WHITE COAL AND STILL WATER

The Portland Journal of last evening says: "Wednesay a dozen Pendleton and eastern Oregon citizens urged he directors of the Portland Chamber of Commerce to upport the Umatilla rapids project with money and inustries; they will come without being asked, when such ric power. That power, cheaply developed, will bring inustries will come without being asked, when low cost ower is made available. This is fundamental and cannot e disputed. There is Umatilla Rapids and there is Celilo nd there is Cascade Locks, all sites for enormous power t bottom cost. They probably are the basis for the mightist driving force for the wheels of industry on the face f the earth, and all are within a stone's throw of Portland. 'hey will be the great foundation on which the huge manuacturing Portland as it ultimately will be, will rest. In such view, there could be no limit to the industrial development f this town."

The Postland Telegram of last evening tells of the act that the Portland Realty Board on Thursday organized n industrial division-

Resolution Of Good Wishes And Regret At Parting Approved At Meeting

Resolutions were drawn up and approved by the regular midweek meeting of the First Baptist church Thursday with a large number of the church members present, in regard to the impending departure of Rev. Ernest H. Shanks to his new pastorate at Loveland, Colo., as follows: To the Baptist Fellowship, Everywhere.

"Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just .- whatsoever things are of good report, if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things."

The time when the relation of pastor and people must be severed calls us to review the work of the closing pastorate, and to evaluate the several activities of the one who is taking leave of the church.

Rev. Ernest H. Shanks has erved the First Baptist Church of Salem, Oregon for three and a half years. His work has been characterized by an unusual zeal for the church, his teaching has exalted the Bible as the revealed word of God, and his preaching has been scriptual and conserva- ing of another naval disarmament
