

Illahee Club Will Add Second Nine Hole Course in Time for Next Season

WATERING SYSTEM ALSO TO BE ADDED

Construction of the second nine holes at the Illahee country club golf course southeast of Salem, forecast last year by the purchase of additional property adjoining the present course, was decided upon by unanimous vote of the club directors Thursday noon in a meeting at the Gray Belle, with the date for completion set at April 1, 1928, in time for the opening of the next playing season.

At the same time, the directors voted to expend $7,000 for a new irrigation system which will provide ample water for the full 18 holes.

The present nine hole course is regarded as one of the "sportiest" in the state, due to the natural advantages of the tract on which it was laid out and the ingenuity of the experts who laid it out.

The land on which the second nine is to be built is similarly favored to supply sporty playing conditions, so that with the better care made possible by the new irrigation system, the course will become one of the best in the state.

Great increase in the popularity of golf here, resulting in serious congestion on Sundays and holidays on the nine hole course, has made the extension necessary as well as desirable at this time.

The new course, it was announced, will be laid out on the east and southeast sides of the present course, while holes five and six of the present nine will be relocated.

The town of Keanae, from which the Miss Doran plane was reported sighted, is 110 miles from Honolulu on the northern coast of the island of Maui. The position is remote from communication. The island of Molokai lies between Maui island and Oahu island on which Honolulu is located.

HONOLULU, Aug. 18.—(AP)—The navy radio station was informed tonight an army biplane was found floating in Keanae bay, island of Maui. Keanae on Maui island is in a remote section. The rocky coast is broken by a small sand beach.

PAIA, MAUI, Hawaii, Aug. 18.—(AP)—A report received here tonight said that the Pedlar plane has been sighted five miles off Keanae, Maui island. It is impossible to tell the conditions aboard. A sampan, (Japanese fishing boat) is enroute.

WAILUKI, Island of Maui, Hawaii, Aug. 18.—(AP)—An Associated Press representative returned tonight from Keanae where it was found there were no traces of the Miss Doran plane.

HONOLULU, Aug. 18.—(AP)—A second message received tonight from William H. Clark, a prominent resident of Paia, island of Maui, said: "This object sighted this afternoon was not the Pedlar (Miss Doran) plane. It is supposed to be a fishing boat." A previous message from Mr. Clark had said definitely that a plane had been seen and a Japanese fishing boat dispatched to rescue it. The later message was taken as setting at rest his first report.

JACK ONCE FOUGHT SIX DAYS FOR $350

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Jack Dempsey boxed a whole week in Chicago ten years ago for the princely sum of $350.

Today, the former world's heavyweight champion returned with the prospect of getting $700,000 for 30 minutes or less in his attempt to regain the crown from Gene Tunney in their battle at Soldiers field, September 22.

The warmth of the welcome accorded Dempsey tangled traffic in the vicinity of the Morrison hotel for hours.

"The never flocked around me like this when I was the champion," Dempsey remarked, with a smile. "It makes me feel good. Chicago, you know is the place where I really got started."

"Why, I boxed a whole week at a neighborhood theatre for $350 back in 1917. That was big dough to me then. Kearns and I were here before we were matched with Willard, neither of us was very fat in the pocket-book."

Despite his pleasure at the enthusiasm of the throng, Dempsey avoided them as best he could. He left the train with his wife, Estelle Taylor, at a suburban station, and motored with her to the Edgewater Beach hotel where she was hidden away from the crowd.

Dempsey established his headquarters temporarily at the Morrison hotel, entering the building by the employees' entrance to escape the crush.

After a conference with Leo F. Flynn, his manager, Dempsey decided that he would not go into training at his Lincoln field camp until Monday and possibly Tuesday, resting until that time.

The former champion, tanned a deep brown, said he weighed about 204 pounds, which is about eight pounds above his usual fighting weight. He appeared eager to plunge into his training grid but said he would do no boxing for possibly a week after going into camp.

Dempsey is satisfied that he is in good shape to go into training but expressed a wish that he might weigh four or five pounds more.

"Win," he said in reply to a question. "I'm not only going to win but I'm going to knock Mr. Tunney. Ten rounds, sure. I wouldn't be here if I did not think I was going to win."

N. Y. COMMISSION AFTER DELANEY

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Jack Delaney's quest of heavyweight honors, off to a rather dubious start in a clouded seven round victory on a foul over Paulino Escudrup, was brought to a halt for a time being at least by the New York state athletic commission today.

Along with his manager, Pete Reilly, and the remainder of the men's boxing staff, Delaney was suspended indefinitely for Reilly's failure to answer a summons to appear before the board today. The commission had requested Reilly's presence to explain Delaney's failure to fight Jack Sharkey at the Coney Island stadium last September.

The suspension followed close on the settling down of Reilly as a second early this week when the board found that the manager's conduct after the Paulino match left something to be desired when he raced around the ring exhibiting Delaney's dented groin protector. Bill Duffey, who seconded Jack Dempsey against Jack Sharkey and was in Delaney's corner the night of the Paulino tussle, also was suspended. The commission refused at that time to banish Paulino for 30 days as is customary when a foul is committed.

HE COST WHITE SOX JUST $113,000

The Chicago Americans had to dig, and dig deep, when they forked over to Oakland Pacific coast club the price which brought Lynn Lary, sensational western shortstop, to the White Sox. The Sox paid $113,000 for Lary, a sum not far below what Babe Ruth cost the Yankees.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

Low Tendler, in his day one of the greatest lightweights in the game and foremost exponent of the southpaw stance, plans an immediate invasion of the west coast to tackle Sgt. Sammy Baker, Ace Hudkins and one or two other boys of the present generation.

Tendler's trip is a commercial venture, pure and simple. He is past his day as a fighter. He has been battling 13 years. Few fighters retain their form that long. Tendler fought himself out four or five years ago.

His 15-round battle with Ben Leonard, June 24, 1923, marked the high point of his career. He had the lightweight title with him in his grasp that day but actually let the champion kid him out of it. Tendler had dazed Leonard with a punch to the jaw. The champ's legs were weak. He had to hold on for a few seconds to let his brain clear. Had Tendler shaken him off and driven home a stiff punch the crown might have changed hands.

Leonard kept his head, however, though it was a bit fogged. He produced a confident grin and began to joke Tendler about the lucky punch. Tendler was too surprised at Leonard's chatter to follow up his advantage.

The pair had fought a 12-round no-decision affair in 1922. Tendler lost a tough fight to Rocky Kansas in 1921, the Rocky one getting the decision in 15 rounds. They had clashed before in 1919.

PICK U. S. TENNIS MEN FOR DAVIS CUP

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—(AP)—An experienced team consisting of William T. Tilden, II, and Richard N. William, II, Philadelphia, William M. Johnston, San Francisco and Francis T. Hunter, New Rochelle, N. Y., was named today to defend the Davis cup Sept. 8, 9 and 10 at Germantown, Pa. The United States has held the trophy, representing the world's team tennis championship, for seven years.

George M. Lott, Jr. of Chicago and John Doeg, Santa Monica, Cal., the country's outstanding younger stars, were named as alternates, and will stay with the team throughout the matches for practice and experience.

Except that Hunter replaces Vincent Richards, who has turned professional, the team is the same as that which won from the French last year. The foreign challenger is expected to come from France again this season.

It ought to be the right thing to say here that Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig as a vaudeville team ought to make a big hit.

Lightning Dick Ferguson, Boston negro, lived up to his name. He was knocked out in the first round recently.

The original Homer was blind, says history. Nevertheless it takes a keen eye to sock four-base clouts these days.
