

SIDE LIGHTS OF THE STAGE AND SCREEN

Elsinore Theater Down to the last graphic detail, the battle of Belleau Wood, one of the major engagements of the World war in which American soldiers took part, was reproduced in motion pictures as one of the sequences of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Big Parade."

The battle was planned by general officers of the Second Division U. S. A., and so their rank and file it was both a school of instruction and a review. The new recruits learned how "was done, but the vets relived the unforgettable reality. Several thousand Yanks, most of whom had been in the real thing, advanced through Belleau Wood, supported by artillery, airplanes, tanks, observation balloons, signalmen, engineers, supply service and division train. Raked by machine gun fire and halted now and again by exploding mines, the boys in khaki stormed the enemy trenches, cleaned out machine gun nests, and "mopped-up" the field of action.

Patrons of Association Vaudeville will find a worth-while bill "on the boards" at the Bligh's Capitol Theater. There is something outstanding in every act for Friday afternoon and evening.

To be chosen from a group of more than 60,000 and to be declared the most perfectly formed of the group is the distinction won by Miss Physical Culture, noted health and beauty expert, who is headlined. Miss Physical Culture, an eastern society girl, was recently selected by Bernard McFadden as the most perfectly formed woman in the country and since that time she has been making a tour of the country—a vanderlille revealing her secrets of health and beauty to the women in the cities where she is appearing. On the stage she gives a startling exhibition of "gymnastics" and acrobatics displaying the results of perfect training and physical vigor.

"An Electric Revue" is a scientific demonstration, educational as well as entertaining. It is offered by Irene Parks and company. Recent press dispatches state that a scientist of Norway has offered to submit himself to the electric chair in order to prove his contention that the volts passing through a person's body are not necessarily fatal. Miss Parks has already proved this to be a fact, as she allows one million volts of electricity to pass through her body.

A trio of southern boys, the Mason-Dixon Trio will be heard in a group of songs. They accompany themselves on the banjo and guitar. Each of the boys has an exceptional singing voice, and comedy is brought to the fore at all times. Wanda Ludlow and Fred Wright will be seen in a comedy skit written by Eugene Conrad, titled "Hold the Onion." Miss Ludlow is cast in the role of a modern day flapper who meets with an old gray-haired man with shrewd ideas. The act is replete with humorous situations and sayings, and can be counted on for a flock of good laughs. The musical comedy favorites, Gene Dover and Connie Soltan will present "Song and Dance Hits of 1927." Their songs are the latest of the popular classification rendered in harmony. They are also excellent dancers and not the smallest part of their act is made up of offerings in this line.

Grand Theater "What Happened to Father?" directed by John G. Adoffi and with an all-star cast including Warner Oland, Flobelle Fairbanks, William Demarest, Vera Lewis, John Miljan, Cathleen Cahoun, Hugh Allan, and Jean Lefferty is a sprightly, good-natured comedy of the adventures of a sedate but willing old family man who suddenly finds himself a guest at a back-stage party along Broadway.

In whimsical fashion it sets forth the story of a lovable, absent-minded, old character who is re-made with a Broadway musical comedy troupe. These include an understudy rehearsal, a gay celebration party, a raid, a ride in the patrol wagon, a night behind the bars, and a thrilling race against time to save his daughter from marrying the wrong man.

"What Happened to Father?" is coming to the Grand Theater next Saturday for a run of two days, Matinee Saturday.

Oregon Theater Marion Jackson, author and adapter of "The Red Raiders," the current attraction at the Oregon theater, based her story on the most unfamiliar happenings of the White invasion into the Indian territory of the northwest. Choosing the territory known as the Indian hotbed, and made memorable by the brave stand of Custer. Miss Jackson probed far into the pages of history to gain facts for her thrilling adventure tale.

While Montana, the locale of the story, was not the first to be invaded by the white settler, it was this territory where the fiercest battles raged and where the government succeeded in persuading the Indians to peace, and settlement in reservations. Miss Jackson is a close student of the early history of the west, and has written countless tales of its adventures and romance. "The Red Raiders," produced by the Charles R. Rogers company for First National, marks the first of the second series with the popular western star, Ken Maynard, in the starring role. Supporting him are Ann Drew, Paul Hurst, Tom Bay, J. P. McGowan, Harry Shuman, Hal Salter and Chief Yowlachie.

JOHNSON HEIRS SEEK ESTATE OF BROTHER

marked attention toward him, eventually working upon his feelings by misrepresenting certain facts to him and by other means, and that if the deceased made a will at all in Jacob's favor it was by reason of these wrongful acts that he was induced to do so. In 14 years of baseball Catcher Ralph Perkins of Philadelphia was hurt only once. When you consider the fact that Athletic fans saw their team in last place for eight years, that doesn't seem possible. The dope sheet said our horse would win by a whisker. The doggone nag must have shaved just before the race.

JUNKERS PLANE FALLS INTO SEA ON HOP WEST (Continued from Page One) the D-1230. LISBON, Portugal, Oct. 5.—(AP)—The Portuguese admiralty reports that the Junkers' plane D-1230 fell into the sea off Santa Cruz. An SOS was received and the government sent the warship Vasco da Gama, one of a small fleet maneuvering off the coast to aid the plane, which was believed to be between Cape Mondego and Santa Cruz. Chess fan faints. He probably heard they were going to play a double-header.

SOUSA'S FAMOUS BAND SCHEDULED Concert to Begin Promptly On Time at Elsinore Theater October 11

There is only one Sousa, and he will be here at the Elsinore Tuesday October 11, Matinee and evening, rain or shine. This is the thirty-fifth season of Sousa and His Band. Although the March King's fame has been such that he might have sent out other musical organizations trained and presented by him, the only Sousa's Band has been the one with which Sousa himself has appeared. And never but once in his thirty-five years on the roads of America has Sousa been compelled to disappoint his audiences. That was six years ago, when a fall from a horse made it necessary for him to cancel his engagements for two weeks. There is an element of luck, of course, in a career which is uninterrupted by illness for so long a period. But back of the luck is thoroughness of preparation. Sousa's tours are planned two or three years in advance. Railroad experts check train schedules, and arrange for special trains whenever necessary. The touring manager takes with him not only an itinerary but full instructions concerning alternate routes to be followed in case of railroad wreck, storm or other emergency. And Sousa gets there on time. Even transfer facilities, when arranged for, must be demonstrated as more than ample to transport the band's baggage quickly and with a margin of safety for emergencies. Sousa is a stickler for promptness. Every concert begins at the advertised hour—and to the minute. Tardiness is the one unforgivable sin on the part of a bandman. Reserved seats are now on sale at the box office of the Elsinore. The date for the concert is Tuesday, October 11.
