

Twelve Salem Men Enter Second Annual Labor Day Hike to Portland

200 IN ALL SIGNED FOR 52 MILE GRIND

An even dozen of Salem's best hikers are entered in the big Labor Day hike from Salem to Portland, sponsored by the Oregon Journal, at Portland, in which over 200 hikers plan to compete for the first prize of $125 and an airplane ride to Salem and back from Portland.

Those listed among the entrants from Salem are Edward Antrikin; George Baker, 260 Center street; Fred Criss, Rt. 3, Leon W. Dubois, Masonic building; Curtis Ferguson; Fred L. Gerspach, 2395 N. Liberty street; William Hoffman, Terminal hotel; Stanley G. Hooper, 317 W. Polk street; Chester E. Page, 1167 Court street; Reed Rowland, 1175 Leslie street; Orville Thomas, 535 S. 18th street; and Victor D. Wolfe, 1175 Shipping street.

The entry list for participation in the 52 mile hike closed last week, with over 200 signed up, and many more applicants being turned down after the limit was reached. Entrants are required to have a doctor's certificate showing that the hiker is in a fit physical condition for the grueling walk.

The starter's gun will be fired at 5 a. m. on the morning of Labor Day, at the state capitol building. The route follows the Pacific highway to Portland, and ends in front of the Oregon Journal building.

Last year E. L. Sadler, an employee of the P. E. P. company in Portland, won the prize by making the hike in 9 hours, 59 1/2 minutes. Sadler is entered in the contest again, and claims to be in the best of condition. Several others who have entered this year from the list of last year's registrants claim that they can make the trip in less than 9 hours, 20 minutes.

Some of Salem's entrants are known to be practicing regularly for the hike, and expect to be able to beat the champion's time set last year.

Cash prizes for the first ten places range from $175 for the first, $75 for the second, $50 for the fourth, to $10 each for the others through tenth place. Several extra prizes have been offered, including a meal ticket and choice of meals at a Portland dairy lunch.

Entrants to the long hike will be given their numbers the night before the race, at the Marion hotel, where the director of the affair will have headquarters established.

Rules of the hike require that the contestants walk, not run, and that they remain within six feet of the pavement while on the hike. This is the second annual Labor Day hike from Salem to Portland sponsored by the Oregon Journal, and it promises to give even more thrills than last year's hike which was witnessed by thousands of people along the way and at the finish in front of the Journal building.

BOXING BATTLE DELAYED

CLEVELAND, AUG. 23.—(AP)—Rain today caused postponement here tonight of the twelve round bout between Mickey Walker, middle weight king, and Wilson Yarbo, local negro boxer. Promoters said the fight would be staged tomorrow night, weather permitting.

"New York scribe says Dan Howley of the Browns is a manager who is going somewhere. That is a dirty crack, one way you look at it."

HEAVY RAINS DELAY DEMPSEY WORKOUT

Hard rains during the night and today turned the Lincoln fields race course into a chilly, uninviting place for Jack Dempsey today. As a result, the former world's heavyweight champion was forced to abandon his plans for road work, but he managed to get in a little light exercise.

Dempsey, using a walking expeditor, a device similar to a treadmill, figured that he hoofed it about three miles while picking his feet up and laying them down again on this contrivance. He also went through some limbering up exercises before cutting it a day for his first workout in camp.

The challenger was eager to get to work in the form of socking the leather bag and shadow boxing, but when wet weather interfered, he got rid of some of the eagerness by forcing the carpenters to lower the ring in which he will do his boxing and other work, to give lower level.

Dempsey discovered the ring was built three feet off the ground presenting a situation that might cause an injury if he should happen to be knocked out of the ring or fast out of it, or knock his sparring partners out of the enclosure as he did at Saratoga.

Dempsey apparently is out to the Lincoln fields camp to stay. He donned his regular camp regalia, consisting of white trousers, white shirt and a white sweater jacket. He looked the picture of supreme condition in this outfit, displaying the ruddiness which characterized his old time ring days.

JOHNSTON TO PAIR WITH R. WILLIAMS

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23.—(AP)—William M. Johnston, "grand little man" of tennis, laid aside his salesman's stock and bond portfolio today, dismissed business cares from his mind and prepared to depart for the east in quest of further court honors.

Tomorrow morning Johnston leaves for Boston to pair up with Richard W. Williams, 11, in the national doubles beginning next Monday. The San Francisco entrant in the doubles with Williams is considered significant. It is being done at the request of the United States Lawn Tennis association and those who follow the game believe this team will form America's threat in the Davis cup doubles.

Following the doubles play, Johnston will carry his smashing game into the Davis cup challenge round Sept. 8, and into at the Germantown Cricket club, Philadelphia. Lastly, he will appear in the national singles, a championship he has held twice in the earlier days of his 14 year campaign.

Reports from the east indicate that the burden of the Davis cup play is going to fall upon the shoulders of Johnston. This conclusion is reached because "Little Bill" and his terrific offensive style of play has always been virtually unmovable to the French racketeers. That the French will defeat Japan to reach the challenge round is expected on all sides.

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Portland continued its winning ways again in the Sacramento Senators today, taking the first game of the series 5 to 1. One big inning in which five hits were bunched insured the game for the Portlanders as early as the second frame. Kallio was the victim. Tomlin hurled a good game for the visitors but was a bit wild.

MADE MUCH DOUGH BUT LOST DOLLARS

Railroads made lots of dough last year, according to Allan Pollock, manager of Southern Pacific's commissary department, who says that all dough is not money in the till when made in dining car galleys.

Preparing delicious hot cakes, tea rolls and corn and bran muffins while the dining car speed along has been greatly simplified by modern scientific cookery. All the chef has to do is add milk to flour blends mixed fresh daily in the company's commissary kitchens by a series of ingenious machines that remove all guesswork from bread making.

"These machines," Pollock said, "work in the shortening and blend other ingredients with the flour in a dry mix that goes to the dining cars all ready to be made into dough. They were developed by our own experts to save time and establish invariable standards of excellence. Last year 350,000 pounds of blended flours turned out by these machines were mixed into dough and baked to be eaten by travelers."

"In spite of such efficiencies and economies our dining car service last year, aside from cost of maintaining cars, represented a loss of $400,000 due to the costliness of maintaining a cuisine on a par with that of the best hotels under the peculiar handicaps of operating a moving restaurant."

"TINY" HERMAN GETS SUSPENDED

TOPEKA, Kas., Aug. 23.—(AP)—Suspension of Roy "Hot" Burger, Dodge City, Kas., and Jim "Tiny" Herman, Portland, Ore., heavyweight boxers, was announced today by Leslie E. Edmonds, secretary of the Kansas athletic commission, which investigated the recent bout between the pair at Kansas City, Kas. The referee declared the bout a "no contest" affair after the alleged knockout of Herman by Burger's fist punch in the second round. Managers of the two boxers also were suspended and the purses were forfeited. The exhibition was under the auspices of the 35th Division Signal company, a national guard outfit in Kansas City, Kas.

WILLIAM TILDEN WINS FROM OWEN

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 23.—(AP)—In a match played in spite of a drizzle and thick fog from the sea, William T. Tilden today proved himself a much better tennis player than George Owen, former Harvard football star. Big Bill won 6-1, 6-0, and with the aid of a bye reached the third round of the invitation tournament in which he was the victor a year ago.

More than 300 persons from Newport's summer colony gathered at the famous Casino in spite of the weather to see Owen and Tilden in action. With cold rain falling the country's ranking player set out to finish the match as soon as possible.

JACK DEMPSEY BEGINS TO TRAIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Jack Dempsey moved bag and baggage to the quiet and expansive confines of the Lincoln fields race course Monday to settle down to business of preparing in his quest of regaining the world's heavyweight championship from Gene Tunney by their battle at Soldiers Field Sept. 23.

By moving out to the race course training camp, Dempsey will have just a month to whip himself into shape. Just a month from Monday night Dempsey and the champion will white away at each other in the great memorial stadium before some 160,000 spectators.

Dempsey busied himself in getting himself established. He will occupy the suite of Colonel Matt J. Winn, general manager of the track on the third floor of the club house. His sparring boys will be housed in the jockey's quarters.

JOE GANS LOSES TO PETE LATZO

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Aug. 23.—(AP)—Pete Latzo, of Scranton, former waterweight champion, tonight made his debut as a middle weight against Allentown Joe Gans, training partner of Jack Dempsey, and won on a foul in the eighth round of a ten round fight.

Gans had fouled Latzo earlier in the bout, Latzo continuing the fight after a short rest in the sixth round after being struck a low blow. When a fourth low blow landed in the eighth Latzo made no protest and appeared willing to continue but Referee James "Slim" Brennan stopped activities and ordered Gans to his corner.

Gans was down for the count of four in the second round and for a nine count in the fifth, both as a result of a vicious right hook to the jaw. Latzo weighed 164 1/2; Gans 162.

LEGION WORK TOLD COMMUNITY SERVICE FIRST, SAYS DUNSMOOR

Salem may take pride in possessing an American Legion post which is rated as the largest for a city of its size in the United States, members of the Salem Kiwanis club were told at their Tuesday noon luncheon by Lyle Dunsmoor, commander of Capital Post No. 9.

In outlining the policy of community service which the legion keeps foremost in its program, Dunsmoor mentioned the sponsoring of the summer band concert, hospitalization of disabled ex-service men, and the care of their families, aid for veterans in securing the soldiers' loan, the War Mothers memorial monument, contribution of more than $1000 to the Mississippi flood relief, and the sponsorship and financing of a creditable bugle and drum corps.

AGGIE TEAM TOUTED FOR COAST VICTORY

About a month remains before the gridrons of the Pacific coast will see much activity, but football possibilities are already beginning to be talked, and coaches are beginning to plan their training seasons. Not the least interesting, however, is that of the aspirants for places on the first year squads in the various colleges, according to Jess "Pop" Warner, veteran athletic coach at Fresno, California, high school, who was in Salem yesterday.

"Pop" Warner, who has been in Fresno for the past 18 years, is visiting at Turner with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shafter, Shafter having been on the coaching staff of the Fresno school for several years. "Pop" earned his cognomen several years ago, while "Pop" Warner of Stanford fame was still in the east.

The two coaches are not related, although both have turned out some wonderful football teams in their class. A lot of the Fresno Warner's stars have made places for themselves on the various athletic teams at the colleges they have attended. It is surprising, he says, the number of California high school stars who are taking an interest in O. A. C., especially in O. A. C. athletes. Schisler's fame as a coach is almost as great in California as it is in Oregon, according to Warner. Coach Bob Hagar, who nearly always turns out a first class basketball quintet, is equally well known, probably because of his "barntorming" tours in California every year just before the college season opens. Half the high schools in California have adopted the O. A. C. style of play, it is said.

Stanford university probably faces the best football prospects in the south, according to Warner, although U. S. C. is expected to give them a good fight. The University of California is regarded as rather weak this year.

In the northern half of the conference, O. A. C. is believed by the Californians to have a little edge on the University of Washington, and it is thought that O. A. C. will probably battle Stanford for all-coast honors. Authorities are fighting shy of expressing an opinion about McEwan's prospects at the University of Oregon, however, because McEwan is still an unknown quantity in coast football.

McEwan came from West Point well advertised, but found things in such a mess that it has taken him a little time to get straightened around to where he can put out a winning team. U. of O. teams have been impossible to figure during the past two or three years, and it is thought McEwan may have had time, in the year he has been at Oregon, to line up a pretty stiff aggregation. This, however, is just the pre-season outlook, and anything may happen.

"My best fallback of last year is going to Stanford this year," Warner said, "and I don't think it will be long before he will be making them sit up and take notice." But "Pop," who, while getting a lot of reflected glory from the name of Stanford's, "Pop," regards the other as the better of the two coaches, failed to mention the prospect's name. Savory of the O. A. C. baseball nine, was a graduate from Fresno, and is expected to make a good showing here, according to Warner.

Probably the best known high school football team on the coast, Warner said, was Everett, Washington. Since more strict regulations have been made regarding eligibility of players, though, Everett's fame has dwindled.

KELLEY BLAMES SCHOOL SYSTEM FOR EVIL FATE

but his voice was steady and calm, and his eyes flashed. "My life has been one of continual misunderstanding. Had my father been able to exercise proper influence had my teachers sought to enlighten me in the correct ways of living, instead of merely forcing obedience without enlightenment, and had the better people not entirely ignored me when I first started the battle with life alone as a boy of 17, my life might have been one of value to society."

Kelley was born in Iowa, coming with his parents to Oregon, October 13, 1911, his "unlucky day" as he pointed out. At Grants Pass, when 10 years of age, he made the acquaintance of "Oregon" Jones, then a reckless, irresponsible lad of about 15 the same age as Kelley. Close friendship developed between the two. They were members together of a club where wrestling and boxing were the chief forms of diversion.

The gang, to which he belonged was not given to evil pranks; Kelley was quick to make clear. Not until he was 17, did he come into conflict with the law, he declared. That was when

BOB JONES SHOWS HOW TO PLAY GOLF

MIRNEAPOLIS, Aug. 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—Bobby Jones showed again today that golfing chickens cannot be counted until he has hatched his brood. The British open champion stepped out in his second qualifying round of the national amateur championship to shoot a 67 that left him a score of 142, making him medalist for the third year in succession and placing him in a tie with D. Clarke Cockran for the best qualifying score ever made in the amateur.

Bobby's total of 142 was made up of his 67 today added to a 75 yesterday, while the Philadelphia at the Merton Cricket club in 1924, reversed the scores, getting his 67 first and following with 75. White Bobby was burning up the course, George von Elm, the champion, who defeated the Atlanta wizard for the title last year, was struggling, desperately and wondering if he was to be left on the outside, looking in when match play starts tomorrow. He finally collected his game to score 75 for a total of 154, which eased him into the select circle.

The blonde Pacific coast star was far off his game on the first nine when he needed three strokes over par, but he recovered enough of his misplays to touch coming in to stagger home in par and find his worry was unnecessary. A couple of birdies made him safe for continued participation.

Jimmy Johnston, Native Son, who holds or has held many titles, although he has not yet won a major championship, pleased the home folks greatly by coming in with a total score of 145, good enough to make him second to Bobby, which the Minikahda members suggested was enough glory, after all. He was runner-up today with 71.

Three former champions, in addition to Jones, won their way to match play, Chick Evans, Francis Outmet and Max Marston while three others, Wm. C. Fowner, Jr., Robert A. Gardner and Findlay S. Douglas failed to qualify.

Kelley feels hopeful that he will not be executed. "Peonies are waking up to the facts in the case," he said, "and are becoming convinced that I am not a wilful criminal. I hope to go to the prison hospital now, for a month and recover both physically and mentally. Then I shall be able to talk better."

In the meantime, in a cell near that of Kelley, sits Willos, one of Kelley's companions in the escape, who is to be hanged some time after midnight Friday unless clemency is again exerted in his behalf.

TRAIN SHARKEY FOR ALTERNATE

BOSTON, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Jack Sharkey began training in this city today in order to be in first class shape as an alternate for either principal of the Tunney-Dempsey championship bout at Chicago September 23, Johnny Buckley, the Boston boxer's manager, announced tonight.

Sharkey started training at the request of Ted Rickard, Buckley said, adding that while the promoter does not expect anything to prevent the appearance of either Dempsey or the champion at Chicago, he does not relish cancelling the bout for lack of participants.

TUNNEY MANAGER OFF FOR CHICAGO

SPECULATOR, N. Y., Aug. 23.—(AP)—Billy Gibson, manager of Gene Tunney, heavyweight champion of the world, left Gene's training camp here on Lake Pleasant today for Chicago. He plans to prepare for the champion where the final days of training will be passed in preparation for the championship bout with Jack Dempsey next month.

Tunney plans to leave for the west about the end of the month or the first of September. The champion's training today consisted of several miles on the road in the morning, three rounds with the bags in the afternoon, followed by three rounds of sparring with Paul Cavalier and the same number with Billy Vida. In accordance with the champion's present schedule, tomorrow is supposed to be a lay off with no work.

There certainly isn't anything sour about Molla Mallory's tennis, even if she does get lemons between matches.

Paavo Nurmi and Edwin Wide will race at Berlin, probably trying to beat the record set by Bill Hohenzollern on his way out in 1918.

Kaiser Bill went so fast toward Holland that he forgot his mustache wax. So he grew a beard to cover up his shame.

It's a safe bet that only 150,000 of the 161,000 who are to see the Dempsey-Tunney piece will squawk about their seats.

It's beginning to look as though the Pittsburgh Pirates cannot withstand the pace—or the Cubs.

In the autumn Redfern collection the silhouette is varied, skirts are generally longer in the back and the hem is flaring. Pointed effects are shown in both coats and dresses.
