WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Mrs. Annie Kwinski of 526 1st Avenue, Milwaukee, Wis., writes that she became so weak and run-down that she was not able to do her housework. She saw the name Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the paper and said to her husband, "I will try that medicine and see if it will help me." She says she took six bottles and is feeling much better.

Mrs. Mattie Adams, who lives in Downing Street, Brewster, Ala., writes as follows: "A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and since taking it I feel like a different woman."

With her children grown up, the middle-aged woman finds time to do the things she never had time to do before—read the new books, see the new plays, enjoy her grandchildren, take an active part in church and civic affairs. Far from being pushed aside by the younger set, she leads a full, rich life of her own. That is, if her health is good.

Thousands of women past fifty, say they owe their health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

One of the quickest sales of city lots in Salem has recently been completed with the sale of 6 lots in the new Walnut Park addition, handled by R. A. Harris.

The new addition lies between 21st and 24th streets, adjoining the west end of the state hospital grounds, facing on Center. A reservation of 29 lots was made by the owners for future development of sale.

The plan used in the sale was to put all the lots up for $500, with the choice of lots to be determined by a drawing which will be held at the chamber of commerce as soon as the city council goes through the formality of vacating the territory.

A building restriction of $2750 as a minimum has been set on improvement of the lots, with a number of buyers already drawing up plans for building.

The addition was purchased from the state for $16,000, and the 56 lots sold have brought $48,000 with 20 lots still held in reserve.
