ROZELLA BUNCH

Interesting Meeting of Writer's Club on Tuesday Evening

An unusually large number of guests and members were present on Tuesday evening for the meeting of the Writer's section of the Salem Arts League.

The club was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Lisle on South Thirteenth Street. Following the picnic supper, which was served on the lawn, the group gathered in the living rooms of the Lisle home for a program of particular interest.

The program opened with the reading of the introduction to his poetic drama, "The Altar of the Moon," by Lester McDonald.

Mrs. Viola Price Franklin read three Japanese verses and also letters from several well-known Oregon authors.

Mrs. Myra Albert Wiggins, who formerly made her home in Salem and is now a guest of her sister, Mrs. George F. Rodgers, read a number of verses which have recently been published in the "Lariat" and other magazines.

A letter of literary criticism concerning his play, "The Sphinx Scarab," was read by Robert G. Paulus. Miss Rosalia Swart gave the introduction of her poem "The Hills of God."

Mrs. Edna L. Daily contributed several original poems, and Mrs. Ruth Fargo read a letter from Mrs. Anna Peterson.

A discussion of air mail poetry was offered by Dr. F. S. Franklin. This discussion was based on the views of Colonel Lindbergh and the post-office department.

An article on the development of the novel, read by Mrs. Blanche M. Jones, closed this evening's program.

Those in the group were Miss Grace Elizabeth Smith, Mrs. R. W.

Walton, of Montclair, New Jersey, Dr. Mary J. Rowland, Mrs. Edna Daily, Mrs. Blanche M. Jones, Mrs. Ruth Fargo, Mrs. Myra Albert Wiggins of Toppenish, Washington; Miss Lucile Tucker, Miss Marie Roberts, Mrs. Ora McIntyre, Miss Renska Swart, Dr. and Mrs. F. G. Franklin, Mr. and Mrs. K. E. Carrubers, Otto Paulus, Perry Reigelman, Dr. James Lisle, Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Paulus, Lester McDonald, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Lisle.

Gathering Held at Champeog on Sunday

Former residents of Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, and Nebraska, gathered last Sunday at Champeog Park.

The principal address of the afternoon's program, which was held in the auditorium, was given by Milton A. Miller in behalf of the Sons and Daughters of Pioneers. Mr. Miller appealed for better recognition of Champeog as the scene of much Pacific coast history.

Other speakers were Lester Matthieu, son of F. X. Matthieu; Norwood Ogden Draper, a grandson of Peter Skene Ogden; and Charles O'Neil who wrote a history of the Cayuse war.

A fact particularly interesting to those from Illinois, was that Abraham Lincoln declined the honor of being Oregon's first territorial governor. Indiana people learned that Joseph Lane, the first territorial governor, was a citizen of Indiana, as was also Oregon's first state governor, John Whitaker. Iowa's first school teacher, Berryman Jennings, for whom Jennings Lodge was named, was the first Worshipful Master of the Grand Lodge of Masons of Oregon, and that the laws of Iowa were the ones chosen by the framers of the Provisional Government for Oregon.

AN ARTIST IN OILS

He can never put in his own dinner studs—or select a modest muffler—or carry a tune. But what a delicious French Dressing he mixes!

With what consummate ease he trickles in the oil! With what artistry he flicks in the seasoning! What close harmony in his blending!

For a mild dressing he uses three parts of Wesson Oil to one of vinegar or lemon juice. When he wants a little more tang he uses more vinegar—two parts perhaps. The proportions of Wesson Oil and vinegar depend largely on the strength of his particular vinegar or lemon juice. In addition to salt and pepper he often adds a dash of paprika.

And just to mystify his guests he sometimes mixes in a bit of Chili sauce or a little mustard sauce for green salads—or tart currant jelly sometimes for salads of fruit. His French Dressing is always a delightful surprise and because it is freshly blended, it is much more appetizing.

He is very particular about his salad oil. Wesson Oil he finds very delicate in flavor. It is light in color and blends perfectly. It is, in fact, exactly what he wants.

Everybody likes Wesson Oil because it is good for you as well as good to eat.
