

STATESMAN PRESS COMES TOMORROW

The new $40,000 Statesman press plant arrived in Portland this morning, shortly after midnight, on the steamship Laurel, of the Quaker line.

Dan Larmer is to have four trucks there tomorrow morning, capable of bringing about 50,000 pounds of the press to Salem tomorrow; about half of the machinery.

Arthur J. Edwards, newspaper pressman of The Statesman since he was in knee pants, is going down to Portland today, to see about the details of the unloading from the ship. And he is to be there tomorrow morning, too, in order that the machinery may come in order. The erector will come with his men and equipment from Seattle. The foundation has been ready for weeks, and the big machine ought to be ready to run in about two weeks.

Then there will be a complete description in a special Greater Salem edition. But there will be a little time for limbering up the machinery, and the special edition will not be published till some time around the 15th of October.

NOTED AUTHOR MARRIES

Richard Washburn Child Wedded to Miss Eva Sanderson

STROUDSBURG, Pa., Sept. 10. (AP)—Richard Washburn Child, author and diplomat, and Miss Eva Sanderson were married here late today by Squire P. M. Niles, the latter said late tonight, after newspapermen had spent many hours to verify reports that the marriage had taken place.

lar army, navy and marine corps teams in the infantry match. At that time an effort was made to invalidate the victory, but the protest made by the United States infantry team was found to be unwarranted.

"We badly beat all teams in matches today, including army, navy and marine corps," read the telegram from Colonel West. Then followed the second telegram conveying information regarding the freak ruling.

Brigadier General White said Saturday night that he had not yet decided whether he would make any further protest.

carry out her intention to attempt to fly from New York to Paris.

Fonck to Quit

After the navy department had forbidden his assistants to engage in the Paris flights, Captain Rene Fonck indicated he might cancel his plans. Levine's statement in London that he would abandon his flight to America unless conditions improved by Monday was followed by assertion that he and his pilot, Captain Walter Hinchcliffe, might fly eastward next week in attempts to break the world's endurance and long distance flying records.

The wife of Edward F. Schlee, co-pilot of the Pride of Detroit, petitioned the navy department to interfere with the "suicidal" plan of the round-the-world fliers to jump across the Pacific.

The Windsor-to-Windsor flight of "Duke" Schiller and Phil Wood was definitely abandoned as well as the pilot's proposal to search for a return from Harbor Grace, N. F., to Windsor, Ont.

STATE MOURNING CHIEF JUSTICE SUDDEN DEATH and Scott grammar school in Portland.

Justice Burnett previously taught school at Sheridan for two terms, for which he received $33 a month. Out of this compensation he was compelled to provide his own meals and lodging.

In the fall of 1873 Justice Burnett moved to Salem and entered the offices of Rufus Mallory and J. J. Shaw where he read law. He was admitted to the Oregon bar in December, 1875, and his first legal case was at Sheridan. The case involved payment for a pair of shoes which were valued at $4.

In 1876 he was admitted to practice law in the United States district court and circuit court of appeals.

Justice Burnett was elected prosecuting attorney of the third judicial district in 1876. This district then composed Linn, Marion, Polk, Yamhill and Tillamook counties. The highways in those days were almost impassable, and virtually all of Justice Burnett's trips to Tillamook county were made on horseback.

He served as district attorney one term when he became the law partner of Judge J. J. Shaw with offices in Salem. The partnership continued from 1878 until 1886. Justice Burnett then practiced alone for a period of six

In the year 1892 Justice Burnett was elected circuit judge of the third judicial and continued to serve in that capacity for 18 years.

On November 3, 1910, he was elected justice of the state supreme court, and has since held that office. His present term would have expired next year.

Justice Burnett served as chief justice of the supreme court during the years 1921 and 1922 and recently and resumed that honor.

Justice Burnett was married on December 31, 1871, to Miriam Belt, a native of Salem. Her father was Dr. A. M. Belt, pioneer of 1850 and one of the prominent early day physicians in Western Oregon. Mrs. Burnett died three years ago. Justice Burnett had since remarried.

Justice Burnett was prominent in fraternal circles and was a member of the Masonic, Oddfellows and Elks lodges. He had served as grand master of the Masonic lodge of Oregon, and had been accorded the highest honors in the gift of the Oregon grand lodge of Oddfellows.
