Willamette U. Debaters' Arguments Are Published

Arguments delivered by speakers from Willamette university and Redlands university in a debate on the supreme court restriction question two years ago have been included in a recent volume of intercollegiate debates edited by Egbert Ray Nichols, eminent California debate coach. Local speakers in that debate were Charles Redding and Joel V. Berreman. In a preface to the arguments, the editor says "Willamette university and University of Redlands are perhaps the two strongest debating colleges of their size (in number of students) on the Pacific coast. Their records for the last fifteen years show consistent ability and high standards."

MAMA JOINS BALLYHOO
CHARLESTON, W. VA., Sept. 26.—(AP)—Mrs. Cynthia Dempsey, mother of Jack Dempsey, said here tonight she hoped a third battle between the former heavyweight champion and Gene Tunney, titleholder, could be arranged for a "fight to the finish" so that American fandom could settle once and for all who was "the better man."

COLORADO STATE HIT BY BLIZZARD

FIRST SNOW BLANKET OF FALL COVERS TERRITORY

Cessation in Cold Spell Expected in Next Twenty-four Hour Period

DENVER, COLO., Sept. 26.—(AP)—Colorado's first snow storm of the season tonight appeared to have spent its force as the blanket of more than an inch dropped last night and this morning, melted and the weather bureau predicted higher temperatures and clearer skies in the next 24 hours.

This state and Wyoming, however looked for freezing temperatures during the night with the mercury late in the day hovering close to the 32 degree mark.

While the blizzard in Colorado was not of long duration, it transformed the September picture. Overcoats became necessary articles of apparel and coal concerns were besieged with orders for fuel. In the mountains, where last week the changing foliage presented autumnal scenes such as delight the artist, only the coniferous trees seemed in harmony with the white surroundings.

The contrast was perhaps even greater in northeastern Wyoming, in the Newcastle region, which only Saturday had experienced one of the hottest September days on record. Four inches of snow covered the ground near Lusk, in eastern Wyoming today. No crop or stock losses were anticipated, however, much of the wheat near Newcastle having been threshed and sacked. Snow fell in Wyoming at Casper, Cheyenne, Laramie and on the Big Horn mountains near Sheridan.

The snow area extended about fifty miles south of Denver but not far east. According to available records this city has had earlier snows only four times since 1888.

DEFENDANT REPLIES

MRS. SPANIOI CLAIMS HUSBAND INFATUATED

Freda Spanioi yesterday filed an answer in circuit court here contesting divorce proceedings instituted by her husband, J. J. Spanioi.

The answer charges that Spanioi has become infatuated with "a certain woman residing in Stayton," whom Mrs. Spanioi does not name. On November 1 of this year her husband left their home near Stayton, Mrs. Spanioi charges, and about a week later "took an apartment joining his affinity." Since that time he has been frequently in her company, the answer recites, has been for rides in her automobile with her, has been swimming with her and on several occasions went on truck rides with her to Portland, returning to Stayton late at night.

In her answer Mrs. Spanioi does not ask for a divorce decree, but expresses her willingness to live again with her husband if he will mend his ways. In the meantime, however, she asks for a court judgment of $250 to defray hospital expense incurred during the recent birth of a son, $25 suit money, $75 attorney's fees and $25 a month to go toward the support of the child. She recites in her answer that she has been put to many hardships while married to her husband, and among other things has earned money by clerking in a store and teaching school.

The couple were married June 24, 1919.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS
ROSEBURG, Sept. 26.—(AP)—A case of infantile paralysis, the first to be reported in Douglas county, was found today at Canyonville.

FORMER CHAUFFER IN FORGERY TRIAL

Floyd Glotzbach Accused of Signing Mrs. R. D. Inman's Name to Check

PORTLAND, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Floyd Glotzbach, divorced husband of Madame Matzner grand opera luminary, went on trial here today charged with having issued a check or $5,000 to which he had forged the name of Mrs. Clara Inman, widow of R. D. Inman.

wealthy Portland lumberman.

That Glotzbach should be tried in San Francisco, where the check is said to have been forged, and not in Portland, was the contention of Dan Malarkey, counsel for the defense, on a motion for a directed verdict of not guilty, made late today when the state rested its case. Arguments on the motion continued until adjournment of court for the day at 5 p. m. The court was not expected to reach a decision on the motion until midday tomorrow.

The motion was offered on the grounds that the courts of Oregon lacked jurisdiction and was based on the testimony of J. B. Smith, paying and receiving teller of The Crocker First National bank of San Francisco, where Glotzbach is said to have deposited the Inman check, said to have been forged by him.

Malarkey contended that if a crime had been committed, it was not committed in Portland but in San Francisco inasmuch as the bank of San Francisco had paid the check in full.

Mrs. Inman attended today's session of the trial and listened eagerly to the proceedings, including the drawing of the jury consisting of seven women and five men. She was a willing witness, answering slowly in a low tone of voice only brief answers to the questions put to her.

She said she had known Glotzbach since 1922 when he was employed in the family as a chauffeur.

Finest Showing of Ranges and Circulators Ever Shown anywhere. See this Wonderful Display at New Pavillion State Fair Grounds.

Look On The Inside of the Bridge-Beach Superior Circulator

It is built like a furnace—a stove within a stove

Will heat three or four adjoining rooms

The cold air enters at the bottom, is heated and humidified between the fire-pot and the outer casing—and passes out through the top, CIRCULATING the warm, moist, healthful air to the most distant corners of the adjoining rooms. Has wonderful heating capacity—will heat three or four rooms comfortably in the coldest weather—takes the place of several stoves and requires no more fuel than an ordinary heater. The price is less than you would expect for a heating stove of such outstanding superiority. Shown in various finishes—the mahogany enameled finish is especially popular.
