According to Miss Denniston, the Ritchie car had no light on a trailer, so that she did not see it as she turned the corner.

PHANTOM FLARE RAISES HOPE FOR LOST SHIPS

Green Light Seen

Injured, or marooned on a crag, the fliers could only call help with their flares.

Residents of Hilo also reported seeing the flare, a green light that glimmered and then died in about 20 seconds.

So far as the navy's Hawaiian headquarters were concerned the search for the fliers ended today, except for the activities of two seaplane patrols operating over the same area northward of a line between the islands of Oahu and Kauai which was covered yesterday.

The submarine tender Holland and her submarines return to Pearl Harbor, refueled, reprovisioned and watered. This left the Sunnadin and Pelican the only naval ships out.

the destroyers and airplane carriers working eastward along the great circle about 1700 miles out from San Francisco.

War time scouting formation was being used by the destroyers of the sea in their search for life rafts or bits of planes that would indicate the fate of Miss Mildred Doran, John "Augsy" Pedlar, Lieutenant Vilas H. Knope, Jack Frost or Gordon Scott, the air racers who failed to reach their objective after hopping off from Oakland, Cal., last Tuesday.

The destroyer Hazelwood, having searched over 2,000 square miles about a point 680 miles out from San Francisco returned to port with word that there was not even an oil spot clue to the fate of Captain Wm. P. Erwin and A. H. Eichwald, pilot and navigator of the plane Dallas Spirit, unheard from since its frantic radio SOS last Friday night.

The Hazelwood refueled, restocked its water and food supplies and returned to sea last night.

Systematic methods were being employed by the searching vessels, Lieutenant-Commander John W. Gates, assistant communication officer of the district, declared today.

"The destroyers are deployed along a longitude line, intervals between them depending on visibility, usually about three miles; then they proceed eastward at a speed of about four knots. Men on the bridge, men at the masthead, men on the bow of each vessel scan the sea before them and between the vessels with such care that not a floating object could escape them.

"At night the vessels keep their positions but cut their speed, playing searchlights over the sea in all directions until daylight, then steam ahead a few knots faster."

Other Nations to Follow Suit Declares "Pussyfoot"

WINONA LAKE, IND., AUG. 23.—Expressing the confident belief that the day is close at hand when other nations of the world will follow the course of the United States in banishing liquor and the flag of civilized nations will no longer fly over a brewery, a distillery or a drinking hole, William E. (Pussyfoot) Johnson, international representative of the World League against Alcoholism, delivered the address which marked the close of this year's congress at Winona Lake.

"Go back to your homes and say that America is not going to lie down to be walked over by the off scouring of the former liquor system," declared Mr. Johnson in addressing the foreign delegates. "Tell the world that America has settled this problem."

Many of the new jerseys are heavier than those of last year.

A Lecture on Christian Science Entitled Christian Science: The Way to Life, Peace, and Joy by Hon. William E. Brown, C.S.B. of Los Angeles, California

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

If it were possible to make a composite word picture of those qualities most desired by mankind, this picture would contain the majestic words, life, peace, and joy.

Inasmuch as we are to spend an hour together in the endeavor to learn how to obtain this life, peace, and joy, and the liberty which these qualities confer upon us, it is essential that we should start out together with some measure of agreement as to the source of these most necessary and desirable qualities. Is not this source God?

LIFE
The great Master of men declared that he came that mankind might not only have life but that they might have it more abundantly. Christian Science teaches with faultless logic that since we are ever conscious of life and existence, it is impossible to escape living, and since this is so, it behooves us to learn as quickly as possible how to live harmoniously.

PEACE
What I have said about Life and living will doubtless be concurred in by all, but it will also be very apparent that merely to live, or exist, would not be entirely satisfactory. To enjoy living it must necessarily be peaceful living, a peace so well outlined by the Psalmist, who declared, "Great peace have they which love thy law; and nothing shall offend them." Herein is also indicated the source of all genuine and permanent peace, namely, obedience to God.

THE PRACTICABILITY OF THE BIBLE
We owe everlasting gratitude to Christian Science for many things, and among them is the fact that Mrs. Eddy has given us a method whereby each one of us can prove that the teachings of the Bible are in every way practicable and usable in all the affairs of everyday life.

MATERIAL EXISTENCE
In surveying the inconsistent and transitory medley known as material existence one is impressed with the universal conviction that no one is completely satisfied or happy, and that in the last analysis all mortal effort is directed toward the goal of achieving satisfaction and happiness. The plans advocated and championed are legion.

After uncounted centuries of application these mortal plans have failed to give the effect intended; so in helplessness and despair, mortals are crying in the wilderness, "Is there no balm in Gilead?" To this cry for help

Christian Science, with the calmness and assurance born of spiritual revelation, answers, "Yes!" On page 227 of the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," Mrs. Eddy says, "Citizens of the world accept the glorious liberty of the children of God, and be free: This is your divine right."

In my own early experience a great spiritual truth was impressed upon me which has never lost its brightness and glory. In substance it was this. If there is any hope for the creature, it must consist in the creature living in harmony with his creator. Now all thinking people will agree that this is a perfectly logical proposition and if it is truly logical it is susceptible of proof.

Mrs. Eddy did not discover or found a new religion, nor create a new Bible. What she did accomplish, and this accomplishment is the greatest of all events since the time of Jesus, was to discern spiritually the true import of his teaching, which reestablished in this age practical Christianity, which all may understand and prove in the healing of sickness and sin. All her teaching is based on the Scriptural assertion that God is All and there is none else. In her own life-practice she proved through the healing of the sick and the redemption of the sinner that she understood the teaching of the Master, and she furthermore imparted this understanding to unnumbered thousands who are in turn repeating, in this age, the works of Jesus and his apostles.

HOP-OFF AGAIN DELAYED Broken Gasoline Gauge Holds up British Airman Courtney

SOUTHANPTON, ENGLAND, Aug. 23.—(AP)—A broken gasoline gauge, discovered at the last moment, late today necessitated postponement of the hop-off of Captain Frank L. Courtney, British aviator, who plans to fly to the United States by way of the Azores.

Captain Courtney and his two companions in the projected flight had donned their flying suits and the plane had been filled with gasoline when the broken gauge was discovered.

It is probable that the flight will have to be put off until Wednesday.
