THE CLATSOP COW IS DOING GREAT WORK AND IS HEADED FOR GREATER

Lower Columbia Cooperative Dairy Association Began in Poverty and has Spread Prosperity over that Section—Plans Expansion of Facilities and Installing of Skim Milk Condensery and Drying Plant

(The following leading editorial in the Astoria Budget of September 10th, under the heading, "The Clatsop Cow," shows a situation that ought to be the envy of the dairymen of the Willamette valley to vision greater things in the dairying industry.)

The lower Columbia dairymen have certainly made a wonderful showing.)

Clatsop county butter won first and third prizes at the California state fair this week in competition with butter from every dairy section of the west.

It is a repetition of former triumphs. Clatsop county butter has won first prizes in the last three California competitions. It has won a long list of awards all over the west.

Clatsop county butter sells for a premium on the California market. There is an almost unlimited demand for the surplus which can be produced here. California hotels are featuring it.

The Lower Columbia Cooperative Dairy association, manufacturer of this butter, last month had its largest output in history. It sold 104,000 pounds of butter besides an unprecedented amount of ice cream. And the biggest volume of its ice cream business was in Portland.

This association is laying plans to expand its plant to take care

OPPORTUNITY HERE FOR THE HUSTLERS

While Candidates are Few Is the Time to Get Lead in Radio Contest

(By Radio Contest Editor)

How come? With The Statesman putting up over $700 in radios, bicycles and other prizes, for boys and girls, the great contest has not seen candidates entering as they should.

Perhaps it is because the prizes are so stupendous that no one can believe it in time. Anyway, no matter why, some one, maybe you, is losing a wonderful opportunity. No matter whether there are 100 candidates or a dozen candidates. Now, with few candidates entered, is the time to cash in to get a lead. It is easy now. A worker, one with real ambition and pep, can take a lead that will be hard to overcome on the home stretch.

The pessimist sees only the hole in the doughnut, while the optimist—well, you know the rest. Look for the beautiful if you would have it—cash in on the opportunities that are offered you if you would profit accordingly.

Such an opportunity—the equal of which has never been offered you before—is now being presented to you. In a few short weeks from now The Statesman will reward the energetic hustlers of this section, and the opportunity for more "live wire" campaigners to enter the contest, and make themselves important factors and probable winners of the grand prize, is actually calling aloud. Why, it's anybody's opportunity to get radios or bicycles.

Here is an opportunity, surely, for the boy or girl who looks at a thing from a business standpoint.

Is Wide Open

The competition, which is just starting, is open to any boy or girl in this section. All that is necessary to enter the race is to clip the nomination blank appearing in this issue, fill in your name and address and mail or bring it to the contest headquarters at The Statesman. This coupon entitles you or the person you nominate to 5,000 free votes and gives you a flying start on the road to success. Upon receipt of the nomination coupon at the office, a complete working outfit, together with detailed information, will be sent or given to you.

Thus equipped, you have but to see your friends and neighbors, relatives and acquaintances, and have them save the free voting coupons from the papers and cast their votes for you when they pay up their subscriptions, whether new or renewals.

Thus far very few persons are working, considering the number and value of the prizes to be distributed. There is plenty of room, and there are plenty of prizes for more active candidates.

All candidates who have entered The Statesman's contest are requested to turn in their subscriptions at once. Watch for the names of the candidates being published in The Statesman.

To those who are still contemplating entering The Statesman's prize distribution contest, your nomination should be turned into contest headquarters at once. Your opportunity is here.

IOKA FARM GREAT BELIEVES EDITOR

Silverton Appeal Man Writes of This Wonderful Waldo Hills Place

(The following very well written article recently appeared in the columns of the Silverton Appeal, describing a visit of the editor of that paper:)

The name, Ioka, meant to the primitive Indian in the Waldo Hills, a thing of beauty, or a cherished tract of land famed for its beauty, health and natural fertility. The Indian in the Waldo Hills clung to the belief that all the land he surveyed would belong forever to him. With the hordes of the white man and his civilization the Indian was compelled to seek another home. It was probably with secret regret in his heart that he surveyed for the last time his "Ioka" and the distant campfires of the white man.

Today, on the Ioka farm of A. N. Doerfler, in the Waldo Hills, one is impressed in a different way with the meaning of Ioka. Where once young braves vied their strength in athletic contests, and old squaws bathed their young while the young squaws looked on, and where the intrepid warriors stalked their game there now stretches a magnificent 88 acre farm, under the management and ownership of A. N. Doerfler.

The writer of this article had the pleasure of visiting the Ioka farm the first part of the week, and knowing the delightful hospitality of Mr. Doerfler.

New Gate Idea.

Motoring over the farm's interesting dirt highway of a mile and a quarter, Mr. Doerfler pointed out the show attractions of his modernly managed farm. The host referred to the drive as his scenic highway. He was quite right.

Following the driveway we passed over beautiful hill land, down through the promising walnut and filbert orchards to the lowlands where the sheep and hogs are kept, and then to the peppermint fields. The drive was so nicely arranged that not a gate had to be opened. Where it was necessary to cross a fence into another field a substantial auto bridge, as one might call it, had been built over the fence in such a manner as to provide safe crossing and yet keep livestock out of adjoining fields. Mr. Doerfler said he found it very convenient to care for his stock in the lowlands by such methods.

On this farm once held by a courageous band of Indians we found a beautiful walnut and filbert grove of 30 acres. On a rolling hill it was an impressive sight. Near the center of the orchard, on a hill top rests a heavy stone with a costly bronze tablet of expert workmanship, inscribed: "Franquette Walnut Grove. Planted by A. N. Doerfler, A. D. 1923."

Mr. Doerfler was quite enthusiastic in his predictions of the future. He said he had anticipations for his section of the country for the productivity of walnuts and filberts. He said that "Nowhere

JIM STEWART'S SON GAINS HIGH HONOR

He Last Won a Fellowship in the Chicago Musical College

The following dispatch was received recently by James S. Stewart, 98E Saginaw street: "Your son Blair L. won free fellowship in vocal contest this week. We are expecting big things of him this year. Congratulations, Chicago Musical College."

This is one of the big institutions of the kind in the country, with upwards of 7,000 students, and with some of the leading men in the musical world in charge.

Blair L. Stewart entered this college last March, having won a scholarship for the summer term. The fellowship he has just won means vocal training in the institution for a whole year.

Will Be Heard From

Blair L. Stewart is to be heard from further in his chosen work. He has been lecturing in a dental clinic in Chicago, where he has earned as high as $70 a week. Mrs. Stewart is earning a good salary with a firm of realtors in that city. They graduated in the same class at the Oregon Agricultural college in 1926, and were married in August of that year. She was Evelyn Genoe, of Vancouver, B. C.

In the spring of 1925, Blair made a transcontinental tour with the O. A. C. debating team, in which he aided that organization in carrying off signal honors.

Everybody in Oregon knows "Jim" Stewart, father of Blair, who is the field man for the state land department. And everybody in Marion county is getting acquainted with Blair's brother, Ivan Stewart, field man in the Salem district for the Chas. H. Archer Implement company.

Clean, Smooth Streets OF LASTING BEAUTY

WHAT impression does your town make on visitors—on you?

Consider your streets. Are they crumbling under motor traffic which must pick its way around ruts and holes? Or are they smoothly paved—clean and attractive—a good investment?

Portland cement concrete is the ideal pavement for this motor age—in towns and cities of all sizes. It is economical to build and maintain, permanently beautiful and—the safest pavement wet or dry.
