

SIDE LIGHTS OF THE STAGE and SCREEN

Elsinore Theater
Fanchon & Marco's greatest dance group, the famous 24 Serpentine Girls, are on their way back to Salem. They open Sunday, September 18, at the Elsinore theatre, in an entirely new creation, Fanchon & Marco's most colorful and lavish presentation, "Blues." There are few patrons of West Coast theatres who will not remember this perfectly drilled bevy of dancing beauties who startled press and audiences with their remarkable number, the spectacular "Serpentine." This time the Serpentine girls appear in another startling array of costumes and dances, winning approval with the precision of their line numbers. Among other notable features of their performances in the new presentation, are a gorgeous ensemble number, "The Fantasy of Blues," and their "Blue Bell," or wild flower number. And by popular demand, the girls again appear, in their breath taking number, "The Serpentine."

Heading the Pacific Interstate Vaudeville bill today and tomorrow at the Elsinore, is the famous song composer, Gene West assisted by Violet Bird, singing some smart snappy songs. This marks the first appearance locally of Gene West and Violet Bird, the former the internationally known composer of popular songs among such hits as "June Night," "Broadway Rose," "You Know You Belong To Somebody Else," "That Old Gang of Mine," and a score of others the public has sung and whistled and danced, while Miss Bird is one of the cleverest blues singers on the stage. Others on today and tomorrow's bill, include the Zrado Trio, in a thrilling comedy acrobatic act, Jeannette Foster the singing violinist and Arnett and Hooper, comedy tap dancers. The latest release from Warner Brothers, "The Black Diamond Express," a whirling Railroad melodrama will be shown on the screen in connection with the vaudeville numbers.

Oregon Theater
Promising to be one of the most successful of all Norma Talmadge's motion pictures, the modern screen "Camille" is attracting enthusiastic crowds to the Oregon theater where it was given first local showing last night. Miss Talmadge's new picture is an innovation, in that it adapts a classic of the nineteenth century, known to millions throughout the world, to current conditions. The character "Camille" visualized by Miss Talmadge as an ultra-fashionable siren of modern Paris is a radical departure from her most recent roles. It marks, as well, the fulfillment of her greatest screen ambition. "Camille," which was produced by Joseph M. Schenck for First National, also features a notable cast in support of Miss Talmadge, with Gilbert Roland appearing as "Armand," the impulsive young lover.

Grand Theater
A pulsating picture of Arizona frontier days, fresh as the air from the mountain country itself, will be shown at the Grand Theater Saturday and Sunday. The title, "Arizona Nights," gives a hint of the combination of fast-moving action and a sweet romance which makes up the central theme of the thoroughly enjoyable picture. An authentic historical background provides an especially interesting foundation for the story. Fred Thomson, the most outstanding of the western stars, is seen to his best advantage in the film. Featured with his wonder horse performance, and keeps the action of the story at a high pitch. "Arizona Nights" is based on the original story by Stewart Edward White.

Capitol Theater
Five dandy Acts of Association vaudeville, and John Gilbert in "Cameo Kirby." On the stage the headline act is "Echoes of Scotland." Lads and lassies from the Highlands, with Keppie, the first and champion girl bass drummer. All the folk dances of the British Isles are done: High-land dancing, Irish jig, sailor hornpipes, also eccentric, soft shoe and buck dancing, with comedy, songs and talk. They finish with their bagpipe and drum band. This all takes place in an elaborate gold cyclorama setting with fancy drapery.

If Mr. Mason ever hits Mr. Bailey with the threatened brick the team of colored entertainers de luxe, Mason and Bailey, will surely be broken up, and he will have to look for another partner to go through with the delectable melange of comedy chatter, jazzy songs, and fast steps that this clever duo are presenting. Surprises, songs, dances, and beautiful gowns are to be included in the act of Nathaniel and Maybelle called "Let's Be Serious." Joe Nathan is a likable chap who possesses a great deal of personal magnetism. As a comedian Joe is in a class by himself. He is a delineator of character stories par excellence. Miss Maybelle is a winsome young miss of undeniable charm and vocal ability, possessing an excellent lyric soprano voice.

Sharpe and Kirke are comedy acrobats. They bill themselves as having been a late feature with Earl Carroll's Vanities. They attempt a number of acrobatic feats, none of which is completed in its entirety due to the fact that a slip-up generally occurs when they are trying their best. Viola Vereker Holman and her Capitol Orchestra will offer another musical hit. The Nelson brothers present a most highly trained, carefully educated and thoroughly equipped set of hoopers. Under the tutelage of the two men their large assortment of hoops have become animated and are made to perform in a most astonishing manner. The Nelsons have paid a good deal of attention to the dressing of their stage with the consequence that their troupe of trained hoopers made of the novelties in vaudeville. A few hokum impersonations and juggling bits are also included in the offering.

Recorder at Monmouth Normal Assumes Duties

OREGON NORMAL SCHOOL, Monmouth, Sept. 15.—(Special.) Kathleen L. Skinner, former student and graduate of the Monmouth normal school, began her work as recorder at the normal early this month. Miss Skinner graduated from the normal in 1923 and from the agricultural college at Corvallis this summer. She is a member of the Alpha Delta sorority and took part in many campus activities while at the college. Previous to her graduation from O. A. C. she taught school at Turner and Estacada. Due to the fact that she has held secretarial positions in the Registrar's office for several years during the summer months she is well prepared for this important work. Her home is in Independence where her father is a prominent business man.

The Red Electric zone one train between Portland and Corvallis via Newberg, present No. 357 leaving Portland 9:45 a. m. and present No. 358 arriving Portland at 12:15 p. m. will be discontinued. Certain of the Red Electric trains bearing light traffic in the interurban territory, Portland to Forest Grove and Portland to Oswego Lake, will be withdrawn since the schedules of the new motor bus service recently announced are arranged to take care of the traffic which has been formerly handled on these trains. The suburban trains which will be discontinued are: Present Nos. 121 and 122 between Forest Grove and McMinnville, 120-131-137 and 138 between Portland and Reedville, 139-140 between Portland and Forest Grove, 135 and 136 between Portland and Hillsboro. On the Oswego side trains to be discontinued are present Nos. 315-316-317-318-319-320-321-322-323-324 between Portland and Cook.

Red Electric trains which are to be discontinued are those carrying light traffic, most of them operating in the evening. All forms of Southern Pacific tickets will be honored on the motor coaches. Red Electric trains will continue to use the Union Station and Fourth and Stark Street stations while the Motor Stages will use the Stage Terminal at Sixth and Salmon Streets. The terminal in Salem for the motor coaches will be temporarily at 184 North Liberty street, the downtown ticket office of the Southern Pacific. But, soon, there will be another place arranged for, where passengers may take the coaches off the street, and be landed in the same way.

BOARD TO INSPECT NEW HOSPITAL SITE

Majority Believed to Favor Immediate Construction of First Unit

Members of the state board of control left here last night for The Dalles where today they will inspect the plans and specifications for the new state tuberculosis hospital. An architect accompanied the board from Portland. Governor Paterson has made plain that he favors construction of the first unit of the hospital in case the expenditure is limited to $100,000. This was the amount of money authorized by the voters at the time the law creating the institution was approved.

The legislature, at its last session, authorized an additional appropriation of approximately $160,000 to apply on the cost of construction and maintenance. The governor said he was opposed to expending any part of the legislative appropriation until such time as the state's finances are in a more satisfactory condition. State Treasurer Kay sometime ago made the assertion that he considered the vote of the people mandatory, and that he would favor immediate construction of the hospital. Whether the state treasurer would vote to expend an amount in excess of $100,000 could not be determined here today.

Sam A. Kozler, secretary of state, said he would not have any statement to make regarding the construction of the hospital until the plans and specifications are submitted at today's meeting. The original plans, as ordered by the board of control, call for a structure to cost within $100,000. The site for the tuberculosis hospital was donated by The Dalles and is now ready for occupancy. The tract overlooks the Columbia river, and was said to be an ideal location. It was recommended by Dr. G. C. Beltinger, superintendent of the state tuberculosis hospital near Salem, and a number of persons connected with the national tuberculosis association.

COURT DEFINES PAPER'S RIGHTS IN LIBEL CASE

The court did not occupy a public position, it appears from the record that he was a leader in political activities and, therefore, invited more or less criticism from those who were not his supporters. "Certainly the defendant newspaper had a right to express its opinion concerning the activities of the Ku Klux Klan and plaintiff's affiliation with it, when they affected matters of public concern, if the publication was made in good faith and without malice." The opinion closed with the caution: "Privilege ends where defamation begins." The supreme court also held that the court erred in permitting the plaintiff as a witness to give his interpretation of the words in pany, to violate the national banking act and misapply funds and credits of the bank. Wheeler, it is alleged, drew and tendered a number of checks upon banks in the state of Pennsylvania to Olmstead who caused them to be entered as credits upon the books of the bank and made subject to withdrawal by check of the McCormick Lumber company, when both knew the checks to be worthless. When these checks were returned from the eastern banks and designated as worthless, other checks, it is claimed, were deposited, equally worthless, the indictment continues. In this manner the total of $11,000,000 accumulated in what is claimed to be worthless paper passing back and forth between the Northwestern National bank and eastern financial institutions.

of them at $1.25 per 100 pounds. There is a good market for "August" potatoes from British Columbia to the Mexican line. Mr. Bowne can sell all his potatoes. Can sell all his crop at a good price. He digs them with a potato digger, a machine.

Mr. Bowne had 30 acres of flax this year. He sold his crop for $2300. He will have a lot of clover seed to sell. Some flax on irrigated land near Mr. Bowne's place went 50 inches high, and a lamb crop. He rotates. Four year rotation. He raises rape and red clover for sheep pasture. The second year he sheeps it off and harvests the clover for seed. The third year he grows a crop of "August" potatoes; Burbank variety. The fourth year, fiber flax. He irrigates. He has no failures.

There is scarcely a farmer in the Bowne neighborhood, or for miles around, who did not irrigate, who has made any money to speak of this year. Some of them have not made their taxes. There is no good farmer in that section who has used irrigation water who has failed to make good profits. Some have made small fortunes.

Then why, in the name of the great horn spoon, do they not all irrigate? Why do not all the farmers in the valley irrigate, where they have the right kind of land and can get irrigation water at the right cost? Answer, they are going to. Some of them soon. Some of them in the near future. Some of them in the distant future; others in the long years of the far future.

HOW MRS. WEAVER WAS HELPED

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

As Mrs. Weaver herself says, "I was never very strong." This is a true statement. In her condition, for according to her records, she was subjected to no small amount of ill health. Fortunately, her sister with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and begged Mrs. Weaver to try it. "After three or four weeks," writes Mrs. Weaver, "I felt a great difference in myself. I would go to bed and sleep sound, and although I could not do very much work, I seemed stronger. I kept on taking it and now I am well and strong, do my work and take care of three children. I sure do tell my friends about your wonderful medicine, and I will answer any letters from women asking about the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. LAWRENCE WEAVER, East Smithfield St., Mt. Pleasant, Pa.
