

MID-WEST FARMERS PLEASED AT OREGON

Group Brought Here By Land Settlement Committee Praise Valley

PORTLAND—(Special)—Western Oregon received high praise from twenty farmers from Iowa, North and South Dakota and Minnesota when they spent the week end visiting points of interest. The group, brought west by the Northern Pacific railway, under the direction of H. W. Byerly, general immigration agent, was filled with enthusiasm after they had been showered with hospitality by the commercial organizations throughout the Willamette valley and the lower Columbia region.

Accompanied by T. E. Lang and L. E. Lowe, of the Northern Pacific railway, and representatives of the Land Settlement Department of the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce and the Portland chamber, the middle western farmers were taken by the Washington county delegation to Beaverton where they visited Johnson's onion farm; then to Hillsboro stopping at Huber's alfalfa farm and the Ray Moring dairy. At Forest Grove, Johnson's dairy and Huber's strawberry farm as well as walnut and prune orchards attracted the visitors. Bases combination dairy and poultry farm at Gaston received a visit.

An outstanding event of the caravan trip was a display hastily arranged at the Yamhill Chamber of Commerce, giving a remarkable exhibition of products. Here local farmers were on hand to greet the visitors, furnish information and extend a welcome.

Other stops in Yamhill county were made at M. Minnells where chamber of commerce representatives took the party through the condenser, creamery and city park. A drive through the olive section convinced the middle westerners that Oregon has splendid grain fields. Walnut orchards were visited at Mission.

The Corvallis delegation met the party at Independence, taking them through diversified farms of Benton county, visiting Hanson's poultry farm, and the Oregon Agricultural grounds. After a luncheon dinner, Corvallis business men drove their guests to Eugene where the party was kept for the night.

Lane county garden and truck farms and Dorris' Gilbert orchard made a great appeal to the home-seekers who also visited Gent Brothers' poultry farm and Thompson's dairy.

At Harrisburg a group of Albany business men met the party and took them to Albany for luncheon, out to Lebanon, visiting Arnold's poultry ranch, and back through Tennessee flats and the forests of the Santiam to Jefferson.

In Marion county the party marveled at the great cherry and prune orchards and prosperous farms on every hand. They were taken to Howell Prairie, Mt. Angel and back to Woodburn where they proceeded to Portland Friday evening in anticipation of their trip to the Lower Columbia on Saturday and Sunday.

A few dairymen were in the group and they were especially interested in the dyked lands near Clatskanie, Brownwood and Astoria. They were astounded at the remarkable growth of potatoes, peas, beans and other vegetables in this district, and at the yield of seed they some men have obtained there. They enjoyed visiting the cranberry marshes which they had never seen before.

Presenting fifteen different communities, these touring farmers will do much to advertise the attractiveness of the Willamette valley and other western Oregon land. Several have indicated their intention of staying here permanently and have scattered in various sections of the valley to choose home sites. Others will remain for a time before returning to their homes in the middle west in anticipation of arranging their affairs there in order that they may come west again in the fall to remain.

California Money Magnates Indicted in Stock Scandal

LOS ANGELES, June 27.—(AP)—The county grand jury today has crashed the massive card-house of the Julian Petroleum corporation, built on the dollars of small investors and honey-combed with millions of over-issued shares of stock, about the heads of the pillars of the financial structure of the southwest.

Three of the most prominent bankers in Los Angeles, Charles F. Stern, president of the Pacific Southwest Trust and Savings bank; John E. Barber, president of the First Securities company, and vice president of the Pacific Southwest, and Motley H. Flint, executive vice president of the Pacific Southwest, have been indicted in connection with the Julian stock scandal. Their names were given out in superior court today, when the bills against them were formally returned.

TILDEN, HUNTER DEFEAT ENGLISH

WIMBLEDON, England, June 29.—(AP)—Only seven matches out of 35 listed, were played at Wimbledon, a torrential rain wrecking the program. William T. Tilden and Francis T. Hunter and Hunter and Miss Elizabeth Ryan, American pairs, won their matches, the former advancing to the semi-finals in the men's doubles, while the latter reached the third round of the mixed doubles.

Tilden and Hunter defeated the young Englishmen, Latchford and Pryce-Jones, 7-5, 6-3, 6-3. Hunter and Miss Ryan defeated Theodore Mavrogordato and Miss D. Alexander, 6-1, 6-2.

N. S. F. MARKED UPON WARRANTS MAY RETURN

Proceeding with this proposition. "As for paying warrants," Kay declared, "we shall continue to meet them as long as there are funds on hand. If the situation arises when the state funds are exhausted we will have to mark the warrants 'not paid for want of funds.'"

"Failure to provide relief at Tuesday's election will doubtless mean that the state will go in debt and stay in debt until some other source of revenue is uncovered. The board of control and state officials, however, are merely administrative officers and it is up to us to follow the instructions given us by the legislature. I do not think that the people of the state would want us to close the state prison or the insane asylum or any other institution just because we did not have the ready cash to pay warrants and I do not think that it is the province of a state official to say that one state activity which has been authorized by the legislature is more important than any other state activity similarly authorized. We can only proceed as we have always done unless some one goes into court and restrains us."

PREPARE TO BUILD NEW BOWLING ALLEY

Old Structures Being Moved; Damages Paid for Breaking Stump

House-movers yesterday started the removal of two old dwellings from the lot at 347 High street, where work will be started soon on the construction of a bowling alley which according to plans laid, will be one of the best in the state.

The buildings on the lot have been purchased by H. Steinbock and are being moved to a new location on Marion street, between Front and Commercial. The building formerly occupied by the Sandwich Inn will also be moved. Mr. Steinbock stated.

Moving operations were temporarily halted yesterday for a few hours when a stump in the front yard of 333 High street, to which the movers had fastened a cable, pulled out, and the owner of the property containing the stump, Paul Johnson, of the G. W. Johnson Clothing company, consulted the city attorney about damages, according to Vernon Kusel, in charge of the moving work.

The removal of the buildings was resumed after the payment of $45 as damages by Kusel who afterwards told a reporter that he had paid the $45 under protest, since he understood that Johnson had previously laid plans for having the stump removed. The roots of the stump, which were very rotten, had broken off close under the surface.

The work of moving the dwellings will take several days, according to Steinbock.

RECORD SEASON NEARS HEIGHT AT CANNERIES

Sending out several cars of Royal Anns a day.

The Paulus cannery is in full operation on strawberries and logans. All the new machinery going. Working 130 women. Will can some Royal Anns after the Fourth. Will can whole range of fruits, clear up to pears and prunes.

At Other Plans Baker, Kelly & McLaughlin are barreling a lot of strawberries yet, at the Salem plant. Having some of them stemmed at the ranches, to save time and conserve quality. The Salem Cherry Growers association sent a car of Bings east yesterday. Another car goes today, perhaps two. They will be packing up to about July 20. Young & Wells rolled a car of Bings yesterday. Will send another today. Bings will be about at top today. The fruit coming in is of excellent quality. The Stadelman Fruit Co. took

EDUCATORS INVITED

SECONDARY TEACHERS' CONGRESS TO BE AT BUCHAREST Representatives of teachers' organizations of the United States are invited to attend the International Congress of Professors of Secondary Schools to be held on August 29 to 30 in Bucharest, Rumania. Information to this effect was received recently by City School Superintendent George W. Hug, who is president of the northwest association of secondary and higher schools.

The invitation was extended through Secretary of State Frank E. Kellogg and the United States bureau of education, and lists some of the attractions offered delegates. These include a reduced rate on the Rumanian railways, free lodging in the best hotels in Bucharest, and five-day free excursion through the best scenic parts of the country.

Although one or two Salem teachers are in Europe this summer, Mr. Hug stated, none of them has laid plans to attend the meeting.

A Ghostly Scent

PARIS—English advertising presents, difficulties in France. One of the leading French dress-making houses here recently announced the "apparition" of a new perfume.

BUILDING TOTAL, YEAR HEAVIER THAN YEAR AGO

(Continued from page 1) listed this month are also in that part of the city. Outside of the alterations to the Derby building, the item of alterations and repairs for this month does not reach that of last year, there being 11 permits issued, for work estimated at $9,400, as compared with 13 permits and an expenditure of $12,000 last year.

Other permits issued were for a garage, to cost $400, a $300 marquee, and a $75 bill board. The grand total for the month includes 36 permits, with an estimated expenditure of $287,125. June 1926 totals show 37 permits issued, with about $151,500 spent in buildings or repair work.
