

Coach "Spec" Keene Calls Bearcat Football Men to Report Sept. 14

MAY GET KASBERGER AS ASSISTANT COACH

Coach Roy "Spec" Keene has set September 14 as the day when suits will be issued to candidates for the football squad at Willamette university this fall. At 9:30 a. m., September 15, the men will report for practice. From then on two periods each day will be devoted to shaping the pigskin handlers for the first game October 1.

About 60 temporary ice toters, harvest hands, sewer diggers and others are expected to reintroduce their summer professions and report to Coach Keene for chances to aspire to places on Willamette's 1927 eleven. Keene and his assistants will have the complete program of training outlined and no time will be lost in putting the candidates through their paces.

Significant in its import for an outstanding team this fall is the intimation that Joe Kasberger, one of the wildest football mentors in the northwest, will serve as assistant coach to Keene. His employment has not yet been approved by the university athletic committee. His services, however, can be secured very reasonable remuneration, and there is little doubt but that he will be on the field when practice starts.

Kasberger recently coached football at Mt. Angel college. He has been there 9 years. After four years of the game at O. A. C., Kasberger went back to aid Knute Rockne for one year at Notre Dame, prior to his appointment at Mt. Angel. He knows football from the ground up.

Another man who probably will aid in drilling the Willamette players is Kenny Denman, one of the best half backs O. A. C. ever has produced. This fellow was quarterback under Coach Keene for 3 years at Corvallis high school. At O. A. C. he was honor student in physical education courses. In addition to helping on the field, Denman will teach a course in the P. E. department. Leslie Sparks, as trainer, also will contribute to the development of the men.

Coach Keene is not making any promises for the season now so at least here. His opinions, if anything, are pessimistic. Yet, there is something in his manner which denotes hope for better success than last year.

There are plenty of discouraging facts. Unless figures are given to prevent variation, the casualty list from last year's squad will be unusually great. Graduation claimed three, Hartley, and Rhoads, tackles, and Bergsvik, alternate at end. The spectre of low scholarship claimed at least 10, and three or four good players plan not to return to the university this fall. A check-up shows only about 14 of the impressive squad of 30 experienced men who turned in their suits last winter.

Those who are rather certain to be in school and eligible for places on the squad are Craner, Lane, Mort, Mumford, Rich, Verste, Waddill, Zellner, Winslow, Woodworth, French, Hawk, Philpott, and Emmons.

A mere glance at the list shows the absence of such names as Bick, Fleming, Sandburg, Riedel, Mackenzie, McMullin, Nakano, and Schofield. These men were real powers on the squad last year. There is a bare possibility that Bick, who is now in California, may return. This man was all conference center last year. Mackenzie, known as the "fightingest" man on the squad, is deficient scholastically, but there is a good chance he will make this up during the summer, and be eligible to play. The others, however, are definitely out.

Coach Keene has his eye on several likely high school graduates and may uncover material to step up the weak places. The greatest weakness seems to be at tackle. Neither is there a good kicker in prospect.

The first game for the Bearcats will be University of Washington at Seattle, October 1st. This has developed into an annual tussle for the locals for the athletic fund needs money, and the state supported school is willing to pay well for an early season game. A double header against Albany college and Monmouth Normal school will follow on October 8th.

A game against either University of Oregon or Oregon Agricultural college may be arranged for the open date, October 29th.

The schedule to date follows:

Oct. 1...University of Washington at Seattle.

Oct. 1, University of Washington at Seattle.

Oct. 8, Albany college and Monmouth normal school at Salem.

Oct. 15, College of Puget Sound at Tacoma.

Oct. 22, College of Idaho at Salem.

Oct. 29, Open.

Nov. 5, Pacific University at Salem.

Nov. 11, Linfield college at Salem.

Nov. 24, Whitman college at Walla Walla.

SENATORS DEFEAT NICOLAI BY A RUN

The Salem Senators eliminated the Nicolai nine from the Portland City League here Sunday afternoon at Oxford Park, defeating the doormakers by a 3 to 2 score. Beck pitching for the home team and Sax for the visitors each went the full nine innings, the former striking out 11 opposing batsmen, while Sax walked three and with the aid of nimble work on the part of his team mates held the Senators to ten hits.

Boesch, Nicolai shortstop, connected with the apple for a single after the first man in the first inning, and then stole second. The next man was struck out. Bottler slammed out a two bagger scoring Boesch. Billy Sullivan, Senator first sacker, singled when his team came to bat but the next three batters went out on a high fly and two infield blows respectively.

The next inning was scoreless on each side although the home team managed to get two men on when Ridings drew a walk and McKenna singled.

Both teams scored one run in the third. Sax, visitor pitcher, singled and was sacrificed to second by Boesch. Strader walked, Bottler struck out and Sax scored on Burton's single. Bitner struck out retiring the side. For Salem, Goleman singled, stole second and was brought in by Steers' two bagger for Salem's first counter.

In the following three cantos neither side scored, Beck holding the Nicolai batsmen to two hits while Sax dealt out one hit and walked Edwards in the fourth and Ridings in the sixth. Billy Sullivan hit out a single in the 7th after Beck flew out to left field, and sneaked over to second. A hot two bagger by his brother brought Billy in to tie the score at two all.

A hard try by the visitors to tie the score in the eighth failed when Boesch sent up a high foul behind the plate to Jacobberger, catching for Salem due to Edwards getting his finger hurt in the game with Montavilla last Sunday. Strader connected for a pretty single but was out trying to make second on the blow. Bottler, next up, lashed out a two bagger and Burton was given a base on balls. Bitner retired the side scoreless by striking out.

Steers came up for the Senators and singled, Jacobberger sacrificed him for a base and Ridings' two bagger put across the winning run by allowing Steers to score.

The game was well attended, incidentally swelling the receipts and giving the players an incentive to put up a good game of ball. Rooters for the visitors were few but accounted for themselves loudly with megaphones and other means of encouragement.

JACK IN NO HURRY TO BEGIN TRAINING

CHICAGO, AUG. 20.—(AP)—Peaceful in mind and in no hurry whatever to settle down to the task of training, Jack Dempsey today hovered attentively at the side of his ailing wife, Estelle Taylor. He announced however that he would go to Lincoln fields Monday, not only to look over his camp, but to start active work.

The first week, according to his plans, is to be little more than a limbering up routine, interrupted by visits to Chicago, particularly Mrs. Dempsey's sick room in her North Shore hotel apartment. After the first week, the former titleholder will see little or nothing of Chicago, until his battle Sept. 22 with Gene Tunney.

Dempsey laughed off reports that his wife had taken a sudden turn for the worse and that he had engaged three Chicago specialists to care for her.

"Nothing to it at all," Jack said, "she is getting along fine. The doctor says she will be up on her feet for good in a couple of weeks if she continues to improve. "There is no truth to the re-

"ROTTEN" SAYS BOBBY OF GAME

MINNEAPOLIS, AUG. 22.—(AP)—Youth showed the way in the first qualifying round of the National Amateur Golf championship today and, although age did not surrender without a struggle, the veterans took a series of hard rights and lefts to the golfing jaw.

Although another round of 18 holes remained to be played tomorrow to decide the surviving 32 and today's scores may not mean anything to speak of, the enthusiasm of the youngsters turned the elders back in some chagrin at the outset.

Bobby Jones, British open champion, playing a wild game he called "rotten," finished in 75 and George Von Elm, who won the amateur title from him last year, shot 79.
