NEW ORGANIZATION WON'T HANDLE CROP

Failure of California to Complete Association Makes Necessary Delay

PORTLAND, July 13.—(AP)—Plans to have the newly organized association of growers and shippers of Italian dried prunes handle the 1927 crop in Oregon and Clark county, Wash., have been dropped, it is understood here. The committee of nine which has been handling organization will continue its work with a view of having all contracts signed January 1 for the handling of the 1928 crop.

In a statement issued today R. H. Kipp, manager of the marketing department of the Portland chamber of commerce, said in part:

"At the time the final plan was agreed upon by the prune committee of nine on July 9 to which all packers agreed, no agreement was entered into as to the time of opening prices on the 1927 crop, but there was a tacit understanding that there would be no offer made to sell the 1927 crop prunes."

"It has always seemed to be the consensus of opinion of the committee of nine that unless the California growers completed their organization it would be both inadvisable and impossible to complete the Oregon organization this year."

Ben Furus in the Evans Valley district east of Silverton requested of the county court yesterday that a bridge on a new road there be widened to permit passage by farm implements and threshing machines.
