HEALTH SERIES GREAT SUCCESS; MEET CLOSES

adventure, hardships, and compensations in the work-a-day world of the staff nurses of the maternity center in the dense portions of New York's east side.

Clinic Interesting

In the afternoon, Dr. Fred L. Adair held first attention in the physicians institute with his talks and clinics on obstetrics. He made a plea for the education of the mother on the importance and necessity of medical supervision from the onset of pregnancy.

Declared to be one of the most brilliant men in the middle west in the field of maternal and infant welfare, Dr. Adair demonstrated the truth of this statement in his masterly handling of technical material before he physicians' group.

Dr. A. E. Gourdeau's talk on the "care of the new born with head injuries" elicited a great deal of favorable comment and interest among the doctors attending the institute.

"Medical men have been combating goiter for 2,500 years by curative methods. Scientific eforst are now being made to find methods to prevent this disease before it developes," declared Dr. David Marine, associate professor pathology at Columbia university, and one of the world's best known scientific investigaters of goiter, in an address before the city and county health officers during the morning.

Dr. Marine traced the history of goiter as one of the largest problems in the medical world, a disease very prevalent in certain parts of the world.

Oregon, Dr. Marine stated, is in what is known as the "goiter belt." He presented an account of his scientific experiments and showed how goiter could be controlled by the medical and public health profession. The greatest work, he declared, is to prevent goiter, which is much easier than the cure.

Dr. L. F. Griffith, of the Oregon State hospital for the insane, talked on "The examination of the Insane." He explained the test given to the patients and some of the classifications of them.

Both institutes more than doubled the attendance records for last year. Physicians from all corners of the state, as well as the local men of Marion county, have been registered: Dr. V. S. Dudman, of the University of Oregon Medical School; Dr. E. V. Pickel, Health Officer of Medford, Dr. J. G. Gregory, of Wallowa; Dr. William Holt, of Medford; Dr. Bertha Devore, of Drain; Dr. Grant S. Beardsley, of Eugene; Dr. D. E. Stannard, of Eugene, and Dr. W. H. Barendrick, of McMinnville, to mention only a few.

The nurses institute attracted several out of town visitors of more than usual interest: Miss Carolyn Gray, lecturer in nursing administration in Teachers College of Columbia University, New York; Miss Elizabeth Smith, Director of the Visiting Nurses association, Hartford, Connecticut; Miss Amy Wells, Director of Nursing Service, Hoxley School for Boys, Connecticut (a preparatory school for Yale, and one which has a permanent staff of five nurses, with 10 or 15 on the staff at special times during the year); Miss Emily Loveridge, superintendent of the Good Samaritan Hospital, Portland; Miss Marion Crowe, head of the Portland Visiting Nurse association, with a corps of the staff nurses of the association; Sister Genevieve, director of the school of nursing of the St. Vincent's Hospital, and one of her assistants, Sister Phillip; Mrs. Glendora M. Blakely, state supervisor of public health nurses; most of the county health nurses over the state; and representatives of every hospital in Portland, in addition to the many local nurses in attendance.

A Texas man recently established a record of 150 hours without sleep. But we know fellows who could do better than this if they were behind in a penny ante game.

BOY SCOUT RETREAT BECOMES COOLIDGE MEMORIAL

RAPID CITY, S. D., AUG. 31.—(AP)—Another memorial to President Coolidge's summer in the Black Hills was left to South Dakota today when Camp Coolidge was dedicated as a retreat for Boy Scouts near Custer at a ceremony attended by the president.

Previously the state had renamed one of the peaks in the Black Hills Mount Coolidge and the ripple troutstream which flows past the summer White House has been called Grace Coolidge creek. Farther up in the hills a memorial is being carved of Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln and Roosevelt and the president has been asked to write the inscription to appear below explaining its meaning.

Except for the short journey to Custer, Mr. Coolidge spent the whole day at the game lodge preparing the address he will make at Brookings, Sept. 10, dedicating the Lincoln memorial library at the South Dakota agricultural college.

ands. Georges Michel was steadily ploughing his way over the course in an attempt to capture the second prize of $7500. Throughout the day Michel for hours miles behind many of the leading contenders who subsequently gave up the struggle, had proved a model of perseverence.

One by one, George Young of Toronto, Byron Summers of California, and Edward Keating of New York, had to quit and made way for the Parisian to take the position of runner-up. Struggling behind was Arthur Compton, 14 year old swimming ace of Long Beach, Cal., who later was taken from the water after he had completed 14 miles of the course. At the time Vierkoetter finished Compton was in third place and from the speed he was making it was estimated that he would have finished at 2 o'clock tomorrow morning.

INDIANA GOVERNOR FREED FROM JAIL

Former Head of Hoosier State Departs Federal Prison on Parole

ATLANTA, GA., AUG. 31.—(AP)—Silent on all political matters, but voluble in expressing his personal joy at freedom, former Governor Warren T. McCray, of Indiana, was homeward bound tonight. He was released on parole today after serving three years and four months of a ten year sentence in the federal prison here.

McCray who had been convicted on a charge of "using the mails in furtherance of a scheme to defraud," was released on telegraphic instructions from Washington, confirming Attorney General Sargent's approval of the parole board's recommendation.

The former chief executive of the Hoosier state walked out of the prison on the first day the law allowed, after exacity one third of his sentence had expired.

"Yes, I've kept in touch with political conditions, national and in Indiana, but I have absolutely nothing to say on that score. I'm anxious to get back to my family and my two grandchildren—but my mind is not concerned with politics."

McCray, who recently spent four months in the prison hospital, said he was in excellent physical condition and attributed his health to a cessation of attempts to secure a pardon before his parole date arrived.

"As soon as I made up my mind there was no use seeking a pardon and resigned myself to wait, my health picked up immediately."
