Marion County Folk Have Part In Reunion at Hillsboro

The second annual meeting of the Parker-Bonham clan was held at Hillsboro September 11 in Shute park.

Representatives of four generations of the descendants of Samuel F. Parke were present. The morning was spent in sports and amusements and a social time. Near the noon hour a bountiful basket lunch was spread to which everyone did ample justice.

After lunch the clan was called to order for a business meeting and program. President of the clan Samuel T. Parker of Gervais, being absent, Will Bennett of Portland was chosen chairman of the day.

Plans were made to effect and carry on a more perfect organization. Mrs. Ella Johnson of Hillsboro was elected vice president to fill the place of Mrs. Angelina Dorlin, deceased, and M. N. Bonham of Hillsboro as treasurer in place of George Farrel of Brooks.

Splendid musical numbers, both vocal and instrumental, were furnished by Portland members of the clan and Elizabeth Cornelius, also of Portland, read a very comprehensive paper on the early history of the Parkers, giving extracts from the diary of Samuel F. Parke, a Virginian from the time he left his home in the East in the early spring of 1845 until he reached Oregon City in the late fall.

Mr. Parker was captain of the wagon train in which he traveled and with his family and others of the company suffered and endured great hardships. Upon arriving here, as we all know, immediately identified himself with the early history, legislature and politics of Oregon. Of his immediate family but three survive. They are Samuel T. of Gervais and P. Y. and Will Parker of Portland.

It was decided to hold the next meeting of the clan at Hillsboro the third Sunday in June, 1928 at Shute park.

With the exceptions noted above the officers and committees of the clan remain as last year and are as follows: Samuel T. Parker, Gervais, president; Mrs. Ella Johnson, Hillsboro, vice president; Mrs. C. J. Simeral, Portland, secretary; Mrs. Minnie Bartlett, Hillsboro, assistant secretary and press correspondent; M. N. Bonham, Hillsboro, treasurer; Elizabeth Cornelius and P. Y. Parker of Portland and M. N. Bonham, historians. Committee on music: Nels Jensen, Portland; Mrs. Gratian Kerrins, Izeo; Mrs. Frances Donnts, Salem; Mrs. Lenta Bennett, Portland; Mrs. Dot Grafton, Portland; Mrs. Genevieve Van Fleet, Portland; Mrs. Vail Perigo, Hood River; Mr. Philbeam, Portland; Mrs. Thelma Beck, Gervais. On athletics: Charles Parker, Portland; Donald Jamieson, Milwaukie; John Dorlin, Hillsboro; Frank Parker, Gervais; Claire Simeral, Portland and Gratian Kerrins, Izeo.

Table committee: Mrs. Minnie Allsup, Gervais; Mrs. Anna Parker, Gervais; Mrs. Ella Johnson, Hillsboro; Mrs. Charles Parker, Portland; Mrs. Harry McKern, Mount Vernon, and Mrs. Mable Allison, Hillsboro.

Professor and Mrs. Paul Petri Entertain Sunday Afternoon and Evening

An outstanding social event of the fall season was the formal "at home" given Sunday afternoon and evening by Professor and Mrs. Paul Petri in their beautiful new studio residence, Casa Musica, in Corvallis. Five hundred friends from Salem, Portland, Hillsboro, Oregon City, and Albany, as well as Corvallis, received cards to the affair. Four calling periods were arranged, two in the afternoon and two in the evening.

In the receiving line with Professor and Mrs. Petri were Mr. and Mrs. Byron D. Arnold, guests of honor.

Mrs. Alfred Hull introduced the guests.

Mrs. Harry S. Rogers, Mrs. Daniel Bryant, Mrs. William Jasper Kerr, Mrs. J. A. Bevell, Mrs. W. A. Jensen, Mrs. Leo Fairbanks, Dr. Kate W. Jameson, and Mrs. A. B. Cordley presided at the table.

Mrs. Lynette Kerr McGinnis and Mrs. Wayne Hunt were in charge of the dining room. A group of young girls, who are pupils of the Petri, assisted in the serving.

Musical numbers were given in the afternoon and evening by Mrs. Lynette Kerr McGinnis, soprano; Mrs. Frank Ryland, soprano; Mrs. Arthur J. Rahn, contralto; Mr. Ted Roy, tenor; Harold Golman, pianist; Howard Halbert and Daniel Bryant, violinists; Miss Echo Reed and Miss Helen Jones, violinists; Mr. Baynard Sager, violin; Professor A. L. Peck, cello; and Miss Cora Ausve, accompanist.

The last five musicians make up the personnel of an orchestra which will also play.

Returns From the East

Mrs. A. L. Wallace has returned to her home in Salem after visiting for the past four months in the east. The greater part of her time was spent as the guest of relatives in Scranton, Pennsylvania. She was also a guest in Boston and Springfield, Massachusetts, as well as in Asbury Park, New Jersey, before returning to the west.

Miss Taylor, Bride-Elect Complimented With Shower

DAYTON ENTRY WINS 'TON LITTER' PRIZE

Excellent Livestock Exhibits Judged; Imbler Entry First in Clubs

Ernest Douglas, from Dayton, won the feature prize yesterday at the State Fair in the livestock department. A prize given for the heaviest "ton litter" of pigs, both at 180 days old and at the time of exhibition, was won by him. His litter of 15 pigs weighed 3263 pounds at 180 days and 4038 pounds when weighed in at the opening of the fair. Clifford Conrad of Imbler won second in this division, having a litter of 14 pigs, weighing 2526 at 180 days and 2970 at the fair. He took the first prize in this department among club members.

Douglas also won the first prize for the heaviest pig, one weighing 310 pounds.

The two prizes mentioned were offered by the Portland Union Stockyards and Swift & Co., respectively.

A similar prize offered by Swift & Co. for the largest litter of Duroc Jerseys was won by Clifford Conrad of Imbler. Clifford exhibited a litter of 14.

J. M. Fruits of Cambridge, Idaho, won first prize in the Hampshire boar exhibits, and also carried off the blue ribbon for the prize sow in this class.

Homer C. Hull, of Colfax, Wn., won first on the year-old boars in the Berkshire exhibit; and Harry Kammerzell, also of Colfax, won first for sows of one year in this class. Kammerzell also won the grandchampionship for boars of all ages in this class.

Thomas W. Brunk, of Salem, won first prize for the best Poland China sow and board of one year. Brunk also had the boar that was awarded the grand championship in this class.

In the Tamworth division there was only one exhibitor, that being the "Just-a-mere-Farm, Jacksonville, Fla.

REYNOLDS, RICH HEIR, FOUND AT ST. LOUIS

who disappeared shortly after. She was described as about 24 years old, blonde and well dressed.

Search Widespread
NEW YORK, Sept. 27—(AP)—Richard J. Reynolds, youthful millionaire airplane operator, and "angel" of a Broadway show, was sought tonight over half the continent, his trail since his disappearance on September 16, having been traced to St. Louis and there lost.

A detective agency hired to conduct the search reported receipt of word from its St. Louis office that Reynolds had checked out of the Majestic hotel there last Saturday, saying he was going to Cairo, Ill., and would return the following Saturday.

He did not return and it was not determined that he had actually gone to Cairo, as the day he was reported to have left St. Louis was the day of the Dempsey-Tunney fight, detectives leaned to the theory that he had gone to Chicago and was either still there or had returned to New York.

Motives Baffle
But no one was able to offer any reason why young Reynolds should conceal his whereabouts. Associates in Winston-Salem, N. C., his home town, said he often went away on unannounced trips, but others felt that there was no good reason for such a trip at this time.

The day after Reynolds disappeared one of the passenger planes of the company he headed, crashed with a loss of seven lives and about the same time the musical comedy he was sponsoring failed.

There was a general feeling today that if Reynolds had read of either of these happenings in the papers he would have hurried back to New York, even though he had started on an unannounced journey and yet both were widely reported in the press and according to the detective agency Reynolds was staying at a St. Louis hotel several days after his plane had crashed and his play had failed.

SOUTHERN OREGON IN COMPETITION

Bull culture is a growing industry in the Rogue valley. This fall three carloads of gladiolus bulbs will be sent out by growers here. The small farm in the Grants Pass irrigation district is proving its value.—Grants Pass Courier.

The above item indicates that the Salem district bulb growers are to have competition from southern Oregon. But there is room for a great deal of such competition.

Flying Squirrel Made Pet By County Road Patrolman

STAYTON, Sept. 27.—(Special)—L. S. Lambert, county road patrolman, while working with the paving crew on the Mehama road recently, captured a flying squirrel, which he now has at his home here.

The little captive is a young one and responds readily to petting, already consenting to eat morsels from the hands of his jailors. Mr. Lambert is especially proud of his unique pet since the species is rare in this part of the country.
