

LAST LEAGUE GAME TODAY AT PORTLAND

"Wedding Bells" Edwards will lead his Salem Senators to Portland today for the deciding game of the Portland City league season—the last game if Salem wins. Montavilla is Salem's opponent, and the game will be at the Vaughn street park at 2:30.

But if it doesn't, then there'll be a game with the Woodmen—unless it is forfeited, and if that's won, a play-off with Montavilla; and in any case, if Salem loses the second half title, there should be a play-off for the season title, as Salem won the first half. That would bring the "season's" close pretty well along in the fall.

But if Salem does win, then there'll be a big game here next Sunday to wind up the season right. An all-professional team, headed by Ike Wolfer and made up of players from leagues which have suspended for the year, is scheduled to come.

The Salem team will be back at maximum strength today, with Jerry Goleman back in the lineup and Art Parker at shortstop in case "Red" Ridings is unable to play.

PORTLAND, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Salem and Montavilla are scheduled to clash at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon on the Vaughn street grounds in what may prove to be the championship game of the City league.

It is the last game on the regular schedule of the circuit and if the boys from the Capitol City journey back to their home Sunday night with victory, they will carry the league pennant with them.

Considerable interest is being displayed in the game for that reason. At present the Senators are perched on top of the league standings and another victory will give them the second half title in addition to the first.

Montavilla has lost only one game, that to Salem. If the Pirates win Sunday, it will be necessary for Salem to play off and win a postponed contest with the Woodmen of the World nine to get on an even footing with the locals.

In that event a play-off series between the two teams would be necessary. Montavilla will have to hustle if it expects to take the visitors into camp. Salem has played a brand of ball that wins pennants during the entire season.

PEPPY CANDIDATES GET SUBSCRIPTIONS

Reader Interest Increases as the Season Advances Toward Winter

HONOR ROLL TODAY

Herbert Morley, Leon Mickenham, Mace Moreford.
(By Radio Contest Editor)

Everything is going again after a couple of days lull due to school starting. We are glad to see the wonderful showing made by most of the candidates who are working. There are a number of new boys coming to the top who may score high in the final count, October 22nd.

This is the best time of the year for getting subscriptions, for everyone is back from vacation and ready to settle down for the winter and, naturally, the first thing each one thinks of is his paper. Being a morning paper, we carry the evening sports, and any one that is interested in sports wants a morning paper. So, go tell your friends about the contest and they will be glad to have the paper and at the same time help you win a wonderful radio.

George Self is back to work after a few days vacation, and if the writer is not mistaken he will be a radio winner on the score board in the latter part of October.

Rodney Hardman is scratching his head for new and renewal subscriptions and, no doubt, will be found out on Route 2, Salem, talking to his many friends about the contest and also inviting them up to enjoy a radio concert next month at his home.

Robert Stalling is working mighty hard, and his efforts are not in vain. I saw him coming into the office today with a big smile on his face, so I took from that, his friends are behind him.

It will be a long time before you see such wonderful prizes as these given away absolutely free to the boys who deserve them, and so make this your goal and don't be sorry after it is all over and some other boy is tuning in on the various stations and telling you how easy it was to get subscriptions to The Statesman.

In the race for the camera, the special prize this week, is a close one so far, and accordingly it will require very close checking of returns to determine the winner. Announcement of the winner will be made in Tuesday's paper.

Athletic Commission Not To Reverse Fight Referee

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—(AP)—John C. Righelmer, chairman of the Illinois state athletic commission today closed the door to any appeal that Jack Dempsey might file demanding a reversal of the decision in his world's heavyweight championship match with Gene Tunney.

The decision unanimously rendered by Dave Barry, referee, and the two judges before Lytton, millionaire Chicago merchant, and Sheldon Clark, president of the Sinclair Refining company, stands, and the state commission will give no consideration to an appeal for reversal, Chairman Righelmer said.

The commission made it clear that it would give either Dempsey or his manager, Leo P. Flynn, a hearing at any time on any score but the boxing authorities also made it equally clear that the commission has no idea of reversing the verdict given in the ring at Soldier field last Thursday night.

Flynn said he intended pushing the issue despite the ruling of the commission and would present a communication signed by Dempsey as requested by Chairman Righelmer, when Righelmer told him yesterday that Flynn was not recognized by the commission as Dempsey's manager.

The athletic commission issued the following statement:

"As far as the commission was concerned, the bout was conducted in accordance with the law and the rules promulgated by the commission together with instructions to the referee and the timekeeper before the bout. These instructions were given to the managers and the contestants in the ring before the bout started.

"Therefore, the decision as rendered will stand and this commission will not consider a reversal of the decision."

Before departing for Cleveland tonight to spend two or three days with friends, Tunney declared that if there was any dispute over the result of the fight as to his winning it honestly and decisively, he would be glad to meet Dempsey again, but doubted if the public wanted to see a third match between them.

Tunney said Dempsey violated the rules of boxing by hitting him three foul punches in the third round and clubbing him over the back of the head repeatedly with "rabbit punches."

The champion exhibited a black and blue spot in his groin five inches in diameter, where, he said, Dempsey landed low left hooks. The evidence of the foul indicated that the blows were delivered eight inches below the belt line. Tunney did not say that Dempsey delivered them deliberately, but said that Referee Barry cautioned Dempsey to keep his punches up.

"I don't know whether Jack tried to foul me or not," Tunney said, "but you can see for yourself that I was hit low. It is quite possible that the fouls were accidents, as anything is liable to happen in the heat of a battle like ours."

Tunney said that Dempsey deliberately quit in the seventh round, after Tunney got up off the floor of the ring after that knockdown, and started circling around Jack.

"After he saw me on my feet again, and I cracked him a couple of hard rights on the head, all the fight was taken out of him," Tunney said.

"I began circling to get a square shot at him. Some folks were mean enough to say that I was running away. I had to stop his rushes and remember, I knew and still know that Jack can hit."

Who remembers the old-fashioned girl who got vaccinated on the calf of her leg so that it wouldn't show?
