

Ad Mackie Gets Chance to Prove He's Better Man than Phil Bayes

PAIR WILL TANGLE AGAIN WEDNESDAY

Ad Mackie is peeved. So is Phil Bayes, his manager, and so even are Portland fight fans.

All because Phil Bayes took the measure of the Portland battler in the main event of the last Salem boxing commission card.

So peeved is Mackie, and so anxious is he that the world know it, that he, asked earnestly for one more chance to step into the ring with the solid Salem plastic exponent. He will see it.

Matchmaker Harry Plant, announced yesterday that Mackie and Bayes would meet next Wednesday night at the armory in the main event of a 28 round card, so that Mackie might have his chance to "knock Bayes into a cocked hat."

That's what Mackie says he will do. It's his opinion that as a blow swapper he is superior to Bayes. There are plenty of people to back him up in this opinion, it seems, and the prevailing sentiment among a certain large group is that Mackie will either knock Bayes for a row of canned meat containers next Wednesday or have the recent decision reversed.

Bayes isn't perturbed at the Portland fighter's flare-up. "I've kicked Mackie before, I can do it again," he says, and dismisses the matter—just like that.

Albert, the local boxing idol isn't losing any time in perfecting his condition for the clash. He works out every day at the armory, and is intent upon bringing himself into tip-top shape for the struggle.

Rematching of the two men was decided upon by Plant after a number of fans had demanded it. Those who feel that Referee Frye's decision was well made, admit Bayes' superiority was a mere shade, and that the fight might well have been called a draw.

It is pointed out, too, right vigorously in some quarters, that the new Mackie got under his eye when Bayes jumped into him early in the fight impaired his vision to the extent that his attack was undisciplined. Mackie declared after the fight that he could hardly see out of the eye.

Matchmaker Plant will announce today the preliminary card. He has promised that the main-windup scrap will be particularly good.

TOLEDO SHUTS OUT BUFFALO

TOLEDO, Ohio, Oct. 6.—(AP)—The junior world's series baseball championship came back to the American association today when Toledo shut out Buffalo International league champions, 4 to 0. Toledo won five out of the six games played.

Emilio Palmero, the Cuban south paw, kept Buffalo's offense spread out, received brilliant support and batted in Toledo's first two runs himself with a hard single to left in the second inning.

The victorious Mud Hen will divide a player's pool of more than $26,000 while the defeated Bison will split a little more than $18,000.

WINS ON FOUL

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Phil McGraw of Detroit won on a foul from Sid Terris, New York lightweight, in the second round of a feature bout at Ebbets field tonight.

HIGH VOLTAGE FATAL

Clubmates Haze Pipgras Like College Freshmen

BY EDWARD J. NEIL (Associated Press Sports Writer) PITTSBURGH, Oct. 6.—(AP)—A big, jovial, youngster—"the happiest guy in the world"—took the "lasing of his life" today after the Pittsburgh Pirates had failed either to dent his composure or the darting right hand slants he tossed their way in the Yankee's second straight world series victory.

A bit shamed, and not quite sure how he was to face the "gang" George Pipgras ambled quietly into the Yankee dressing room after the greatest hurling victory of his rather variegated career. The reception he got greeted him into a corner, huddled in a crouch, away from the boisterous attack of his team mates.

Hazed Like Youngster
The Yankees, who had seen him come and go at various times in the past six years and perch on the bench in the fall classic of 1924, while the Cardinals grabbed the championship honors, pounded his back, wrung his hands, and hazed him like a college freshman.

On the outside of all the excitement stood Bob Shawkey, a world series starting pitcher last season, but now a sort of pitching mentor to the youngsters and a finisher rather than starter of games. Reflection of the new glory that had come to Pipgras, fell about Bob also for the tall Minnesotan is Shawkey's protégé—the "pride and joy of my declining years."

Happily, Bob told of his work through the season with "Pip" and his conviction that the big right hander is destined to become the best pitcher in the American league.

"He's Great," Says Bob
"George has speed to burn and a real hop-on his fast one," Shawkey said. "He has a great curve, too, when he needs to use it, but today he just had to stand up

PACIFIC CONFIDENT OF BEATING C. OF I.

PORTLAND, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Although it isn't one of the big Pacific coast intercollegiate conference games, there is considerable interest in the opening game here of the Northwest conference next Saturday between Pacific university of Forest Grove and College of Idaho, located at Caldwell, Idaho.

Idaho, coached by Anse Cornell, former Portland boy and University of Oregon star, won the Northwest conference championship last year by defeating Pacific university, 9 to 0. These rivals are meeting rather early in the season, as both teams, in spite of defeats sustained last Saturday at the hands of Oregon and Washington State, are rated as two of the strongest in the conference.

Pacific was weak at tackle against Oregon, and Coach Frank is likely to make some changes in the Idaho game.

Pete Miller, star Pacific quarterback, was injured in the Oregon battle and may not be able to play. If he isn't, Melvin Emerson will be shifted from half to quarter.

Arthur Carlton, ex-Grant high luminary, will likely be used at full by Pacific.

Coach Frank of Pacific, contrary to the general rule of coaches, is optimistic. Idaho has lost its real star, Halfback Lowell, who is now a professional, playing with Hollywood, Cal.

Idaho has 13 letter men, having lost one end and Lowell at half. Pacific has seven letter men available, but in spite of the necessity of developing new material to plug the gaps, Frank believes he will win.

game, but I wasn't nervous at all. It was just another ball game, and I knew there were at least two clubs in our league—Detroit and Philadelphia—that hit harder than Pittsburgh. But I'm the happiest guy in the world right now to have won and I only hope the Pirates hold on long enough to let me get another crack in the box."

Bustling around to pack and head back to the home grounds at the Yankee stadium for the third clash of the series, the New York claw presented a decided contrast to the Pirates, fighting now with their backs to the wall, their pitching aces discredited by two straight losses.

"Looks like a breeze, just a breeze," Babe Ruth bellowed while socks, shoes and uniforms filled the air heading in the general direction of the club trunks, "two more games and the series is over."

The bambino was a bit discomfit at failing to hit safely today or get a home run in the two game stay here, but felt that the familiar reaches of the Yankee stadium would put him back in the distance clotting mood.

There was little talk in the Pirates stronghold as the players dressed quietly and hurried out. "We're just not hitting," was the general opinion, "but when we do, watch out for the same kind of a finish that brought us home in the National league pennant race."

While Bush was certain that Lee Meadows, bespectacled right hander would pitch tomorrow with Gooch catching, Miller Huggins, Yankee mentor, said his twirling choice would depend on the condition of Herb Pennock's knee. If the injury the star southpaw received in practice two days ago, is healed, he will pitch otherwise, Wiley Moore will get the assignment. John Grabowski probably will catch for New York in either event.

Sammy Baker Winner Over Alger on Points

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—(AP)—Sergeant Sammy Baker, New York, failed to stop Billy Alger of Phoenix, Arizona, in ten savage rounds at the coliseum here tonight. Baker, however, won the verdict of the judges for his cleaner and harder punching.

Baker could not check Alger's attack even with solid amashes to the jaw. Baker fought a counter battle, refusing to lead and waiting for Alger to come in. Alger won applause for his willingness to trade punches with the hard hitting sergeant.

There were no knockdowns although both Baker and Alger

160 ALIENS RETURN

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—(AP)—One hundred and sixty aliens landed in a roundup started from Seattle and San Francisco were landed on Ellis Island today for deportation.

Immigration Inspector Gates L. Rapp, of Washington, in charge of the group, said the roundup was the beginning of a new drive to speed up deportations "to about 1000 a month." The group included 26 insane aliens and about 50 women, some of them not yet out of their teens. Rapp said the shipment contained no anarchists.

Some of the aliens, he said, entered the country by stealing across the borders, while others had overstayed their time as visitors in the country.
