

Churches

INTERNATIONAL BIBLE STUDENTS' ASSOCIATION
Meet every Sunday in Chambers' building, 324 N. High street, Capital Business College rooms, Bible study, Junior S. C. meet during first lesson hour, 10 to 12 a. m. and 3 to 4 p. m. Between 11 a. m. and 12:30 p. m., Judge J. F. Rutherford, President of the I. B. S. A., will deliver an address at the close of the seven day convention at Oregon State University, through the gracious presence of Jehovah, the National Bible Publishing Company of New York, voluntarily lent, with accompanying musical program, the use of their vast network of radio stations, for this occasion, and in conjunction with the Pacific coast network, some forty stations in all.

A message being non-political, unsectarian, non-commercial and non-religious in nature, a message which vitally concerns every thinking man, woman and child of today, regardless of his or her station of life. The address will be heard in both North and South America, as well as Europe, Asia, Africa and the Antipodes.

KUG will give you the best of local reception, and which may be heard at 415 Court Street, Moore Mine, having kindly volunteered a Kolater set for public reception.

CHEMEKETA ST. EVANGELICAL
Corner of Chemekeeta and N. 17th, G. E. Eschling pastor, residence 265 N. 17th St., phone 1008-W.
Services 11:00 a. m. and 8:00 p. m.
Sermon topics, "What is the Fare to Heaven?" and "What is the Fare to Overcoming the World?" p. m.
Sunday school, 10 a. m., Superintendent, O. R. Straubel, Senior Endeavor at 7:00 p. m., leader, Effie Grimes. Intermediate League at the same hour.
Mid-week prayer service, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, leader, F. Kura.

CHRISTIAN LUTHERAN
State and 18th streets, Rev. A. L. Heine pastor.
Services, English, 10 a. m., German, 11:15 a. m.
Sunday School, 9:15 a. m., Superintendent, Martha Battenmann.
Congregational meeting at 2 p. m.

BETHANY REFORMED CHURCH
Corner of Capitol and Marion streets, Sunday School, pastor, and English services at 11 a. m., M. Denny minister.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
On Church street between Chemekeeta and Center streets, Norman Kendall Tully, pastor.
9:30 a. m. Sunday School, Mr. H. E. Barrett, Superintendent.
10:45 a. m. morning worship, Sermon, "The Gradual Harvest" by Norman Kendall Tully, D. D.
7:00 p. m., Young People's Meetings, 8:00 p. m., evening worship, Sermon, "Will You, or Will You Not?" by Rev. Luther B. Deck.
Thursday, 7:30 p. m., mid-week meeting for praise, prayer and Bible study.
Friday, the Sunday School will hold its annual picnic at 15 fair grounds grove. More complete announcement later.

MISSIONARY ALLIANCE TABERNACLE
S. Cottage and Ferry streets, Dr. E. F. Webber, pastor.
9:45 a. m., Sunday School, Mrs. Mollie Wilson superintendent.
Sermon at 11 a. m., from the theme, "The Revival We Need" and evangelistic message in the evening from the theme, "Christ is All." There will be special music and singing. We are in the second week of our summer evangelistic campaign, and Rev. W. W. Newberry, Dean of the Simpson Bible School of Seattle, superintendent of the Alliance for the Pacific northwest will speak July 20, 27, 28 and 29, at 7:45 p. m.
P. S. Saturday 7:45 p. m., Mr. Floyd Stewart, President.

KNIGHT MEMORIAL CHURCH
Congregational, 19th and Ferry streets, H. C. Glover, minister.
Sunday School at 10 a. m., C. C. Harris, superintendent.
Morning service at 11 Sermon on "To Get or To Give." Duett "Holy Father, Thou Hast Promised" (Jones) will be sung by Mrs. Talmadge and Mrs. Gleason.
Christian Endeavor societies meet at 7:15.
Evening service at 8. Evnging sermon on "The Call of the Deep" The choir will sing "God So Loved the World" (Wilson) with contralto obligato by Pearl Eyre.

CASTLE CHAPEL, O. B.
Corner S. 17th and Spruance, W. N. Hildreth, pastor, residence 1742 Nebraska Ave., phone 2622-J.
Services at 11 a. m., and 8 p. m.
Sermon topics, "Crucified With Christ" no preaching p. m., Mrs. Cora Hendry will sing a solo at the morning service.
Sunday School at 10, superintendent, C. P. Wills. Young peoples meetings at 7:15, Will Danigan, president, Oliver Draper, leader.
Prayer meeting Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

FIRST EVANGELICAL CHURCH
Center and Liberty streets, F. B. Culver pastor.
Sunday School at 9:45, J. L. Thornton superintendent.
Fellowship at 11, Subject, "Some Things Impaired in Prayer." Evangelical League of Christian Endeavor meets at 7, Miss Leone Wheeler, leader. Preaching at 8. Prayer meeting Thursday at 8.

AMERICAN LUTHERAN CHURCH
Holds services at 8 p. m., in the First Presbyterian church, Pastor, Luther B. Deck will preach on "Will You, or Will You Not?"
Friday at 3:30 p. m., the Ladies Aid and Missionary Society meets in the church parlors. Subject for study, "China." Cordial invitation is extended to all.

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL
Center and Liberty streets, Charles E. Ward, pastor, residence 440 Center street, phone 591-R.
Services, 11 a. m. Sermon, "Jonah, A Fish Story."
Sunday School, 10 o'clock, superintendent, Mark McCallister.
Thursday at 8 o'clock, Bible study and prayer meeting. The study this week will be the prophecy of Malachi.

ST. PAUL'S (EPISCOPAL)
Corner of Church and Chemekeeta Sts., Rev. H. Dunlop, pastor, residence 1008 W. Services as usual, Holy Eucharist at 11:00 a. m.

to all the services of this church on the coming Lord's Day. Church school meets at 9:45 a. m., classes for old and young. Public worship at 11 a. m. Dr. E. M. Gatzke will be the guest of the church for this service and will preach. Junior church in Wesley Hall, Mrs. Gentry in charge. Three chapters of the Epworth League meet at 7 p. m. for devotional services. They welcome strangers. Public worship at 7:30 p. m. Leroy Walker, former pastor of Junior church in this organization, will preach. He will bring an outstanding message. Special music by the choir both morning and evening. Good fellowship, strong gospel preaching, and a good time for all.

EMMANUEL BAPTIST
Will hold services at the YMCA building on Court street, July 24th, both morning and evening. Rev. E. N. Turner will preach. Sunday School, Sunday morning at 11. Mid-week prayer service Thursday evening at 8, at the home of C. J. Hart, 988 S. Liberty street.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
First Church, corner of Liberty and Chemekeeta streets. Sunday morning services at 11:00. Sunday evening services are discontinued during July and August. Subject of lesson-sermon, "Truth". Wednesday evening testimonial meeting at 8 o'clock. During July and August the two sessions of Sunday school are combined in one which commences at 9:45 a. m. Reading room, 406 Monroe Temple, open daily from 11 to 5:30, except Sundays and holidays.

GLAD TIDINGS MISSION
343 1/2 Court street, C. R. Johnson, pastor, residence 411 S. Cottage.
Services at 3 and 8 p. m.
Sunday School at 2 p. m., superintendent, S. Berkey.
Week-day services every night except Monday at 8 p. m.
Evangelist A. Arntsen of Los Angeles will begin special meetings Sunday evening. He is an evangelist of many years experience. Come.

EMMANUEL FULL GOSPEL MISSION
420 State street, Ralph D. Bullock, pastor, residence, 460 S. Cottage street, phone 938-M. Assistant pastor Harry J. Morris, residence Silverton road, phone 130P14.
Services at 2:30 and 7:45 p. m.
Sunday School at 2:30 p. m.
Evangelistic services Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday nights at 8 o'clock. He is an evangelist of many years experience. Come.

LESIE METHODIST CHURCH
South Commercial and Myers streets, H. C. Rice, acting pastor, A. S. Mulligan, assistant.
Sunday School at 9:45, E. A. Rhoten, superintendent.
Rev. W. S. Gordon, D. D., of Dallas, Oregon will preach at 11 a. m.
Sunday School at 11 a. m., Miss Huff and Miss Scott in charge. Rev. H. E. Rice will preach at 8 p. m.
The Francis Asbury League will meet at 7 p. m.
Mid-week service Thursday at 7:45 p. m.

FIRST METHODIST EPISCOPAL
Corner of State and Church streets, F. C. Taylor, pastor, residence 636 State street, phone 974. Margaret K. Sutherland, Director Religious Education, phone 472.
Services at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m.
Sermon topics, "The Pathway of the Pure," by the pastor. Evening service in the chautauque tent. Sermon by Dr. Cairns.
Sunday School at 9:45 a. m., Mr. H. F. Epworth superintendent.
Prayer and Praise service on Thursday night led by the pastor.

THE SALVATION ARMY
You are invited to hear Bedford M. Neal, just released from the state penitentiary. Mr. Neal is well qualified to speak on prison life, and his own experiences during the past five or six years of his servitude will be interesting and worth hearing by all who believe in the hope of the gospel. The two main Sunday services begin at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Sunday school in the park, 2:30 p. m. Y. P. L. at 6 p. m. A friendly welcome to all.

COURT STREET CHRISTIAN
Court and N. 17th streets, R. L. Putnam pastor, residence 645 S. 12th street, phone 1625. Junior pastor, Mrs. R. L. Putnam.
Services at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m.
Junior service, 11 a. m.
Sermon topics, "As At The First" a. m. Dr. Royal J. Dye, former missionary in Congo, Africa, p. m.
Sunday School at 9:45 a. m., superintendent, E. W. Cooley. Young people's meetings, volunteers visit shalms in afternoon. Christian Endeavor, 7 p. m. Junior, Intermediate, young people and senior.
Special meeting of whole congregation Wednesday at 8 p. m., every member requested to be present. Church night, Thursday 7:30-8:42 p. m. Volunteer meeting and Bible study, "Christian Living."
We extend a hearty welcome.

CENTER ST. METHODIST
13th and Center streets, A. F. Hiltner, pastor, residence 684 N. Winter street, phone 680-M.
Services 11 a. m.
Professor Frederic Cramer of Berea, Ohio, and some years ago Professor at Willamette University in Salem, Ore., will bring the message in German in the morning followed by observance of the Lord's Supper.
Sunday School at 10, superintendent, H. H. Grapp.

JASON LEE MEMORIAL M. E.
Corner North Winter and Jefferson streets, Thomas Acheson, pastor, Mr. A. M. Gentry, Director Religious Education. The public is cordially welcomed.

EYES EXAMINED GLASSES FITTED
Ten Years Practice in Salem
Phone 625
Dr. L. R. Burdette
Optometrist
401 First National Bank Building

Special Rates for Flying TODAY AT THE FAIRGROUNDS $3.50
New Waco Plane
We also give instructions in flying for those who care to take up this profitable work

Special Rates for Flying TODAY AT THE FAIRGROUNDS $3.50
New Waco Plane
We also give instructions in flying for those who care to take up this profitable work

Special Rates for Flying TODAY AT THE FAIRGROUNDS $3.50
New Waco Plane
We also give instructions in flying for those who care to take up this profitable work

Special Rates for Flying TODAY AT THE FAIRGROUNDS $3.50
New Waco Plane
We also give instructions in flying for those who care to take up this profitable work

Special Rates for Flying TODAY AT THE FAIRGROUNDS $3.50
New Waco Plane
We also give instructions in flying for those who care to take up this profitable work

Special Rates for Flying TODAY AT THE FAIRGROUNDS $3.50
New Waco Plane
We also give instructions in flying for those who care to take up this profitable work

Special Rates for Flying TODAY AT THE FAIRGROUNDS $3.50
New Waco Plane
We also give instructions in flying for those who care to take up this profitable work

Special Rates for Flying TODAY AT THE FAIRGROUNDS $3.50
New Waco Plane
We also give instructions in flying for those who care to take up this profitable work

Special Rates for Flying TODAY AT THE FAIRGROUNDS $3.50
New Waco Plane
We also give instructions in flying for those who care to take up this profitable work

Special Rates for Flying TODAY AT THE FAIRGROUNDS $3.50
New Waco Plane
We also give instructions in flying for those who care to take up this profitable work

Special Rates for Flying TODAY AT THE FAIRGROUNDS $3.50
New Waco Plane
We also give instructions in flying for those who care to take up this profitable work unbounded confidence in Meissner and never fails to seek his advice in all important matters. Especially in times of governmental crises is the secretary of state the President's best adviser.

Meissner also reads President von Hindenburg's entire correspondence. On the average 300 letters are received every day, as compared with an average of 100 received by President Ebert. Ebert was also very popular, but his admirers belonged mainly to the laboring classes, who are not accustomed to indulge in extensive correspondence, whereas Hindenburg's followers are to a great extent members of the better educated classes, who are accustomed to write more.

The President can naturally read only a part of the letters received and a good many are of no importance. Meissner submits the most important ones to him personally. Personal letters are handed over to the president's son, Major von Hindenburg, who lives with his family in the executive mansion and is his father's private secretary.

After political matters have been disposed of with Meissner, Hindenburg receives the chief of the press department, Dr. Walter Zechlin, who reports concerning the editorial comments of not merely the German but also the foreign press. Hindenburg is always greatly interested in all reports or comments concerning himself, including even the articles that appear in the communist press.

Then come the official visits. Hindenburg frequently receives Chancellor Marx, Foreign Minister Stresemann and Minister of Defense Gessler. He holds Gessler in particularly high esteem.

Other visitors include delegations from various parts of Germany, some of whom come to present special wishes of their states, provinces or cities, others merely to convey greetings to the President.

Luncheon is served at 2 o'clock. President von Hindenburg would be glad to enjoy this meal in the private family circle, but it is never possible. There are always from a half dozen to a dozen guests including some minister, foreign diplomat, banker, industrial leader, or other prominent persons.

Only men are present at these luncheons. Women are rarely admitted to the executive mansion, except on the occasion of formal receptions. On such occasions Hindenburg's daughter-in-law — he himself is a widower — acts as hostess.

It ought to be possible for an octogenarian to take a short rest after the noon meal, but this luxury is seldom granted to the old field marshal. His working day frequently extends until midnight. On "normal" days the receptions, reports, consultations, etc., are over by 7 o'clock in the evening, at which hour dinner is served. Before eating, however, Hindenburg takes a brief walk in the park whenever this is possible.

The evening is generally reserved for official visits. The president is overwhelmed with invitations to festive gatherings in the various foreign embassies and legations, the ministries, commercial and industrial organizations, scientific associations, etc. From time to time he also has to be present at some gala performance at a theater or at a concert. This would be pleasure for the ordinary private citizen, but for Hindenburg it means more work.

And the president is always happiest when he can spend the evening quietly at home, surrounded by his grandchildren, to whom he is devoted. At such times he can forget the burdens of his office, doubly heavy for a man of his great age, and is merely the kind grandfather, with a happy smile which would be a revelation to those who know him only from official visits.

On his rare free days the president motors with the members of his family to a hunting lodge, two hours from Berlin, which belongs to the state of Prussia.

The field marshal is a passionate hunter, and is prouder of his trophies of the chase — antlers, boars' heads and other mementoes of days spent with rifle and shot gun — than of his many orders and decorations.

Bells for America Being Made in English Foundry
LOUGHBOROUGH, England.—(AP)—Bells for America are being made at the foundry here in increasing numbers. There is enough work on hand to last for two years.

One order calls for 61 bells, the largest of which will weigh more than 10 tons. This carillon is destined for Florida.

Another order is for 48 bells for a carillon at Germantown, Pa., while a virtual replica of the famous carillon at Bruges is about to be shipped for the city hall at Albany, New York.

"You look foolish," said the friend.
"Think so?"
"And you talk silly."
"Are you sure?"
"Of course. You are beginning to act like a moron."
"Don't weaken in your opinion. I feel a temptation to commit a crime and I want the alienists on my side."

GERMAN PRESIDENT NEARING 80 MARK
Von Hindenburg Spends Strenuous Day in Official Capacity

BERLIN, July 21.—October 2nd will bring the eightieth birthday of President Paul von Hindenburg of Germany.

It is an age when most men would feel that they have a right to rest from the labors of an exacting and strenuous life, but there is no rest for the venerable field marshal. For him there is no such thing as an eight-hour day, yet he carries his heavy burdens in an astounding manner and fulfills with the greatest exactitude and devotion the manifold duties resting on the head of the German Reich.

The President's day proceeds according to a carefully regulated schedule. He rises at 6 o'clock and is ready at 7 o'clock for breakfast, which consists of coffee, rolls, and perhaps jam. Every morning he finds on the breakfast table a big pile of newspapers.

Although the chief of the press department of the foreign office is to visit him later in the day and report on the news that could interest the President, Hindenburg nevertheless looks through all the newspapers himself, from the most reactionary down to the socialist organ "Vorwarts." One paper, however, is not permitted to enter the President's mansion. This is the "Rote Fahne," the Communist organ.

At 8 o'clock President von Hindenburg takes a walk in the beautiful park in the rear of the executive mansion, which is situated in the famous "Wilhelmstrasse." He walks alone, accompanied only by his dog, Rolf. On rainy mornings he sits for an hour in the glass-enclosed veranda and reads — generally some historical work. The official day begins at 9:30.

It is marked by an almost steady stream of callers — ministers, heads of government departments, diplomats, members of the Reichstag, representatives of special delegations, etc. First of all, however, Secretary of State Meissner is received.

Meissner's name is seldom heard, for he keeps himself completely in the background, but he nevertheless plays an extraordinarily important role politically in Germany. He was secretary of state under President Ebert, and is himself a socialist, but was retained by President von Hindenburg. Despite the fact that the old field marshal stands at the opposite political pole, he reposes confidence, doubly heavy for a man of his great age, and is merely the kind grandfather, with a happy smile which would be a revelation to those who know him only from official visits.

On his rare free days the president motors with the members of his family to a hunting lodge, two hours from Berlin, which belongs to the state of Prussia.

The field marshal is a passionate hunter, and is prouder of his trophies of the chase — antlers, boars' heads and other mementoes of days spent with rifle and shot gun — than of his many orders and decorations.

Bells for America Being Made in English Foundry
LOUGHBOROUGH, England.—(AP)—Bells for America are being made at the foundry here in increasing numbers. There is enough work on hand to last for two years.

One order calls for 61 bells, the largest of which will weigh more than 10 tons. This carillon is destined for Florida.

Another order is for 48 bells for a carillon at Germantown, Pa., while a virtual replica of the famous carillon at Bruges is about to be shipped for the city hall at Albany, New York.

"You look foolish," said the friend.
"Think so?"
"And you talk silly."
"Are you sure?"
"Of course. You are beginning to act like a moron."
"Don't weaken in your opinion. I feel a temptation to commit a crime and I want the alienists on my side."

GERMAN PRESIDENT NEARING 80 MARK
Von Hindenburg Spends Strenuous Day in Official Capacity

BERLIN, July 21.—October 2nd will bring the eightieth birthday of President Paul von Hindenburg of Germany.

It is an age when most men would feel that they have a right to rest from the labors of an exacting and strenuous life, but there is no rest for the venerable field marshal. For him there is no such thing as an eight-hour day, yet he carries his heavy burdens in an astounding manner and fulfills with the greatest exactitude and devotion the manifold duties resting on the head of the German Reich.

The President's day proceeds according to a carefully regulated schedule. He rises at 6 o'clock and is ready at 7 o'clock for breakfast, which consists of coffee, rolls, and perhaps jam. Every morning he finds on the breakfast table a big pile of newspapers.

Although the chief of the press department of the foreign office is to visit him later in the day and report on the news that could interest the President, Hindenburg nevertheless looks through all the newspapers himself, from the most reactionary down to the socialist organ "Vorwarts." One paper, however, is not permitted to enter the President's mansion. This is the "Rote Fahne," the Communist organ.

At 8 o'clock President von Hindenburg takes a walk in the beautiful park in the rear of the executive mansion, which is situated in the famous "Wilhelmstrasse." He walks alone, accompanied only by his dog, Rolf. On rainy mornings he sits for an hour in the glass-enclosed veranda and reads — generally some historical work. The official day begins at 9:30.

It is marked by an almost steady stream of callers — ministers, heads of government departments, diplomats, members of the Reichstag, representatives of special delegations, etc. First of all, however, Secretary of State Meissner is received.

Meissner's name is seldom heard, for he keeps himself completely in the background, but he nevertheless plays an extraordinarily important role politically in Germany. He was secretary of state under President Ebert, and is himself a socialist, but was retained by President von Hindenburg. Despite the fact that the old field marshal stands at the opposite political pole, he reposes confidence, doubly heavy for a man of his great age, and is merely the kind grandfather, with a happy smile which would be a revelation to those who know him only from official visits.

On his rare free days the president motors with the members of his family to a hunting lodge, two hours from Berlin, which belongs to the state of Prussia.

The field marshal is a passionate hunter, and is prouder of his trophies of the chase — antlers, boars' heads and other mementoes of days spent with rifle and shot gun — than of his many orders and decorations.

Bells for America Being Made in English Foundry
LOUGHBOROUGH, England.—(AP)—Bells for America are being made at the foundry here in increasing numbers. There is enough work on hand to last for two years.

One order calls for 61 bells, the largest of which will weigh more than 10 tons. This carillon is destined for Florida.

Another order is for 48 bells for a carillon at Germantown, Pa., while a virtual replica of the famous carillon at Bruges is about to be shipped for the city hall at Albany, New York.

"You look foolish," said the friend.
"Think so?"
"And you talk silly."
"Are you sure?"
"Of course. You are beginning to act like a moron."
"Don't weaken in your opinion. I feel a temptation to commit a crime and I want the alienists on my side."

GERMAN PRESIDENT NEARING 80 MARK
Von Hindenburg Spends Strenuous Day in Official Capacity

BERLIN, July 21.—October 2nd will bring the eightieth birthday of President Paul von Hindenburg of Germany.

confidence, doubly heavy for a man of his great age, and is merely the kind grandfather, with a happy smile which would be a revelation to those who know him only from official visits.

On his rare free days the president motors with the members of his family to a hunting lodge, two hours from Berlin, which belongs to the state of Prussia.

The field marshal is a passionate hunter, and is prouder of his trophies of the chase — antlers, boars' heads and other mementoes of days spent with rifle and shot gun — than of his many orders and decorations.

Bells for America Being Made in English Foundry
LOUGHBOROUGH, England.—(AP)—Bells for America are being made at the foundry here in increasing numbers. There is enough work on hand to last for two years.

One order calls for 61 bells, the largest of which will weigh more than 10 tons. This carillon is destined for Florida.

Another order is for 48 bells for a carillon at Germantown, Pa., while a virtual replica of the famous carillon at Bruges is about to be shipped for the city hall at Albany, New York.

"You look foolish," said the friend.
"Think so?"
"And you talk silly."
"Are you sure?"
"Of course. You are beginning to act like a moron."
"Don't weaken in your opinion. I feel a temptation to commit a crime and I want the alienists on my side."

GERMAN PRESIDENT NEARING 80 MARK
Von Hindenburg Spends Strenuous Day in Official Capacity

BERLIN, July 21.—October 2nd will bring the eightieth birthday of President Paul von Hindenburg of Germany.

It is an age when most men would feel that they have a right to rest from the labors of an exacting and strenuous life, but there is no rest for the venerable field marshal. For him there is no such thing as an eight-hour day, yet he carries his heavy burdens in an astounding manner and fulfills with the greatest exactitude and devotion the manifold duties resting on the head of the German Reich.

The President's day proceeds according to a carefully regulated schedule. He rises at 6 o'clock and is ready at 7 o'clock for breakfast, which consists of coffee, rolls, and perhaps jam. Every morning he finds on the breakfast table a big pile of newspapers.

Although the chief of the press department of the foreign office is to visit him later in the day and report on the news that could interest the President, Hindenburg nevertheless looks through all the newspapers himself, from the most reactionary down to the socialist organ "Vorwarts." One paper, however, is not permitted to enter the President's mansion. This is the "Rote Fahne," the Communist organ.

At 8 o'clock President von Hindenburg takes a walk in the beautiful park in the rear of the executive mansion, which is situated in the famous "Wilhelmstrasse." He walks alone, accompanied only by his dog, Rolf. On rainy mornings he sits for an hour in the glass-enclosed veranda and reads — generally some historical work. The official day begins at 9:30.

It is marked by an almost steady stream of callers — ministers, heads of government departments, diplomats, members of the Reichstag, representatives of special delegations, etc. First of all, however, Secretary of State Meissner is received.

Meissner's name is seldom heard, for he keeps himself completely in the background, but he nevertheless plays an extraordinarily important role politically in Germany. He was secretary of state under President Ebert, and is himself a socialist, but was retained by President von Hindenburg. Despite the fact that the old field marshal stands at the opposite political pole, he reposes confidence, doubly heavy for a man of his great age, and is merely the kind grandfather, with a happy smile which would be a revelation to those who know him only from official visits.

On his rare free days the president motors with the members of his family to a hunting lodge, two hours from Berlin, which belongs to the state of Prussia.

The field marshal is a passionate hunter, and is prouder of his trophies of the chase — antlers, boars' heads and other mementoes of days spent with rifle and shot gun — than of his many orders and decorations.

Bells for America Being Made in English Foundry
LOUGHBOROUGH, England.—(AP)—Bells for America are being made at the foundry here in increasing numbers. There is enough work on hand to last for two years.

One order calls for 61 bells, the largest of which will weigh more than 10 tons. This carillon is destined for Florida.

Another order is for 48 bells for a carillon at Germantown, Pa., while a virtual replica of the famous carillon at Bruges is about to be shipped for the city hall at Albany, New York.

"You look foolish," said the friend.
"Think so?"
"And you talk silly."
"Are you sure?"
"Of course. You are beginning to act like a moron."
"Don't weaken in your opinion. I feel a temptation to commit a crime and I want the alienists on my side."

GERMAN PRESIDENT NEARING 80 MARK
Von Hindenburg Spends Strenuous Day in Official Capacity

BERLIN, July 21.—October 2nd will bring the eightieth birthday of President Paul von Hindenburg of Germany.

confidence, doubly heavy for a man of his great age, and is merely the kind grandfather, with a happy smile which would be a revelation to those who know him only from official visits.

On his rare free days the president motors with the members of his family to a hunting lodge, two hours from Berlin, which belongs to the state of Prussia.

The field marshal is a passionate hunter, and is prouder of his trophies of the chase — antlers, boars' heads and other mementoes of days spent with rifle and shot gun — than of his many orders and decorations.

Bells for America Being Made in English Foundry
LOUGHBOROUGH, England.—(AP)—Bells for America are being made at the foundry here in increasing numbers. There is enough work on hand to last for two years.

One order calls for 61 bells, the largest of which will weigh more than 10 tons. This carillon is destined for Florida.

Another order is for 48 bells for a carillon at Germantown, Pa., while a virtual replica of the famous carillon at Bruges is about to be shipped for the city hall at Albany, New York.

"You look foolish," said the friend.
"Think so?"
"And you talk silly."
"Are you sure?"
"Of course. You are beginning to act like a moron."
"Don't weaken in your opinion. I feel a temptation to commit a crime and I want the alienists on my side."

GERMAN PRESIDENT NEARING 80 MARK
Von Hindenburg Spends Strenuous Day in Official Capacity

BERLIN, July 21.—October 2nd will bring the eightieth birthday of President Paul von Hindenburg of Germany.

It is an age when most men would feel that they have a right to rest from the labors of an exacting and strenuous life, but there is no rest for the venerable field marshal. For him there is no such thing as an eight-hour day, yet