

Improvements which were made this spring at the municipal camp grounds at the foot of Oak street are already being used to the limit, and justify even further additions, according to H. S. Polsal, manager of the grounds for the past several years.

This spring six 2-room cottages were built, each one 12 by 16, with a 10 by 16 garage attached. Each is furnished with a cook stove, springs and mattress, breakfast nook, running city water and electric lights, and free fuel is supplied to the occupants.

The camp laundry, with electric irons and other equipment, is also for the free use of the occupants.

These cottages are filled every night, and many more could be rented if they were available, Mr. Polsal declared. The charge for the use of one of the cottages over night is $1.50.

There are also 16 tent houses available, and these are filled each night. At present there are between 25 and 40 parties using the grounds each night, with room for accommodation of 125 parties if necessary.

The grounds have been put in very good shape for the summer activities, with attractive flower beds around the buildings, and an air of neatness over the whole camp.

The spot is one which is naturally beautiful, with around seven or eight acres, mostly wooded, where camping parties have protection from sudden storms or the heat of midday.

Mrs. George Mink, Former Resident, Dies Suddenly

Word was received here yesterday of the death of Mrs. George Mink, who died suddenly at her home in Portland yesterday morning. She was the sister of Ralph and Ronald Glover of Salem, and had married George Mink in Portland a number of years after the death of her first husband, George Ashby. The body was found yesterday morning at the foot of the stairs in her Portland home, and it is not known whether death was due to heart failure or to a fall on the stairs. Besides the two brothers, Mrs. Mink is survived by a sister, Mrs. Harvey Taylor of Macleay.
