

SENATORS TO PLAY ASHLAND SEPT. 15

Salem's ball team will be a rival attraction of Col. Charles Lindbergh, world famous aviator, at Ashland September 15, it was definitely decided Thursday when "Frisco" Edwards, Senator manager, completed negotiations for a game with the Ashland team for a game in connection with the Lindbergh reception there.

This adds one more to the list of inter-sectional games that the Senators are playing in these closing weeks of the season, and gives them another chance to clinch their hold on the unofficial state semi-pro championship.

The Senators will be away from home Sunday, but local fans will have a chance to witness a real championship ball game. The Franklin Garage and Cloverland Creamery teams, tied for the title in the Willamette valley league, will play it off for the championship here.

The Senators will be on their swing against the central Oregon circuit, playing the Bend Elks at Bend Sunday and The Dalles at The Dalles Monday. Edwards Thursday received a warning from a "friend" at The Dalles that the Senators had better not go into the game at Bend with too much confidence. Somewhat reorganized, the Elks are playing a much stronger brand of ball than they did during the league season, this report stated.

For games after this week end, Edwards has signed up Stan Wilson to play third base and Gabarino, formerly of Mt. Scott and now with Longview in the Timber league, for second base. Joe Sullivan and Harold Hark will be out of the lineup because of the impending opening of the college year and Hank McKenna is leaving, so these positions will be open.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 1.—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers broke their losing streak today by scoring four runs in the sixth inning to win from the St. Louis Browns, 8 to 4.

CHICAGO, SEPT. 1.—(AP)—Cleveland took the series opener from Chicago, 5 to 5 today, the Indians beating the White Sox pitchers almost at will.

Baseball Fielders Must Remain Inside of Fences NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Baseball fielders "cannot jump over any fence, railing or rope marking the limits of the playing field in order to catch the ball," according to new rules constructions issued by John A. Haydler, president of the National League, to his umpires and made public today.

About a dozen cities are after action of 1928, which indicates that the Republican national convention must have a reputation around the hotels as food spenders.

TRANSCONTINENTAL WIKEN CHECKS HERE

Twenty-four days after he left Boston, Mass., for Vancouver, B. C., on the annual hike of the International YMCA, Harold Currier of Vancouver stopped in Salem last night. Currier said that so far as he knew, he led the field of hikers.

The hike, according to Currier, is for Canadian youths only, and its purpose is to arouse interest in the YMCA.

The worst part of his trip was through the Grants Pass coming from Roseburg. The route is definitely marked out. Only one more checking station remains after Salem, that being at Seattle, before he reaches Vancouver. He estimates that he has traveled 2,500 miles, has spent $11, and worn out three pairs of shoes.

The $15,000 prize is divided between the winner and the YMCA. He represents the hiker getting $800 and the YMCA $10,000. Currier is a member of the Y. at Vancouver.

Zip! Zip! Zip! go the weights as Jack Dempsey yanks his muscles into action at his training camp where he is preparing for his bout with Champ Gene Tunney.

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Jack Dempsey was no easy target for right hand smashes to the chin today, as he was yesterday. The Maunss Mauler worked three rounds, one with Jack McLean, another with My Sullivan, both St. Paul boxers, and one with Oak Till, Rochester light heavyweight. Dempsey won the honors in each round.

Manager Flynn sent Dempsey into the ring to box with strict instructions to spend his time within the ropes, exclusively, avoiding left jabs and hooks. Flynn was not particular if Dempsey did not strike back a single blow. But with 3,000 customers jammed around the ring, Dempsey was not content to duck and weave. He simply could not restrain himself and his sparring partners had more trouble keeping away from Jack's left hooks than he in evading their thrusts.

Dempsey also presented a more impregnable defense. He kept on the head roll continually, and even Oak Till, who possesses the fastest left hand in camp, had trouble in stabbing Dempsey with his excellent defensive weapon, Tilt, a sparring mate of Tunney a year ago, cut loose a couple of times while trying right hands to the chin and Dempsey tamed him with those uplifting and sickening left hooks to the jaw.

CHAMPIONSHIP TILT THREE WEEKS AWAY

SPECULATOR MAY SEPT. 1.—(AP)—Gene Tunney will scold by to this Adirondack village late this afternoon and started on his trip to Chicago where three weeks from tonight he is to defend his heavyweight title against Jack Dempsey. Leaving speculators at 6:30 o'clock Tunney drove to Ulica with his entourage to catch the twentieth century limited at 8:00 o'clock Eastern standard time.

There was no training on Gene's program today and he spent the time packing and saying farewell to his friends. It seemed as if everybody in the settlement, natives and summer boarders as well, wanted to shake the champion's hand and wish him luck on the night of the twenty second.

In spite of the procession of admirers, the champion managed to spend most of the rainy afternoon in seclusion, for there was much work to be done in preparation for moving the training quarters from this tiny town to Cedar Crest Country club, Chicago.

In the champion's party were his three sparring partners, Chieft Paul bowers, and one with Oak Till, Rochester light heavyweight. Dempsey won the honors in each round.

Manager Flynn sent Dempsey into the ring to box with strict instructions to spend his time within the ropes, exclusively, avoiding left jabs and hooks. Flynn was not particular if Dempsey did not strike back a single blow. But with 3,000 customers jammed around the ring, Dempsey was not content to duck and weave. Sport Criticisms BILL RITT

Ten thousand sport writers heaved a sigh of relief when Molla lost her tennis title. They don't have to spell Bjurstedt so often now.

The trouble with the Dempsey-Tunney fight is that it isn't getting enough publicity.

Cleveland wrestling match lasted only five minutes, but the fans missed the finish because they had been asleep for four.

Stanley Harris, Washington manager, didn't get a hit in 29 times at bat. Another thing to blame on the lively ball, we suppose.

Speeding taxi tears off New York man's pants. The pedestrian was lucky the driver didn't charge him for valet service.

The harvest moon may still be a long way off, but the Yanks have already gathered in the crops.

Gene Tunney refuses to be photographed doing menial tasks. But this does not include mopping up the ring with Dempsey.
