

HIGH SCHOOL GRID PRACTICE TO OPEN

With 7 lettermen reporting, and a quantity of new material in the form of last year's subs and new students available, Coach Louie Anderson is certain to have a splendid eleven the first year of his job at Salem high school.

Captain Temple, who passed the Anoria boys to a finish in a game last year, heads the list of the regulars. Temple can kick and pass with any of them.

Other lettermen on whom Coach Anderson is placing high hopes are Backe, fullback; Blako, halfback; Lyons, tackle; Dalby, guard; and Bowne, center.

With Bob Kelly, and Nelson from last year's second team to fill in with Temple, Backe, and Blako, the backfield should be strong.

For center, Coach Anderson will use Lyons, unless he decides to shift Lyons to a guard position. If he does that, Bill Bowne, a 170 pounder, will get the call.

Jones, a brother to the famous Lynn Jones of University of Oregon, will fill one of the tackle berths. On his team for the first year, it was largely his ability that won for Salem against The Dalles last season.

At guard, Dalby, a stocky veteran, and Fred Smith, a javelin tosser from last year's track team, will probably show up best.

Two full teams will be carried on the squad all year, and at least 22 men will be taken on the trips. Rigid training rules will be enforced, Coach Anderson says.

With the exception of games with Corvallis and Eugene which are still pending, the schedule is nearly complete. A game had been arranged with Corvallis for Oct. 22, but an older contract was found which called for a game against Albany, Oct. 21, and the team would not play two days in succession.

LACOSTE TO MEET TILDEN IN FINALS

By Fred G. Vosburgh. FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 16.—(AP)—Fighting a furious but futile battle against a relentless machine man of tennis, America's famous "Little Bill" Johnston sent down in glorious defeat today before the great Rene Lacoste of France.

The gallant Californian fell in the semi-final round of the national turf court championship tournament, leaving only William T. Tilden, II, to block Lacoste's path to his second United States title in two years.

Qualifying for the task at which his partner of many a hard fought Davis cup battle failed, Tilden defeated Francis T. Hunter, his doubles partner, at 14-12, 6-1, 9-7 with only about half speed required. Lacoste's victory in the other semi-final was achieved at 6-2, 2-6, 6-4, 6-1.

In carrying the battle constantly to an opponent 10 years his junior, Little Bill placed chief reliance on the famous forehand drive that burned the grass and beat the wind in other days. His best chance the years had robbed the sweeping right hand of a tiny bit of steadiness, strength and cunning.

STRENUOUS PERIODS GIVEN KEENE'S MEN

There were no dull periods on Sweetland field yesterday morning and afternoon as 35 to 40 Bearcat football candidates snapped through fundamental practice.

A student assistant stood on the sidelines and blew on a whistle exactly every ten minutes. At each signal, the four squads directed respectively by Coach Keene, Kasberger, Sparks, and Denman, turned from one fundamental practice to another. This plan eliminated all stalling and kept the men moving all the time.

Stiffer work-outs for the men will be the order today, and they will last longer. Next Monday, some of the formations to be used this year will be tried out.

A new spirit seems to be at work in the Bearcat camp this year. Joe Kasberger, Keene's chief assistant, knows football, and the Bearcats have found it out. His sharp, clear-cut instructions command instant response.

A number of new men were out yesterday, among them Lang, and McKenzie, the fighting guard. These men were mainstays last year, and seem to be in much better condition this fall.

Three Chemawa Indians, Charles and Reginald Depee, and Haldeane were in suits yesterday, and tomorrow, Fratt, another Indian heavy, will be out.

Other men out for the first time yesterday were Hiram French, and Flock, a Helix, Oregon, find.

Hubert Ashby, clever and cool Salem high quarterback of last year, will be out Monday, and so will Gerald Crater, veteran, end, who may get the call for the quarterback berth.

Denny Heggan has not yet decided whether to enter Williams, but he is contemplating the study of law. If he enrolls, he will be out for football, and will make a valuable addition to the squad. Three years ago playing for Salem high he was all-state captain and quarterback.

Kautman, one of the head liners on the baseball team last spring, who played quarterback in high school, also will be out Monday.

Manford continues to boot the ball for an average of 45 yards and with an abundance of quarterback material in prospect, some of the fears which existed earlier on these scores may be dissipated.

PORTLAND, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Oakland defeated Portland today, 6 to 5, and took the lead in the series. The Oaks batted Ponder hard in the eighth when they overcame a five to three lead, batted in three runs and took the game. The Oakland infield executed four double plays, Lary being prominent in all of them.

SEATTLE, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Two rallies for three and four runs started in the fifth inning off Elmer Sees, and continued off Dave Keefe today netted Seattle its first victory of his series over Sacramento, 8 to 6. Shea pitched good ball for four innings but blew up badly in the fifth.

SPANNING PARTNERS MADE INTO TUNNEY

TUNNEY'S TRAINING CAMP, LAKE VILLA, ILL., Sept. 16.—(AP)—Rough, two fisted maulers piled into Gene Tunney today and turned the pre-fall workout of the champion into something akin to a free-for-all brawl. For the first time since Tunney entered serious training for the title spectacle in Soldier field next Thursday night, he was forced to fight against the type of milling Jack Dempsey will offer. The result was thrilling to the crowd.

No hint of what was ahead came to the 1500 fans grouped about the arena when Gene opened the day's work with two fast rounds at the light bag and another lachrymical pair on the heavy sack.

Starts Off Slow Jack Williams, an ambitious youngster from Chicago, lulled Tunney into security with a feeble attack in the first of three two round boxing sessions. Tunney was kept, smiling, confident in complete command of the situation every moment.

Then came Chuck Wiggins of Indianapolis, the longest smart weight who opened an inch cut over Tunney's right eye, several days ago. Primed to give Gene the type of battle he must expect against Dempsey, Chuck sailed straight into the champion, held nothing back, and the battle of the day was on.

Wades Into Champ Sweeping left hooks and overhead rights crashed into Gene's head and body, just as fast as the champion and equally smart in taking advantage of every opening. Wiggins took Tunney by surprise and nettled him in fierce exchanges with the suddenness of the attack. Despite the swab of tape Gene still wears above his right eye, Wiggins slipped left into an hooks to the injured optic. Solid rights bounced off the champion's chin and Chuck slipped many solid punches into Tunney's body despite Gene's careful defense.

Gene Fights Back But the champion was not to stand for such actions without a struggle. In the second session he bore down upon Wiggins, lips drawn in a snarl, ripping solid left hooks to the body that forced the bounding blonde to clinch and hold on. Gene found the range, too, with his right and dropped short, clubbing smashes on Chuck's chin.

Warmed up to fighting pitch Gene continued slugging against Billy Vidabeck in the third bout. Especially did Gene strive to flip Billy off, balance with a sharp left jab before crashing his right hand to the chin.

"That," said Chuck Wiggins, "was the finest workout Tunney has had here. His timing was beautiful and how he socked me. Everything he did was great." Tunney on the other hand was not especially pleased with the drill. He said he felt slow and soggy, that his weight was too high. Gene believes that he is not yet on edge. His weight is about 192 pounds.

All of the city's institutions and industries have been asked by the executive committee to send delegations to the dinner and have been asked to appoint workers to have charge of solicitation in each.

A complete roster of workers will be announced on Sunday, inasmuch as only a partial list is available at this time. Several organizations needing additional time in which to secure the maximum number of workers.

Members of the executive committee expressed themselves as very well pleased with the splendid spirit of "I Will" demonstrated by everyone approached to aid in the campaign. They predict the campaign will "go over with a bang" with the splendid interest being displayed by Salem citizens' and organizations.

JACK'S STUFF N. G. SAY CRITICS

LINCOLN FIELD, CRETE, ILL., Sept. 16.—(AP)—Boxing critics who watched Jack Dempsey work out under floodlights last night and expressed some disappointment with his showing, were lapped back tonight to watch the former champion whale away at his sparring partners.

After a week of secret training, Manager Leo P. Flynn, laughed today at some of the gloomy expressions of newspapermen as related in their sport pages. He cited especially the comment that Big Boy Peterson of New Orleans outscored the former champion in their round.

"When I told the boys they could come and watch Jack at his night boxing, I did not say they could watch him fight," said Flynn. "They will see him fight next Thursday night, not before. He is getting ready in the right way and boxing just enough."

"I'm in there every moment on top of him every round, holding him back when he feels the urge to out loose with some fighting. That's the spirit I want to save up for next Thursday."

Dempsey did no work at all today, last night's showers failed to cool off the race course so Dempsey eliminated his morning road work and afternoon bag punching.

WHAT SMITH HAS WHAT BOY, WHICH HAS GIRL? (Continued from Page One) as to the parentage of the child he nursed.

For eight days after the birth of the disputed child, nurses and doctors told Mrs. Sam Smith that she was the mother of a boy. She then discovered that the child she had in her arms was a girl and hospital officials then explained that it was a clerical error. The same day Mrs. Sam Smith's baby was born, two other women by the name of Smith gave birth to boy babies.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Smith hold that there was a shuffle of babies and that hospital officials in some manner lost identification of their baby, giving it to another mother, while they received a girl in its place.

Nurses attending Mrs. Smith have said they erroneously told the attending physician the baby was a boy, when in fact it was a girl. The doctor who attended the other two Mrs. Smiths, who now nurse boys, said that he was certain his patients had received the right children. Both Smith families assert they have their own children.
