ALL EXHIBIT SPACE AT FAIR NOW TAKEN

Tents and Other Temporary Quarters Being Provided For Overflow

Early reservations through entry lists have already filled every foot of available space in the exhibit buildings for the 66th annual Oregon State Fair which opens September 26 and state fair officials are resorting to every means possible of obtaining accommodations for additional applicants who are daily requesting space.

One large tent has already been arranged by Mrs. Ella Schultz Wilson, secretary of the fair board, to provide shelter for the overflow in the livestock department and one and even two more tents will be necessary from present indications.

The entry list so far insures the largest exhibition of this kind in the history of the fair and applicants are coming in for space earlier and more rapidly than ever before.

Extra accommodations are being prepared to house the large displays of poultry, pigeons and rabbits which will be a feature of the fair this year. Bee and honey and bee products for food will be specially stressed in this department which has grown rapidly during the past few years.

Sixteen entries have already been made for the ton litter contest for swine and this division has increased to such size that a complete re-arrangement of the sheds has been necessary.

Several exhibitors from Canada are sending flocks for the sheep department while an exceptionally large display of county dairy herds is in prospect with state Jersey, Holstein and Guernsey associations lending their energies toward obtaining a favorable representation of their breeds.

At least five six-horse hitchers and a particularly fine showing of three and five gaited horses will feature the popular night horse show which has steadily been gaining in popularity since it was inaugurated a few years ago. Many of last year's exhibitors will be back with new animals in the entry list.

YACHATS

YACHATS-BY-THE-SEA, AUG. 13.—(Special to the Statesman)—Great excitement reigned here Monday when it was reported that smelt were running. People rushed to the river with receptacles of all sorts, only to be disappointed, as only a few were caught. Large schools have been sighted off shore, however, and will begin the run before long.

The local smelt are much larger than the Sandy river smelt, and are not yet soft, having not made such a long trip against the freshwater current.

Numerous schools of "tom cod" have been sighted, and the children have had considerable fun catching the "toms" on lines with a number of hooks. Some of these fish are between nine and twelve inches long. Large numbers of them are being caught by local people.

Kelp fish are starting to come in. Their meat is greenish in color, but turns white upon cooking, and is considered the most delicate and choicest of the sea fish by many old-timers.

Another fish being caught at present is the "blue back," or salmon trout. These are being caught with spinner and spoon in the Yachats river. Trout fishermen are required to have licenses, which is not the case with the seekers after the sea fish.

Fishing is expected to be good here during the whole month of August.

One of the several local Indian burial grounds was explored recently, to the delight of the children. Beads, Indian arrow-heads, thumbies, and numerous other treasures cherished by the little folks were found.

R. M. Williams and Harry Ralph and family, of Salem, have been visitors at the Ocean View cottages, owned by Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Newport.

At the Hotel Wheeler the following have been Yachats guests: Mrs. Louise Hutcheon, of Salem, and a party consisting of Mrs. A. Rush, the McNarys, and the Johnsons, who spent a day here during the week.

Guests at the Mitchell's camp grounds during the week, have included Charles Sargent, H. D. Ferrill, W. Verstug, S. M. Huselman, J. V. Asborn, and A. J. Paris.

Others who have been among the many campers at this popular resort are Mr. and Mrs. George Tucker and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ferley Hysler and family, and Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Isherwood, who were camped at Isherwood's camp ground.
