

MONTANANS PICNIC HERE NEXT SUNDAY

People From Wide Area Will Gather Here for Meeting of Clubmen

Everything is all set for the Montana picnic to be held at Hager's Grove, Sunday, July 24th, 1927. Assurance is reaching the committee from towns as far south as Eugene and as far north as Portland that the Montana people will be here in large numbers.

Indications now are that this will be by far the largest gathering of Montana people ever held in the state of Oregon. An elaborate program has been planned by the committee. The picnic dinner will be at 12 o'clock, the club furnishing coffee. It is planned to have the speakers platform so located that the crowd can spread their dinner around it. Immediately after the dinner Governor Patterson will deliver a short address welcoming former citizens of Montana to the state of Oregon.

H. R. Cunningham, president of the Montana Life Insurance company of Helena, Montana, is making the trip from Helena to Salem and will deliver the principal address. Mr. Gillette, president of the Montana club, says that Mr. Cunningham is not only a fluent and interesting speaker but is well acquainted with the entire state of Montana and more or less familiar with the state of Oregon. Mr. Cunningham is also known personally or by reputation to practically every former Montana resident and the club considers itself fortunate indeed in securing him as the principal speaker of the day.

After the speaking the committee on sports will take charge and the afternoon will be devoted to games, races, swimming and horsehoes. The horsehoe contest promises to be a lively and interesting match, a small entrance fee will be charged for this contest and a worthwhile prize will be awarded the winner.

According to Mr. Gillette the committee now estimates that there will be between 1500 and 2000 in attendance. Every arrangement has been made to handle the crowd. There will be a large number of club members on the ground to see to parking of cars and give general information. Expert swimmers will be stationed in the swimming pool to guard against accident.

Men will be stationed at the south corner of the State House ground to give directions for reaching the grove. Any Montana people not having transportation who will come to the State House grounds at 10 o'clock will be taken to the grove in cars with others. The committee requests all those who have room in their cars for an extra passenger or two to stop at the State House grounds and pick up those who have no transportation.

To reach the grounds Montanans are asked to go east on State street past the penitentiary to the 4 corners, turn south on Turner road one mile. All members of the Salem Montana club are urged to be present on the grounds by 10 o'clock if possible.

Extradition Papers Given in Case of Everett Crites

Governor Patterson issued extradition papers Wednesday authorizing the return to Caldwell, Idaho, of Everett Crites, who is wanted there on a charge of violating the prohibition laws. Crites is under arrest in Portland. Crites' brother was here recently and protested against the issuance of the extradition papers.

The number of surprisingly interesting things that can happen in an exclusive Eastern girls' finishing school when a ten-million dollar heiress, innocent but ambitious, from the oil well country of Texas, puts in her appearance, is shown in Colleen Moore's newest picture, "Naughty But Nice," opening a three-day engagement at the Elsinore theatre starting today.

GRASS FIRES START

After Two Alarms, Chief Hutton Issues Warning

Warm weather and grass fires seem to go hand in hand, and Salem people should be especially careful about throwing matches or burning cigarettes where they may light the grass. Fire Chief Hutton said last night, after two alarms had come in during the day on account of such fires.

An alarm at 4:30 yesterday afternoon called the equipment to the foot of Chemeketa street, where fire had started in the grass along the river bank. By the time the firemen arrived, however, the fire had been put out by the efforts of A. M. Spong, of Spong's bathhouse, who fought it with a wet sack. The cause of the blaze is unknown.

Yesterday's second alarm came last night at 8:50, when residents at Lee and Turner Road set fire to dry grass on a vacant tract nearby. Someone going past, not knowing that the fire was being watched, and had been carefully safeguarded, sent in an alarm.

Those who set the fire declared that they had been given permission to burn the grass, although firemen pointed out that it is unlawful to burn grass at night.

The need for an east side fire station was evident last night, because of the great distance the fire equipment had to travel to reach the scene of the blaze.

Mayor-Editor Defies Petition for Recall

RAINIER, Ore., July 20.—(AP)—A. E. Veatch, mayor-editor of this city, against whom a recall has been threatened, rolled up his sleeves today and prepared to wade into the fray and not only defend his administration but to carry the attack to his opponents. He denies every charge in the proposed recall petition and declared that, if it is filed, he will seek an injunction against holding an election on two grounds—that the charges are false, and that the city has no funds available for an election.

ever felt a desire to punch the individual who rings off in the middle of interesting conversations, come down to the Oregon Theatre. "The Telephone Girl" as portrayed by Madge Bellamy in Paramount's latest Herbert Brenon production, proves to be a winsome little miss who is more to be praised than impaled. In addition to this, she's quite brave and refuses to give a number—although it's in the interest of the plot that this is done.

"The Telephone Girl" is showing today only, and included on the same program is a rip-roaring comedy, entitled "Wedding Bells" together with an interesting news reel showing all the latest world events.

The long heralded appearance of John Barrymore in "Don Juan," takes place at the Oregon theatre, starting tomorrow, for a six days engagement. This is the picture that played a year in New York, four months in Chicago and four months in Los Angeles, always at $2.00 top prices. Patrons of the Oregon will be able to see this exceptional feature at popular admission.

"I'M HUNGRY" SAYS TINY KING MICHAEL

New Rumanian Ruler Regally Salutes Soldiers; Then Wants to Go Home

BUCHAREST, July 20.—(AP)—One hundred and one guns boomed a salute to King Michael I of Rumania at 4 o'clock this afternoon, announcing to the assembled multitudes that the six-year-old monarch has ascended the throne.

A cortege composed of the royal household cavalry, the prefect of police and the marshal of the royal court, preceding a royal conveyance bearing Prince Nicholas, the Princess Mother Helen, Princess Ileana and the little king himself passed through the streets from Cotronei palace to the house of parliament at 3:30.

Within the building were the members of both houses, all the military and civil dignitaries and the members of the diplomatic corps. The regents, Prince Nicholas, Patriarch Miron Cristea and Justice Buzdugan entered. They were followed by Princess Helen, who led His Majesty, Michael I (Mihal I) by the hand into the chamber of deputies.

The little child hesitated, then halted as if on the verge of tears. "Remember you are a king and the son of kings," his mother told him.

Straightening out his puny shoulders, the little chap ascended the fifteen steps to the royal tribunal and gazed on the assembled deputies and senators, professors and learned men with the greatest unconcern, never smiling. Then came the cheers.

Princess Helen, whose tears were discernible beneath her veil, led the child forward and out into his new kingdom. He was dressed in a white silk suit, black tie and

"Let's go home, Mama, I am hungry," one of the officers of the guards stationed near the entrance to the parliament later said, were the first words of his youthful majesty after his inauguration.

Then came a cheer from the soldiers. The golden haired king appeared dismayed at first, then, with true regal demeanor, saluted his army.

"The king is dead! Long live the king!" the soldiers cried.
