

JACOBS BREAKS LEG SLIDING TO THIRD

Coast League Standings table with columns for team, W, L, Pct.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 4.—(AP)—The Seals and Los Angeles played a double header today, the morning game ending in a 6-6 tie, while the Seals won in the afternoon, 8 to 7.

Ray Jacobs, Angel swatster, broke his left leg sliding into third base, in the sixth inning. He bounced off the bag and Mulligan tagged him. The fans jeered manager Nick Williams when Jacobs was called out, thinking it poor sportsmanship to call a runner out after he was seriously injured.

Jacobs was taken to a hospital and physicians were doubtful whether he will play again this year. He was one of the best hitters of the Los Angeles club.

SEATTLE, July 4.—(AP)—The Seattle Indians celebrated today by noosing the Oaks out of a double header, 3 to 1 and 2 to 1.

Both tended to be pitchers' battles, but the Indians succeeded in bouncin' hits, and aided by Oakland's errors in the first encounter, tucked both games safely away.

Score—(First game) R. H. E. Oakland 1 9 4. Seattle 3 6 0.

LOS ANGELES, July 4.—(AP)—Hollywood and the Missions broke even on today's double bill, the Missions taking the morning game in ten innings, 5 to 3, and losing the afternoon contest by a 5 to 2 score.

Score—(First game) R. H. E. Missions 5 7 0. Hollywood 3 13 0.

WIMBLEDON, July 4.—(AP)—American tennis players, celebrating Independence day in great style, today made a clean sweep of the three matches in which they were engaged in the Wimbledon tournament, added another championship to that already captured Saturday, and have a splendid chance to win another tomorrow.

William T. Tilden and Francis T. Hunter provided the fireworks for a real old fashioned American Fourth of July celebration, by capturing the men's doubles championship from the French team of Henri Cochet and Jacques Brugnon, holders of the doubles crown for 1925. The score was 1-6, 4-6, 8-6, 6-3, 6-4.

SCORELESS DEFEAT HANDED TO EUGENE

With Wayne Barham pitching at his best, holding the visitors to five hits, the Salem Senators set the Eugene team, now holding first place in the Willamette Valley league, down for a scoreless defeat Sunday at Oxford park, the locals winning 8 to 0.

"Biddy" Bishop, former Senator manager and infielder, and the center of interest in this non-league game, pitched nice ball, but his support was not up to standard, and half of the Senators' runs resulted from the numerous bobbles of the Eugene team.

The Senators started scoring in the first inning when Billy Sullivan, the first man up, singled, went to second on a fielder's choice and scored on Goleman's two bagger over the right field fence.

That was all until the fourth when two runs were scored. Steers was hit by a pitched ball and Jacobberger was credited with a single when the first baseman handled the ball, and there was nobody on hand to cover the bag.

Steers going to third. "Red" Ridings walked, filling the bases, and Hauk singled, scoring Steers and Jacobberger.

Billy Sullivan scored again in the fifth when he doubled over the fence, went to third on an infield out and crossed the plate on a bobble by Van Dyne.

The sixth was the big inning for the Senators. Ridings reached second on Lynn Jones' error, and Hauk walked, Barham singled, scoring Hauk, Barham reaching third. Barham scored on Van Dyne's error.

The final run was made in the eighth when Hauk hit four bases over the right centerfield fence.

SIDE LIGHTS OF THE STAGE and SCREEN

Elsinore Theater Does a moving picture star get a thrill from the final fade-out kiss? For that matter do any camera kisses thrill her?

Florence Vidor, Paramount star answered the question by asking another.

"Is it possible to breathe over a rose without inhaling some of the fragrance?" she said.

"It's impossible to give a convincing performance unless you put yourself wholly into the character you're portraying," she goes on to explain. "For this reason it is highly probable that every true actor or actress gets what you choose to describe as a thrill out of their stage kisses. Certainly they hold no physical discomfort."

In her present Paramount starring vehicle "The World at Her Feet" which opens at the Elsinore theater today for a three day run, Miss Vidor has ample opportunity to test this reasoning.

A love theme with her leading man, Lloyd Kent, carries all through the comedy-drama. Luther Reed directed "The World at Her Feet." Margaret Quimby, Richard Tucker and William Austin are in the supporting cast.

Capitol Theater It was the first day of production of "Oh, Baby!" the Universal-Jewel production which is showing tonight and Wednesday at the Capitol theater. Little Billy, the 28-year-old Tom Thumb actor whose role in this comedy called for his metamorphosis from a prize fight manager into the disguise of a little girl, had donned the dainty pink silk dress. He threw away a hideous black cigar as he pulled his wig of blonde curls into place. Director Harley Knoles anxious to test the reality of the camouflage, took the forty-inch actor by the hand and approached Ethel Shannon, who had just arrived from Hollywood and was as yet ignorant of the picture's plot or the players who were to appear in it.

"Miss Shannon," said Director Knoles, "I want you to meet my little girl!"

"Oh, isn't she the darlingest thing!" Ethel enthused. Then turning to Little Billy in that patronizing tone that nice children bear so patiently from their elders, she continued: "And how are you-o-o-o feeling today, dear?"

"Pretty damn hungry—that's how," bellowed Little Billy. "You see I got my weight down to 57 pounds. Last night after a poker game at the Friars club I ate a piece of heavy cake and now I weigh 58—so nothing but hot water for breakfast today!"

To say that Ethel was aghast is to express only inadequately her astonishment that was however disguised when Billy removed the wig and introduced himself under his own name.

"Oh, Baby!" marks the first screen appearance of Little Billy after a long and successful career in vaudeville and on the legitimate stage. In addition to himself and Miss Shannon, the featured cast includes Madge Kennedy, Creighton Hale, David Butler and Flora Finch.

Oregon Theater A picturization of one of the most epochal races in history takes place in the new Fox Films production of "3 Bad Men," dramatic masterpiece woven around one of the most momentous periods in the development of the United States, which is to appear at the Oregon theater today, Wednesday and Thursday.

This was the land rush, in which thousands of people, who succumbed to its lure, took part. The actors in the great drama were men, women and children of every type and condition of life, from all parts of America and the far flung places of the earth.

Hardy pioneers seeking new land to conquer and bend to their will; sedentary city dwellers seeking to satisfy the inherent craving of the race to live by the sweat of their labor on the fruits of the earth; traders and merchants, seeking new fields and fresh opportunities for their endeavors.

Even the doctor and the man of God were not lacking. But among them, too, like wolves among the kindly cattle, were genry of a different breed. Gamblers, thugs, procurers, female harpies, gunmen, cattle and horse thieves, and all the rest of the devil's crew.

MEXICO CITY, July 4.—(AP)—American residents of Mexico City had the quietest Fourth of July that old timers can remember, chiefly of business depression.

TIGER AND MAXIE BATTLE TO DRAW

CHICAGO, July 4.—(AP)—"Tiger" Flowers and Maxie Rosenbloom fought ten rounds to a draw in the windup of the Fourth of July card, at the White Sox park, tonight.

The first eight rounds were fought in a steady, rain, which failed to slow up either boxer. They started fast, neither paying much attention to boxing, and both putting plenty of power in their punches.

The slippery condition of the car was bothered Flowers considerably. He lost his balance more than once, and in the last round, just before the gong, fell on his back. In his efforts to retain his balance, one of his feet struck Rosenbloom, flooring him.

The only knockdown of the fight came in the sixth round.

when Flowers went down after a hard right to the chin, but he was up without a count. Ringsiders were unable to tell whether it was the force of the blow or the slippery canvas that downed the deacon.
