"It sounds just like Ben," they declared yesterday, when the message was received.

The telegram, or so it purports to be, is claimed to have been received by the Salem chief of police from the police office in Grants Pass. Here it is: "Salem Chief of Police: There came very near being a sad tragedy at the Oregon Caves yesterday. A fireman from your city by the name of Ben Faught came out of the caves with his hat off, and an old mountaineer took two shots at him with a six shooter. He thought it was some wild animal. The hunter said he had never seen a human that looked like him before, nor had he ever seen an animal quite as ugly. That is why he shot him."

Faught is at present on a two weeks vacation from his work on the fire fighting force, having left Salem August 15 to make a motor trip to the Oregon Caves, Medford, and Crater Lake.

His fellow firemen are anxious to learn the full details of the incident referred to, and are anxiously awaiting his return to work on August 29.

WANT KLAMATH TRADE California to Bid for Heavy Business Despite New Line

PORTLAND, Aug. 26.—(AP)—"Sacramento business men claim that $1,000,000 trade yearly reaches them from Klamath Falls, not to mention that obtained by San Francisco," declared H. DeWitt, Yreka, Cal., president of the Yreka Railway here today. California will make a determined effort to retain this trade, he said, regardless of construction of the new Cascade line of the Southern Pacific.

De Witt in his remarks disclosed that right now there is a move to form a highway district among the counties of northern California, and counties as far south as Sacramento, he said, will contribute to a fund to be used in constructing a short-cut road from Weed to Klamath Falls. Mr. De Witt added that Klamath county is co-operating to the state line. In this move, because it is anxious to get the Crater Lake travel from California that now goes through Medford.

DEMPESE TAKES ON FOUR STIFF ROUNDS

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Jack Dempsey, sporting a slightly discolored left eye as a result of a wild punch landed by one of his sparring partners yesterday, went under glove fire for four rounds against three sparring partners at his Lincoln fields training camp today.

The former world's heavyweight champion boxed two rounds with Benny Kreuger, a big German warrior, and one each with Jack McCann, St. Paul and K. O. Christner. McCann gave Dempsey the best workout, connecting solidly to the face three different times with right hand punches that hurt and stung.

SPECULATOR, NY, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Gene Tunney suddenly switched his plans for a workout in the ring today and decided to limit his training to an afternoon on the roads and hills around Lake Pleasant. The world's heavyweight champion said he did not think he would take on any of his sparring partners tomorrow either. His next workout in the ring will probably be on Sunday when a big crowd of visitors from neighboring Adirondack resorts is expected. Tunney got plenty of exercise today, however, for he ran and walked all over the surrounding country, staying out all afternoon.

B. B. BALL TEAM FINDS BATTERY

The Bligh Billiard parlor baseball team, when it visits the Oregon state penitentiary today for one of the periodic contests with the convict team, will have a crack battery in the persons of Dr. E. H. Hobson, who is president of the local Portland City league club, and Dr. S. F. Scott.

Both of these gentlemen have had plenty of experience, but there is no record of their having donned baseball mitts for some time past. Dr. Hobson, who will pitch, says that he has been training and has limbered up his arm, but hasn't tried out his famous curve ball, because it might make his arm sore beforehand.

IRISH LEGISLATURE DISSOLUTION ASKED

General Election in September Demanded by Cosgrave Government

DUBLIN, Aug. 25.—(AP)—Swiftly following upon two great election victories, the Cosgrave government threw a bombshell into the dail situation in the shape of a proclamation calling for the immediate dissolution of the Free State legislature and for a general election which will be held about the middle of September.

As soon as the results of the elections, on which the government had staked its existence, were known, the executive council met, decided to take full advantage of the present favorable situation for the government and advised Governor General Healy to proclaim dissolution of the present Dail Eireann.

This course, it is felt, will prevent a republican rally from the weak position shown by today's polling figures in the two by-election in Dublin county held yesterday. There had been some doubts about the legality of the government's course since it was generally believed that the government would require the assent of the Dail to justify dissolution, but it is assumed that the ministers have taken legal advice on their constitutional position.

In yesterday's by-elections, Gerald O'Sullivan, running to fill the vacancy caused by the assassination of Vice President Kevin O'Higgins, captured the seat for the government party by a plurality of more than 22,000, while Dr. Thomas Hennessey, government candidate by the death of Countess Marcevicz, had a plurality of more than 4,000 votes.
